DEMOCRATIC AXES ARE ABOUT TO SWING

No Anti-Murphy Ticket This Fall, but Fight Will Go On and Mitchel May Help.

FEDERAL HOLDOVERS TO GO

President's Adherents Give Up the State—McAdoo to Replace O'Gorman as Job Dispenser.

With the return from Washington yesterday of Dudley Field Malone, Collector of the Port and one of the prime factors in the movement now under way to dethrone Tammany leader Charles F. Murphy, it was learned definitely that Democratic leaders in this State who are looked upon as representing President Wilson will make no attempt to put an anti-Murphy State ticket in the field this Fall.

This determination, reached after due deliberation by Democrats at the Capitol who are advising the President in matters affecting New York State politics, it is thought will put an end to the plans of some Wilson leaders, involving the designation of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt for the Democratic primary ballot as an anti-Tammany candidate for Governor.

Before finally deciding on a policy of non-interference, it was learned yesterday, friends of President Wilson have made a quiet investigation of political conditions in different sections of the State. The investigation is said to have disclosed strong indications of a Democratic defeat, due to the almost universal belief that Tammany still is in control of the State organization and will be in a position to dictate the nominations this Fall.

Gov. Glynn or any other Democratic candidate who is anxious to have the Gubernatorial nomination with organization backing under the circumstances will find no obstacles placed in his way by the opponents of Tammany Leader Murphy.

In the meantime there will be no let-up in the activities of the various organizations recently formed in this city for the purpose of putting Mr. Murphy out of business as leader of Tammany Hall. So far the chief difficulty in the way of a united onslaught is said to have been the attitude of Mayor Mitchel, who, though regarded as one of the stanchest adherents of President Wilson, has persistently declined to be swayed by political considerations, no matter how public-spirited the end in view, in dispensing city patronage.

Some of the more rabid Wilson men have urged such drastic steps as the throwing out of every Tammany man who holds a city job and can be reached. Mayor Mitchel has turned a deaf ear on all such suggestions. From now on, friends of the President have been assured, the Mayor will modify his policy somewhat, and as a result it is expected that a good many Tammany men occupying comfortable berths in the city service will be compelled to walk the plank. Persons who profess to be cognizant of the Mayor's plans declare that the axe will not be swung in real earnest until about primary time.

It has been more than intimated for some time that the influence of United States Senator O'Gorman with the Administration has suffered as a result of his attitude on the Currency bill and the Panama tolls measure. Yesterday it was learned that where Senator O'Gorman in the past has been consulted, if not always heeded, in patronage matters, Federal patronage in the State of New York from now on will be handled by Secretary of the Treasury William McAdoo. In connection with this it is reported that the resignations of some Republicans holding over will be asked for before many more days and their places filled with anti-Murphy Democrats.

One such Republican holding over from the Taft Administration is United States Marshal William Henkel. Mr. Henkel's job is worth $8,000 a year and carries some patronage with it, which has stood the present incumbent in good stead in his leadership of the Twelfth Assembly District and which might be used to equal advantage against Tammany Leader Charles F. Murphy, who is a resident of the Twelfth.

It was said yesterday that Mr. Henkel's successor in all probability would be appointed before the end of the present month. Warden James M. Clancy of Sing Sing Prison is mentioned as a possible successor. He is an independent Democrat, who was actively allied with the Wilson forces in the Bronx County Democratic organization in 1912. Ross Williams, Democratic leader of the Seventeenth Assembly District, is a candidate who also has the good will of the Administration. While a member of the Tammany Executive Committee Mr. Williams came out openly for Mr. Wilson's nomination in 1912, when Tammany leader Murphy was for Speaker Clark.

The office of Surveyor of the Port, also paying $8,000 a year, will be vacant this month. The present incumbent is Gen. Nelson H. Henry, a Republican. John E. Eastmond, an Independent Democrat from Kings, is being considered for this position. Mr. Eastmond has the backing of Collector Malone, and also, it is said, of Secretary of State Bryan. Secretary of Commerce Redfield has a candidate for the place in ex-Senator Charles H. Fuller, who is an Independent Democrat of recognized ability.

There is a vacancy on the United States District Court bench, which occurred with the retirement under the age limit last January of Judge George C. Holt. This also is to be filled before long. Robert Davison Petty, a Princeton graduate and former classmate of William Church Osborn and Augustus N. Hand of 49 Wall Street, are those most prominently mentioned among two score candidates for the place.

Collector Malone said yesterday that while in Washington he had a talk with President Wilson, and also with Secretary McAdoo.

"We discussed New York State politics," said Collector Malone. "But I am not at liberty to divulge what was said. I will state positively, though, that all this talk about the Democrats in this State who are in sympathy with President Wilson and his policies placing a State ticket of their own in the field this Fall is without foundation."

William Church Osborn, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, left here for Buffalo last night. His mission to Erie County is one of peacemaking. There is an ugly row in the Erie Democratic organization, where the Fuhrman-Burgard faction is arrayed against the followers of William H. Fitzpatrick, who was looked upon as Tammany Leader Charles F. Murphy's chief lieutenant in Western New York.

Before his departure, Mr. Osborn was asked what he thought of the determination of the Wilson adherents to put up no ticket this Fall.

"There cannot be too many tickets in the primaries to suit me," Chairman Osborn replied. "The more candidates there are, the better I will like it."

COLUMBIA RATIFIES TREATY

Senate Three to One, House Five to One, for Convention.

BOGOTA, Colombia, June 9.—The Colombia Congress, in special session, today ratified the treaty with the United States by which Colombia is to receive $25,000,000 and certain concessions in the settlement of the long-standing dispute between the two countries over Panama.

In both the Senate and the House ratification of the treaty met with opposition from the small minority composed of anti-Progressives and those fearful of new conditions which the treaty might bring. They proposed an amendment providing for an increase in the money payment and reserving for arbitration the claims of Colombia based on "her rights in the Panama Railroad and its contract payments, which amounted to more than is now offered by the United States."

The vote in the Senate was three to one and in the House five to one for the treaty. The municipalities and commercial organizations throughout the country transmitted resolutions to Congress in favor of a settlement with the United States, whose friendship, they pointed out, would be for the best interests of Colombia and its future progress.

Since the signing of the treaty last April by Francisco José Urrutia, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Thaddeus A. Thomson, the American Minister, the American representatives of large manufacturing interests report here that commerce has taken a decided advance in favor of imports from the United States, and anti-American sentiment has largely disappeared.

In the treaty between the United States and Colombia in settlement of the controversy over Panama, which is still to be acted upon by the United States Senate, the United States makes known that it desires to put an end to all disputes and differences with the Republic of Colombia, and in its name and the name of the people of the United States, expresses in Article I. sincere regret for anything that may have interrupted or altered the relations of cordial friendship existing long between the two nations. The Government of Colombia, in its name and in the name of its people, accepts that declaration in the full assurance that every obstacle for the re-establishment of complete harmony between the two countries will disappear.

In Article 2 it is stated that Colombia shall enjoy freely and in perpetuity the free passage through the canal of its troops and supply ships and warships. An explanatory clause stiplates commercial advantages for Colombian products imported through the Canal Zone and special advantages in Panama railway traffic when service by the canal is interrupted for any cause.

In Article III., payment to Colombia, six months after the exchange of the ratifications of the treaty, of the sum of $25,000,000 is stipulated.

In Article IV. Colombia recognizes Panama as an independent nation with the limits laid down by the Colombian law of June 9, 1855, the line of which on the Pacific Ocean terminates at a point equidistant between Cocalito and Ardita.

STOPS AERIAL ELOPEMENT.

Father Catches His Daughter as Aeroplane Is About to Start.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, June 9.—The seventeen-year-old daughter of a wealthy resident of the West End of Berlin was intercepted at the Johannisthal aerodrome today as she was about to elope in an aeroplane with a German aviator.

The girl received the airman's attentions against the wishes of her parents and had been forbidden to see him again; so she decided to fly with him.

He took her from her home early this morning in a taxicab; but her father heard of the project, pursued the couple to Johannisthal, and arrived there in time to enlist the services of a policeman who took the would-be elopers in charge just as the airman was about to help the girl into his aeroplane.

WILSON DEMOCRAT WINS.

Henry Byrne Defeats Wittpenn Candidate in Jersey City by 1,054.

Henry Byrne, a Democrat, indorsed by Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the President, was elected yesterday by a plurality of 1,054 over James F. O'Mealia, a Democrat, supported by the Wittpenn organization, to succeed the late James J. Ferris as a member of the City Commission of Jersey City. Mr. Ferris resigned just before his sudden death in May. The showing made by Thomas J. Stewart, the regular Republican and Progressive candidate, was disappointing.

The total vote in the Twelfth Ward was: Byrne, 9,065; O'Mealia, 8,011, and Stewart, 6,297. These were the votes cast for the first choice. It was said that the second and third choice votes would make little difference. In his own district, the Sixth of the Ninth Ward, Byrne beat O'Mealia 61 to 47. In all there were twelve candidates.

In the Fifth Election District of the Eleventh Ward William J. Woods, the election judge, refused to receive votes because the city furnished a three-legged table. He demanded a four-legged table, but one was furnished only after he had been arrested and sharply reprimanded by Judge Warren in the First District Court.

BUYS HALF OF BIG BRIDGE.

Real Estate Dealer Bids in Illinois Part of Mississippi Span.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—The eastern half of the Merchants' Bridge, one of the great railway structures spanning the Mississippi River here, was sold for taxes at Edwardsville, Ill., today for $11,082. It was bought by Percy P. Lusk, an Edwardsville real estate dealer, who said he thought he could get 25 per cent. on his investment by waiting two years.

The eastern half of the bridge was sold because the subsidiary of the St. Louis Terminal Railroad Association, which owned the bridge, refused to pay back taxes. Under the Illinois law, the bridge company has two years in which to redeem the property. The bridge cost nearly $2,500,000, and is used by most of the through passenger trains leaving St. Louis for Eastern cities. The trains crossed the bridge as usual after the sale.

J. P. MORGAN LEFT $5,000,000 REALTY

Representatives of Controller and Estate of Late Banker Select Appraiser.

ASSESSED AT $3,885,050

Holdings Include Property in Manhattan and Bronx and in Upper Part of the State.

Lewis Cass Ledyard, Jr., representing the estate of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, and George J. Gillespie, representing the State Controller, at a conference yesterday decided to employ the same method in appraising the realty of the estate as was adopted in the estate of John Jacob Astor, when a real estate expert was selected to represent both State and estate to whose appraisal both sides should agree.

Joseph P. Day, who made the Astor estate appraisal for State and estate, was selected to act in a similar capacity in the Morgan appraisal.

Mr. Gillespie said that the actual appraisal would begin immediately, all preliminaries having been worked out by himself and Mr. Ledyard. The work of fixing the value of art collections and real estate will be started first. Mr. Gillespie believed that within a month the appraisers would be able to determine the approximate value of the estate.

Although it was not generally known, Mr. Morgan held considerable real estate in Manhattan and the Bronx. He also had several large holdings in the uper part of the State. According to tentative figures the real estate holdings are estimated to be worth more than $5,000,000.

A list of the holdings showing the assessed valuation of the land alone and the land with the improvements follows:

MIDDLE WEST IS BROILING.

Heat Wave of Wide Extent Causes Much Suffering.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Intense heat that caused suffering in densely populated districts continued today throughout that part of the country between the Missouri Valley and the Allegheny Mountains, yesterday's high records being eclipsed at many places. Three deaths and a score of prostrations were reported in this city. The official temperature at the street level was 98 degrees, one degree less than the June record, while humidity of .60 per cent. added to the discomfort. The Government thermometer above the Federal Building registered 95 degrees. The Weather Bureau prophesies that the worst of the hot wave is over and that a slightly lower temperature may be expected tomorrow.

DETROIT, June 9.—Up to this afternoon the intense heat of the last three days had resulted in four deaths, driven a young woman insane, and prostrated at least nineteen other persons. The Government street thermometer registered 98 degrees early in the afternoon.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 9.—The temperature was 92 degrees at 2 o'clock this afternoon according to the official record. Thermometers at the street level indicated a temperature of 100 degrees.

KANSAS CITY, June 9.—High temperatures prevailed through Eastern and Southern Kansas and in this part of Missouri today. The mercury stood at 98 degrees at noon at Pittsburg, Kan., a record for five years. In Sedalia, Mo., the temperature was 94 degrees at 1 o'clock. In Kansas City the mercury was at 91 at 1:30 o'clock.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—The Government thermometer on top of a twenty-three-story building registered 97 degrees at 3 o'clock this afternoon, two degrees higher than at the same hour yesterday, when a new record for the Summer was made.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 9.—The season's heat record was broken when the Government's thermometer late today registered 94 degrees. The street kiosk registered 108 degrees. Reports from the Southwest also showed high temperatures. Muskogee, Okla., reported 101 degrees, while points in Arkansas and Texas reported the mercury above 90 degrees.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 9.—A new heat record for 1914 was made here today when the Government thermometer registered 95 degrees at 4 P. M.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 9.—The official temperature at 2 o'clock this afternoon was 97 degrees. Thermometers at the street level registered 104 degrees at the same hour.

BRYAN SAYS SENATE BLOCKS THE TRACKS

Assails Rules and Hints of a Change in "Plutocracy's Last Stronghold."

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Secretary of State Bryan this afternoon attacked the United States Senate because of its deliberateness in acting upon measures urged by the Wilson Administration. Mr. Bryan was on his way to Pennington, N. J., to deliver an address before a graduating class. He talked freely about measures pending in Congress.

The Senate's rule providing for unlimited debate upon all matters before it, Mr. Bryan said, made it possible for needed legislation to be held up for a long time. This rule he described as "plutocracy's last stronghold," and he hinted that it might not be long before the rule would be abolished.

Secretary Bryan was highly optimistic over the work of the mediation conference at Niagara Falls. He predicted the passage within a few days of the tolls exemption repeal, and he prophesied that the Wilson anti-trust bills would be passed, although, because of the deliberateness of the Senate, he did not care to fix a date.

Secretary Bryan disposed in a few words of the bill introduced yesterday by Representative Britten, Republican, of Illinois, to make it a criminal offense for a member of the Cabinet to lecture for pay.

Mr. Britten in a statement had said that his bill was prompted by the action of the Secretary of State who was "hiking around the country doing one-night stands with Tyrolean yodlers, contortionists, and sleight-of-hand artists," while the foreign policy of the Government was laughed at by the nations of Europe.

"I will not dignify that with a reply," Secretary Bryan said. "My honor is not in anybody's making or keeping. The most dignified way to treat that is to say nothing."

Taking up the legislative programme Secretary Bryan said:

"The only measures yet to be passed, so far as the President has expressed his wishes, are: First, the Tolls Repeal bill, and, second, the Anti-Trust bills. The passage of the Tolls Repeal bill is certain, and it is almost certain to be passed this week.

"The Anti-Trust bills have passed the House, but no one can predict the length of time it will take to pass them through the Senate. The rules of the Senate are a great obstacle in the way of obtaining remedial legislation. Unlimited debate operates directly and necessarily to delay the enactment of measures intended to apply remedies.

"The measures passed have been of very great importance, and mark a long advance, especially in the matters of taxation and currency reform; but much more could have been accomplished if the Senate rules were so changed as to permit a majority to record the will of the people.

"Plutocracy has been defeated wherever the issue could be presented, but its last stronghold has yet to be taken. I have no doubt this will be taken before very long, for the sentiment against unlimited debate is constantly increasing.

"Mediation is progressing satisfactorily. The mediators entered on the work with splendid spirit and have shown the utmost patience in dealing with the difficult questions that have come before them. Nothing short of success can be expected where the purpose is so laudable and the efforts are so earnest."

BRYAN CALLS FOR FAITH.

Tells School Graduates That the World Patterns After Us.

Special to The New York Times.

PENNINGTON, N. J., June 9.—Pennington Seminary held its commencement exercises this afternoon. A class of twenty-six young men was graduated. It was the seventy-fifth anniversary of the school. Secretary Bryan was the chief speaker. Before he began his address he read a brief note from President Wilson asking the Secretary to convey his congratulations to the Faculty of the school.

Secretary Bryan's address was somewhat in the nature of a sermon. He urged the graduates to have faith in God, in their fellow-men, and in their Government.

"Government is not perfect," he said, "and I do not expect it ever will be, but it is as good as the people deserve, reflecting, as it does, their virtues and their vices.

"Faith is more important than works. Until one believes he does not act, and in accordance with his faith so will be his deeds. If you are going to accomplish anything in this country you must have faith in our form of Government, and there is every reason why you should have faith in it. It is the best form of Government ever conceived by the mind of man, and it is spreading throughout the world."

MORE THAN 100 LOST IN FISHING FLEET

Returning Boats Tell of Fearful Havoc by Storm in the Bay of Chaleur.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 9.—More than 100 lives were lost in the storm which swept the Bay of Chaleur here Thursday and Friday, according to reports received here today.

Advices from outlying places along the New Brunswick and Quebec coasts of the bay, when received, add to this total. The stor caused the greatest number of fatalities in the history of the north shore.

Acconuts brought in by fishing vessels which lived through the blow, show that the wind blew with terrific force. Capt. Samuel Beck of the schooner Warren, esstimates that the gale blew at 150 miles an hour at times.

The vessels known to be lost with their crews are:

Capt. Alberts, schooner and crew of five. Rubin Cove schooner gone with all hands.

Three vessels lost of Miscoupoint, the crew's bodies being picked up. Vessel destroyed at Point Canee with no one saved from her.

Many other schooners and boats are missing from the Caraquet, St. Simone and Shippengan fleets.

From Paspediac, Quebec, comes word that thirty boats have been lost with crews. Five of these boats been picked up near Shippengan.

The bodies of eight Caraquet fishermen were recovered.

$3,000,000 FOR CEMETERY.

Port Chester Man Leaves Estate for Village Dead.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 9.—The will of Daniel E. Merritt of Port Chester directed that upon the death of his sister, as a memorial, his large fortune be used to establish a public cemetery for the village. Mr. Merritt for nearly half a century lived practically as a recluse with his aged and incompetent sister, Emma, on Ridge Street, Port Chester. Miss Merritt is 75 years old and has been an incompetent since she was about 20 years old.

Under the will the big Colonial house where brother and sister resided is to be kept up, and the servants and farm employes are to be retained. The document then directs that John S. Lyon, Sr., and John S. Lyon, Jr., who are named as executors, on the death of the sister must turn over to a Board of Trustees the residue and income from the estate, which is estimated to be worth about $3,000,000, to establish and maintain "The Merritt Public Cemetery" on the Ridge Street farm. The cemetery is to be governed by a Board of Trustees made up of the President of the village and the pastors of all of the churches of Port Chester.

People of Port Chester and vicinity may be buried there free of charge. If this cannot be done legally, Mr. Merritt directs that an act of Legislature be had to enable the Trustees to carry out his wishes. The Merritt property is only a short distance from the country homes of several New York millionaires, who live on the outskirts of Port Chester.

MAY NAME O. M. W. SPRAGUE.

Harvard Professor Talked Of for Member of Federal Reserve Board.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Prof. O. M. W. Sprague, Professor of Banking and Finance of Harvard University, was among the men prominently discussed in official circles today as a probable appointee to the Federal Reserve Board. It is known that the President and Secretary McAdoo are anxious that New England shall be represented on the board. Prof. Sprague is a native of Massachusetts who has been a close student of financial affairs for years.

There was no indication tonight as to just when the President would send the Reserve Board nominations to the Senate. He said yesterday it would be done "in a day or two."

LASSEN ERUPTION VIOLENT.

Snowy Summit of California Volcano Blackened—Column of Steam.

REDDING, Calif., June 9.—Daylight today brought proof that the eruption yesterday of the new crater on Mount Lassen was the most violent that had occurred. The snowy summit of the peak, which yesterday showed bright white, was again blackened today by the volcanic ashes poured forth over night.

Appearances indicate that the volume of ash and scoriae is far greater than the first output, which covered an area of one hundred acres to a depth of a quarter of an inch and has been estimated to weigh 10,000 tons.

The column of ascending steam from the crater was plainly visible again today. It could be seen as far as the mountain itself. At no time, however, has there been any authenticated report of flames or lava.

Forest Supervisor Rushing says the crater is from six to seven times as large as when the mountain first became active.

STRIKERS NEAR A RIOT.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, June 9.—A riot in the strike of 10,000 employes of the Westinghouse Company's plant at East Pittsburgh was narrowly averted this afternoon. Two thousand strikers threatened serious trouble when Fred Wise, a special policeman, struck Joe de Prosky of East Pittsburgh over the head with his club, inflicting a deep wound.

COLONEL CONQUERS THE SPANISH AGAIN

Tells Hostile Journalists How He Loves Their Country, Its Heroes, and Its Language.

EVERYBODY'S TONGUE SOON

And as for Him, He'd Like to Stay in Spain—Never a Word of San Juan Hill—A Luncheon with the King.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES. From a Staff Correspondent.

MADRID, June 9.—Col. Roosevelt tonight gathered the representatives of the Spanish press about him at the American Embassy and proved to them that he was not an enemy of Spain. In reality he loved their country, he said, and words failed to express his regret that he was unable to stay. Ambassador Willard contributed cigars, while the Colonel supplied dates and history to prove his intimate knowledge of Spain's past glory. He recalled the deeds of her heroes, and finally declared that the Spanish tongue, on account of the great development of South America, would soon supplant French, and maybe English, as the universal language.

Col. Roosevelt and his party were the guests of the King and Queen at luncheon today in the Summer Palace of La Granja, fifty miles from Madrid.

The party, which included Ambassador Willard, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and Kermit Roosevelt and his fiancée, Miss Belle Willard, traveled out in automobiles, the route being over a mountain pass at an elevation of 8,000 feet. The meal was served in the magnificent gardens of the palace on the side of the mountain, overlooking the plains of Castile.

The Colonel declined to discuss the subject of his conversation with King Alfonso. He said he made it a rule never to talk of his visits to royal personages, as it made these occasions so much more interesting.

The police guard will remain at the embassy until the Colonel departs. There are two uniformed men at the garden gate and several in plain clothes about the premises. Their presence is explained by the statement "With a man of the Colonel's prominence we are more comfortable with a guard."

The press attacks are mostly in the Socialist newspapers, the royalist organs, believing Col. Roosevelt to be an imperialist, refrain from comment. El Pais, the most important of the Republican prints, says: "That figure, high in American politics, troubles us. We know his attitude toward Spain. We cannot welcome him." The old grandees are more courteous, many leaving their cards. Premier Dato, the Governor of Madrid, and all the Diplomatic Corps have followed suit.

The Colonel tomorrow morning will visit the Velasquez room at the Prado Museum. Then the civil wedding ceremony between Kermit Roosevelt and Miss Willard will take place, the formal witnesses to it being the Duke of Alba and former Minister Osma y Schull. In the afternoon the Colonel will make a motor trip to Toledo.

At the religious ceremony of marriage on Thursday the witnesses will be Col. Roosevelt and Ambassador Willard.

NAMED FOR ROOT AND LODGE

Alaskan Peaks So-Called as Memorial of Boundary Settlement.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Three high peaks in the Fairweather range, on the Alaskan boundary, about 50 degrees north latitude, near Mt. St. Elias, have been named for Senator Root of New York, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, and former Senator Turner of Washington. The three Senators were members of the American Commission before the Alaska Boundary Tribunal in London in 1903. Today large photographs of the peaks were given to Mr. Root and Mr. Lodge by Supt. Tittman of the Geodetic Survey, who was secretary of the American Commission.

After a disagreement over the boundary it was decided that the line should follow the tips of the peaks in the Fairweather range, and Mr. Tittman as an expert was named to draw the line on a map. At that time it was suggested that peaks might be named after the American and British representatives, but the suggestion had been almost forgotten until today.

The peaks, which stand close together, are each about 11,000 feet high, and the photographs show them to be very beautiful. Mr. Lodge said this afternoon he could imagine no more splendid or enduring memorials.

PROHIBITION UP TODAY.

Proposed Amendment to Constitution Comes Before House Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Nation-wide prohibition through an amendment of the Federal Constitution will be considered tomorrow at a special meeting of the House Rules Committee. Members of the committee were reticent tonight regarding their action, but it is understood that they will pass upon a revised resolution proposed today by Representative Hobson of Alabama, to meet opposition to the amendment he submitted some time ago, on the ground that it violated State rights. Mr. Hobson's revised Constitutional amendment reads:

> The sale, manufacture for sale, transportation for sale, importation for sale, of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof, and the exportation for sale thereof, are forever prohibited; the Congress or the States within their respective jurisdictions shall have power to enforce this article by all needful legislation.

Prospects of a vote on prohibition at this session have been the subject of general discussion lately, and Majority Leader Underwood has expressed his willingness to have the question put before the House for a test. Mr. Underwood and other Democratic leaders believe that while the Hobson resolution may command a majority, it cannot receive the two-thirds vote necessary for passage.

ROCKEFELLER'S ROCK HALTS

Bridge Not Strong Enough for 250-Ton Fountain Stone.

Special to The New York Times.

TARRYTOWN, June 9.—John D. Rockefeller has a 250-ton stone for a fountain blocking Beekman Avenue. After searching far for a solid rock of 250 tons, from which to carve a fountain suitable for his estate, and after many delays and its final arrival here, Mr. Rockefeller finds himself balked again.

The engineers of the New York Central Railroad refused this morning to allow him to move the stone over the Beekman Avenue bridge. They say the bridge is not strong enough to support the weight, and if the stone should fall upon the tracks the railroad might as well give up business for a week.

Mr. Rockefeller refuses to build a new bridge to carry the rock. He might have the stone dragged back to Wildey Street, but the Tarrytown Trustees have refused him a permit unless he gives a personal bond, and this he refuses to do.

It has been suggested that he could go up around Philipse Manor and through the Sleepy Hollow country, but this would be five miles out of the way, and carting a 250-ton stone on a five-mile detour is not the sort of joy ride he wants to pay for.

One thing is certain—no one will steal the stone.

MEDAL FOR MARCONI.

British Society of Arts Honors Him for Wireless Development.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, June 9.—The Council of the Royal Society of Arts, with the approval of its President, the Duke of Connaught, has awarded the Albert Medal for the current year to William Marconi "for services in the development and practical application of wireless telegraphy."

The medal was instituted in 1862. The first was given to Sir Rowland Hill. The King received it last year.

WIRELESS MAY NEED WIRES.

New Corporation Provides for Marconi Land Lines, if Needed.

The Marconi Telegraph Cable Company, capitalized at $50,000, was incorporated at Albany yesterday. The Directors are G. S. De Sousa, E. J. Nally, and J. Bottomley. The articles of incorporation give the extension of lines between New York and Albany as one of the objects of the corporation.

Mr. Bottomley, who is General Manager of the American Marconi Company, said last night that there was no particular significance in the incorporation of the new company. "We are simply providing for unforeseen developments," he said. "We are building stations for service between England and New Jersey, and a number of wire extensions may be necessary. At present we have arrangements with a telegraph company which are quite satisfactory, and there is no idea of extending the lines."

STEVENSON SINKING FAST.

Doctors Say Former Vice President's Death Is a Matter of Hours.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Overcome by the extreme heat, former Vice President Adlai Stevenson, who is critically ill at the Presbyterian Hospital, began to sink rapidly late today. His physicians said:

"His death is a question of but a few hours."

FORD TAKES OVER HOSPITAL

To Pay $400,000 and Run Detroit Institution for Poor Man's Benefit.

Special to The New York Times.

DETROIT, June 9.—Henry Ford's offer to take over the Detroit General Hospital and to finance it for a poor man's hospital was formally accepted today by the Board of Trustees. The action was taken after a referendum vote of the subscribers to the Hospital Fund, there being not one negative voice.

The deeds and other papers necessary to the conveyance of the property will be made out at once, and Mr. Ford will send checks aggregating $400,000 to subscribers to the fund, appoint an administrative board for the hospital, set aside a big fund for its completion, and then go on a vacation. Upon his return he will take up the details of the management of the hospital.

TEACHERS CAN UNIONIZE.

Cleveland Court Upholds Them in Fight with Education Board.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 9.—Public school teachers won a point this afternoon in their fight to form a labor union. The Common Pleas Court granted an injunction forbidding the Board of Education from enforcing a resolution recently passed providing that no teacher shall be employed who is a member of a labor union.

"Ohio laws recognize and encourage labor organizations," said the court, "and the Board of Education has no right to provide that future contracts shall not be entered into between it and persons affiliated with labor unions."

TRAIN STOPPED IN TIME.

Boy, Seized with Dizziness, Falls to Tracks at Brooklyn Bridge.

Walter Berry, 18 years old, of 825 East Twelfth Street, Flatbush, was seized with a dizzy spell while waiting for a Brighton Beach train at the Brooklyn Bridge station last night and fell to the tracks. A train was approaching at a slow speed, but the motorman saw Berry fall and managed to stop in time to avoid running over him. The platform man, Timothy Murphy, and Bridge Policeman Henry Smith jumped to the tracks and lifted the youth to the platform. Dr. Blanchard removed him to the Hudson Street Hospital suffering from internal injuries and contusions of the head, face, and back. His condition is regarded as serious.

The accident occurred at a time when hundreds of homegoers were on the platforms, and the dangerous position of the man who, until he was rescued, lay lengthwise with his left hand within a few inches of the third rail, caused a great deal of excitement.

STOPS ALL ARMS GOING TO MEXICO

Cabinet, Bent on Preventing More Antilla Incidents, Halts a Cargo at Galveston

AND WILL HOLD UP OTHERS

Direct Shipments Can Thus Be Checked, but Not Those Sent Through Foreign Ports.

CARRANZA REPLY DELAYED

Our Peace Delegates Suggest That a Rebel Succeed Huerta—Envoys Are Loath to Agree.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Wilson Administration today put its foot down on the shipment of any more arms and ammunition from American ports to Mexican ports. The whole question was thrashed out in a meeting of the Cabinet, where it was definitely decided to prevent any repetition of the Antilla incident.

The immediate result of the Cabinet's decision was the issuance of orders to hold up 45,000 rounds of ammunition, which was conveyed from New York City to Galveston on the Morgan liner El Sud for transshipment over the Wolvin line to Tampico for the use of the rebels.

A letter from the Collector of Customs at Galveston forced the issue. The letter reached Washington today while the Cabinet was in session. It was sent over to Secretary Redfield and read in Cabinet session. This letter stated that El Sud had arrived with the ammunition, which was shipped by Flint & Co. to Galveston for transshipment to an unnamed consignee at Tampico. The Collector asked for instructions.

So far as marine lawyers here could ascertain, there was no authority of law by which the cargo of El Sud could be stopped, and it became necessary for the Cabinet to act at once. No proclamation has been issued, restoring the embargo on arms, but the decision of the Cabinet was sufficient, with the approval of President Wilson, to enable Secretary Redfield to send a telegram to the Collector, which read substantially as follows: Do not allow any vessel with arms and ammunition to clear for Mexican ports. This order is effective until further notice.

Under these instructions the El Sud cargo will be detained at Galveston. No similar order was sent to other collectors because no other case of similar character had been reported. But it is made plain that the moment any collector notifies the Department of Commerce that a vessel wishes to clear for a Mexican port with arms or ammunition, clearance papers will be refused under orders which will be sent as each case arises. On account of the proximity of Galveston to Tampico and the suspicion that other vessels were bound for that port with ammunition to be transshipped to Tampico, the order issued to the collector at Galveston today was broad enough to cover all shipments.

Can't Stop Arms to Other Countries.

The Collector of Customs at Baltimore telephoned to the Department of Commerce this afternoon that the Hamburg-American liner Arcadia, which wished to clear for Hamburg, had on board rifles and cartridges. The Collector said that he regarded the clearance as a subterfuge and that the arms were really destined for Mexico. The Administration, however, decided that there could be no interference with the vessel if her clearance was for Hamburg.

While the Cabinet had the El Sud case under consideration today it is understood that no action was taken in the meeting to stop the Antilla, which is due at Tampico tomorrow with a big cargo of arms for the rebels.

As Huerta has suspended the blockade of the port and his gunboats have returned toward Puerto Mexico, some officials expressed the opinion that her cargo would not be interfered with. Department heads declined, however, to discuss persistent rumors that the vessel might not dischrarge her cargo, and there is said to be no legal authority to direct the owners of the vessel not to deliver the cargo as ordered.

Expecting Carranza Reply.

Encouraged by the ending of the crisis over Huerta's blockade of Tampico, President Wilson and Secretary Bryan today turned their efforts to that phase of mediation concerning the Constitutionalists. Mr. Bryan, after consulting with the President, said they were both hopeful that the Constitutionalists would take part in some way in the deliberations at Niagara Falls.

Gen. Carranza's final instructions to his mission here, on which Señor Zubaran will base his reply to the latest invitation from the mediators, are expected tomorrow.

Señor R. Zubaran tonight issued a formal statement explaining that the delay in transmitting Gen. Carranza's answer to the A B C mediators was due to telegraphic interruption. Señor Zubaran said he had not been able to communicate with Gen. Carranza for forty-eight hours.

Before the break in telegraphic communication Señor Zubaran and Gen. Carranza had almost reached an agreement as to the character of the reply to be sent to the mediators. The reply was, it is understood, that Gen. Carranza was ready to send delegates to Niagara, though unwilling to agree to an armistice.

In some quarters in touch with the revolutionary leaders the opinion was expressed that Carranza would offer to send delegates to Niagara Falls to discuss the peace proposals but would not specify precisely the scope of discussions in which they would be authorized to particiate. It was suggested that the mediation conference might take a recess while negotiations proceeded with Carranza, the United States taking the initiative in an endeavor to bring the Carranzaists into co-operation for the general welfare of Mexico.

It was learned that some features proposed by the Wilson Administration which differed from the peace plan submitted by the mediators and the plans of the Huerta Commissioners related to treatment of the Constitutionalists. The belief of Administration leaders was that a compromise might be reached that would be acceptable to Gen. Carranza and his followers. Should it be necessary for the peace conference to take a recess pending separate negotiations with Carranza, it was thought here that much could be accomplished toward settling the internal Mexican situation and that tripartite participation in the second stage of mediation could follow with Huerta, Carranza, and the United States represented.

According to the rebels' view, the acceptance by Gen. Huerta of the plan proposed by the mediators and the acceptance in principle of most of its provisions by the United States give the Constitutionalists the key to the situation.

Uneasiness was expressed in some quarters today lest prompt acceptance by Huerta of the American counter-proposals might embarrass the Administration by coming before the attitude of the Constitutionalists was made known. But unofficial advices from Canada today indicate that this embarrassment has been obviated by a contingent clause in the counter-proposition submitted to the mediators by the American delegates. This contingency is understood to be acceptance by the rebels.

REBEL AS NEW PRESIDENT?

Americans Suggest It, but Envoys Want a Non-Partisan.

Special to The New York Times.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 9.—The Mexican peace negotiations took a new turn today when a strong indication was given that the Washington Government would endeavor to arrange a pacification agreement, satisfactory to Gen. Carranza and his advisors, through the selection as Provisional President of Mexico of one of the foremost leaders in the Constitutionalist Party. This indication became apparent during a two-hour discussion this afternoon by the mediators and the American delegates of persons suggested for the office of Provisional President and the four Cabinet places, who, according to the pacification plan, would form the governing commission.

The discussion was based on a slate, proposed by the Mexican delegates, which the mediators laid before the American representatives. None of the persons whose names were suggested appeared satisfactory to the American delegates, not for reasons affecting their standing, ability or character, but seemingly because the Americans were inclined toward the selection of men more closely allied with the Constitutionalist cause. No prominent Mexican was nominated by the American delegates, but their discussion of the subject gave the impression that they felt that the choice of the new Provisional President should be confined to a limited list of revolutionary leaders of the prominence attained by Gen. Carranza, Gen. Villa and José Vasconcellos, the young lawyer, who was recently in Canada on a mission for the Constitutionalist Party.

Judging from what took place at this conference, the policy of the Washington Government is to placate the Constitutionalists by putting one of their leaders in nominal control of Mexican affairs, while the new provisional Government exists, and giving the Constitutionalists a majority of the governing commission. But from what is known of the attitude of the Mexican delegates, they will not accept Carranza, Villa or Vasconcellos for the Provisional Presidency or for appointment on the junta that will be named.

There is reason to believe that while the mediators will leave the selection of members of the commission to the American and Mexican delegates, they feel that the Provisional President and his colleagues should be chosen from among prominent Mexicans who have not been identified closely with either faction, involved in the present military campaign.

Under the pacification plan which has been accepted by the Mexican Government and has encountered no fundamental objection from the Wilson Administration, the person who will succeed Huerta as Provisional President of Mexico must first be appointed permanent Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs by Huerta, who will then resign. His nominee will then become Provisional President under the provision of the Mexican Constitution. It is not thought likely that Huerta would agree to appoint Carranza, Villa or Vasconcellos as his successor. There seems to be little likelihood, therefore, that the implied suggestion of the American delegates that a prominent revolutionary leader be chosen as Provisional President will be adopted.

Seek Unconditional Admission.

Outside of the possibility of complications, a new situation has developed in regard to the admission of Constitutionalists to the mediation negotiations. The American delegates, acting under instructions of the State Department, are endeavoring to persuade the mediators to permit Constitutionalist envoys to participate in the peace conference without complying with the conditions laid down by the envoys in their response to the communication received from Gen. Carranza a week ago. The mediators contend, however, that it would not be proper for them to discriminate in favor of the Constitutionalists, who had rejected their invitation to the conference at the time the American and Mexican Governments accepted.

To arguments of the American representatives in favor of admitting the Constitutionalists to the conference unconditionally, the mediators have replied that it is a matter of necessity and not of choice for them to adhere to their position that Constitutionalist participation is possible only on the terms that applied to the American and Mexican delegates. These are that the revolutionary forces shall suspend hostilities and that the plan of pacification shall be accepted in principle by Gen. Carranza.

The answer of Gen. Carranza to the latest invitation extended to him to send representatives here is expected tomorrow. Information to that effect was given to the mediators today by the American delegates. It was the intention of the mediators to make public today the text of the communications exchanged between themselves and Gen. Carranza or his agents, but at the request of the American delegates the mediators agreed to defer the publication until the Carranza communication had been delivered.

Apparently the American delegates are in hopes that the character of the Constitutionalist communication may furnish a basis for discussion that will lead the mediators to modify their attitude as to admiting them to the conference.

As things stand now, if the Constitutionalist agents should appear here they would not be permitted to enter the conference, unless they were empowered to comply with the conditions laid down by the mediators. But if Constitutionalists should come here and express a desire to confer with the American and the Mexican delegates, the mediators would raise no objection. That would be a matter for each set of delegates to determine. Nor would the mediators object to discussing such proposals of the Constitutionalists as the American delegates might bring before them. Whether the mediators would consent to lay suggestions from the Constitutionalists before the Mexican representatives is another matter, but it is likely that they would even do that.

It is evident, therefore, that even if Gen. Carranza refused to agree to an armistice and to accept the pacification plan in principle, as is generally expected, this might not entirely shut the door of the mediation conference to the rebels. The mediators today had two conferences with the American delegates and a brief session with the Mexican delegates, which was merely to hand to Gen. Huerta's representatives some suggestions from the American delegates for modifications in the pacification plan. These suggestions consisted of notations on the margin of a document containing the text of the pacification plan. The character of the notations disposed of a report that the American delegates had prepared an entirely new plan. As a matter of fact, the fundamental principles of the programme are not disturbed by the American suggestions, and it is apparent that President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have no insurmountable objections to the peace plan.

A story was current here tonight that the American delegates had made objections to the plan whereby Gen. Huerta was to appoint as Foreign Secretary the man who was to succeed him as Provisional President, the alleged reason for disagreement being that to allow Huerta to make this appointment would be construed as recognition of the Huerta Government.

The matter was said to have been the subject of an animated debate today between the American delegates and the A B C envoy, but it is known that there was no serious disagreement, and it is understood that the Mexican delegates will not insist on the arrangement if it proves an obstacle to final agreement.

America Asks No Indemnity.

This favorable disposition of the United States has been emphasized by the information, conveyed by the American delegates, that their Government will not insist that the peace agreement contain a requirement that Mexico pay an indemnity for the losses sustained at Vera Cruz or for the enormous expenditures already made in an attempt to pacify Mexico.

This has made it easy for the opposing delegates to meet harmoniously, and is responsible largely for the ease with which a general understanding has been reached between them.

That the mediators believe the pacification plan is virtually concluded was shown today when it became known that E. L. Chermont, counselor of the Brazilian Embassy in Washington, would be here tomorrow to assist in the preparation of the formal protocol, embodying the agreement of the American and Mexican delegates. Mr. Chermont is noted for his ability in preparing protocols and treaties, and the mediators wish his assistance in the concluding portion of their work.

REBELS SOUGHT HUERTA SHIPS

Tried to Induce "Blockade Fleet" to Desert.

TAMPICO, June 8, (by way of Brownsville, Texas, June 9.)—When President Huerta's gunboats, the Bravo and the Zaragoza, arrived off Tampico this morning, Rear Admiral Mayo, who commands the American naval forces here, summoned the Captain of the Zaragoza aboard the battleship Minnesota and informed him that instructions of the utmost importance had been received from Washington with orders to communicate them to the Mexican commander.

Details of these instructions were not revealed, but it is understood that the Mexican Captain was told that the Washington Government would not permit any interference with the traffic of the port or permit the Mexican gunboats to enter the Panuco River.

The gunboats lay at anchor four miles off shore, with the cruiser Tacoma and the gunboat Sacramento under way and hovering near and the Minnesota and the San Francisco at anchor about a mile away.

Neither the Zaragoza nor the Bravo assumed a hostile attitude, the rigging of both being festooned with clothing.

The only communication with the gunboats from shore was in the afternoon, when a tug went out to the Zaragoza with Constitutionalist officials, who proposed that both vessels transfer their allegiance to the Constitutionalists.

The utmost activity had been displayed by the Constitutionalists in strengthening breastworks and placing guns, but the gunboats remained out of range. On account of early fear that the gunboats would attack the port, a considerable number of troops had been ordered to Tampico from Monterey, but the orders were afterward countermanded.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the Bravo and the Zaragoza hoisted anchor and steamed to the southward, accompanied as before by the Tacoma and the Sacramento. Their destination was not stated, but was supposed to be Puerto Mexico.

NO ORDERS TO THE ANTILLA.

Line's Manager Expects Her to Land Cargo Without Hindrance.

Alfred G. Smith, Vice President and General Manager of the Ward Line Steamship Company, said yesterday that there was nothing, so far as he knew, to prevent the steamship Antilla from entering the Port of Tampico today or tomorrow and landing her cargo of 3,000,000 rounds of cartridges and two military aeroplanes. He stated that he had received no instructions from Federal officials in Washington, and that no attempt had been made to influence the landing of the goods in any way.

There had been no concealment of the nature of the cargo, he added, and there was no reason why she should not be allowed to land at Tampico.

ARCADIA HAS A BIG CARGO.

A Million Rounds of Ammunition Besides Rifles.

BALTIMORE, June 9.—Collector of Customs William F. Stone today discovered that the Hamburg-American steamer Arcadia, which arrived here from New York, bound for Hamburg, had aboard more than 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition, beside rifles and primers. The manifest, which showed the cargo already on the vessel when she arrived, simply set forth that it was destined for Hamburg.

In the last three or four years, it was said, several consignments of arms and ammunition had been taken on ships of the Hamburg-American Line at New York, and the vessels had come to this port to complete their cargoes.

The presumption that the ammunition might be destined for Mexico primarily was due to the fact that the names of the shipper and the consignee did not figure in the manifest. To protect this Government from any possible embarrassment, the Collector notified the Department of Commerce. Secretary Redfield gave an order for the clearance of the ship, and it will clear port Thursday.

SALTILLO CHEERS CARRANZA.

Storm Interrupts Wire Communication with Agents Here.

SALTILLO, June 7, (via El Paso, June 9.)—Gen. Carranza received a tremendous ovation upon his arrival here tonight. The Constitutionalist commander was dined by Gen. Pablo Gonzales, commander of the Eastern Military Zone, who arrived before Gen. Carranza from Monterey, which he captured.

The reply to the latest communication to Gen. Carranza from the South American mediators is being thoroughly discussed by the General and his advisers. What the purport of the reply will be has not been indicated at Gen. Carranza's headquarters, but there is a strong feeling among Constitutionalist leaders that the plan of Guadalupe will be adhered to rigidly.

At San Pedro de las Colonias, where Carranza stopped on his way here, a remarkable ceremony took place. Flowers and palm branches covered the ground which not two months ago was strewn with shells and bodies. When Gen. Carranza stepped from his car at the spot where Gen. Velasco's Federals made a last desperate stand against Gen. Villa he got an enthusiastic reception. Thousands gathered at the station and drowned out the music of the band with their cheers. Young women with great armfuls of flowers strewed them in the General's path.

The throng followed to the Municipal Palace. Gen. Carranza appeared on the balcony and spoke a few words of eulogy of President Madero. San Pedro was Madero's home, and every mention of the martyred President was received with "vivas" and wild cheers. Gen. Carranza said that when he first came to San Pedro three years ago he had little thought that he ever would occupy the position he now holds. He said he came to sound out the people to discover if they would respond to a movement for reform. Gen. Carranza declared that the blood of Madero and Suarez and others had not been shed in vain, and that the movement of which they had been leaders now was about to be crowned with success.

EL PASO, Texas, June 9.—The first telegram, either press or official, to come from Gen. Carranza at Saltillo arrived today from The Associated Press correspondent with Gen. Carranza. Wire trouble, caused by heavy rains in Central Mexico, continued to interrupt the telegraph south of Juarez. The message sent Gen. Carranza by his agent at Washington brought no response.

GAVE UP BLOCKADE TO AID MEDIATION

Huerta's Decree Says Order Against Tampico Might Have Hampered the Envoys.

RUMORS ABOUT THE CABINET

Gen. Blanquet Says He Will Not Resign Now—Silent About the Others.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MEXICO CITY June 9.—Gen. Blanquet, the War Minister, said today that the blockade of Tampico had been suspended, but that the decree had not been rescinded. The Minister said that the Foreign Relations Department had not communicated to him any statement that the United States would not permit a Tampico blockade, and he declined to make any comment on the attitude of the United States Government in the matter.

When asked by press representatives about the rumors that the Cabinet had presented their resignations en masse and whether there was any truth in this report, as far as he was concerned, Gen. Blanquet replied that he had nothing to say on the subject.

Later he said he did not expect to resign in the midst of the present crisis.

A report that Señor Garcia Naranjo, Minister of Public Instruction, had resigned persisted throughout the day, but nothing tangible developed.

The War Minister declined to give any information in regard to the rumored evacuation of Guaymas by the forces of Gen. Juaquin Tellez.

In an interview with press representatives tonight Gen. Blanquet said that the gunboats, which had been ordered to Tampico for the purpose of establishing a blockade, were returning to Puerto Mexico.

The Minister was asked for information about the fighting in the neighborhood of San Luis Potosi. He said it had occurred on the Tampico line, the rebels having been defeated and losing heavily. The Minister was also asked about the report that Gen. Zozaya with his command had been ordered back to San Luis Potosi, and he said that Zozaya would remain in the State of Jalisco.

When asked for details about the fighting in the south, he said the Zapatistas had lost 500 killed and that telegraph and rail communication between the capital and Cuernavaca was being re-established. He also stated that troops had been sent to engage the rebels, who had been interfering with rail communication on the Manzanillo line in the neighborhood of Sayula.

Text of Suspension Decree.

The decree suspending the Tampico blockade appeared in this evening's Diario Official. It says in part:

Taking into consideration the fact that the blockade of the Port of Tampico was to be of a pacific character and was designed solely as a measure of defense to prevent the rebels receiving arms and ammunition which would enable them to combat the Federal Government, and taking into further consideration the fact that the Department of Foreign Relations has received advices that the Mexican delegates to the conference with the powers which have mediated in the conflict with the United States have taken steps for the maintenance of the status quo, which was established in respect to the acquisition of war material and arms by the rebels when peace negotiations were in progress, said blockade has absolutely no object and might hamper the diplomatic efforts of said delegates.

It is hereby decreed that from this date the effects of the blockade against the Port of Tampico established by the decree of the 3d inst. are held in suspense.

Done in the palace of the Federal Executive, Mexico City, June 8, 1914.

V. HUERTA.

Señor Esteva Ruiz, Acting Secretary of Foreign Relations, gave out the following statement to the press this afternoon:

"As an important fact connected with the suspension of the Tampico blockade by the Mexican Government I have to state that the Government of the United States of America has given a general order to its fiscal authorities prohibiting the shipment of arms to Mexican ports.

"I believe that this fact will dispel all the rumors which have been circulated with respect to the supposed rupture of the peace negotiations, which I will once more state have proceeded thus far without a setback of any kind."

Señor Alcocer, the Minister of the Interior, received a telegram today from Gen. Ignacio Morelos Zaragoza, commanding the forces which evacuated Tampico, stating that he had reached Pachuca, capital of the neighboring State of Hidalgo, and only a few hours from the capital.

Huerta Reviews Rurales.

Gen. Huerta this morning reviewed the rurales and lancers in Chapultepec Park. He was accompanied by Señor Alcocer and Gen. Carlos Rincon Gallardo, Chief of rurales.

Gen. Luis Medina Barron telegraphs the Interior Department from Zacatecas that his command has had severe engagements with the rebels between Ojuelos and Calera and Zacatecas, the enemy being defeated and losing 200 killed.

Gen. Jesus Garza Gonzalez, Governor of Michoacan, telegraphs that a rebel band under Rafael Sanchez has twice been defeated recently, once on Friday by the forces of Cesar Gonzalez, Captain of militia, at the village of Corupio, when the rebels lost six killed, and again on Sunday near Tinguindin, where the casualties of the rebels numbered seventeen.

The Federal commander on this occasion was Lieut. Huizar Valencia, who afterward occupied Tinguindin, which had been for some time the rebel headquarters.

Lieut. Valencia has received orders to follow up his success and keep on the track of the Sanchez band until he has completely exterminated the force or dispersed it.

Pascual Luna Parra, former Sub-Secretary of Finance and Acting Secretary while the then Secretary, Señor de la Lama, was absent in Europe, has himself departed for Europe, and will not return to his position, although when quitting it he only asked for leave of absence.

The Japanese Minister, Adatchi, has changed his plans and will return to the capital direct via Guadalajara. Commander Denzo Mori and Secretary Miura of the Japanese Legation have departed for Guadalajara by rail with a large automobile, in which they will go from Guadalajara to meet the Minister, who is coming from Sayula on horseback. The party will return by automobile to Guadalajara, and thence by rail to the capital.

The Portuguese Government has asked Mexico to deprive Luis Breton y Vedra, who was chargé of the archives of the Mexican Legation in Lisbon of his diplomatic privileges, Breton being charged with dealing in counterfeit securities. The Mexican Government has acceded, and ordered Amada Nervo, Secretary of the Mexican Legation in Madrid, to go to Lisbon to take charge of the Legation in Portugal. Breton is of Portuguese extraction.

Bishop Juan Herrera y Pina of the diocese of Tulancingo, who narrowly escaped capture the other day by the Zapatistas, has left for Rome.

Some significance is attached here to a report that Gen. Funston has ordered the withdrawal of cannon which had been set up at Los Cocos and El Tejar outside of Vera Cruz.

REBELS WATCH TO NAB HUERTA

Wrecks on Railroad Thus Explained—Luis Creel at Vera Cruz.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.
From a Staff Correspondent.

VERA CRUZ, June 9.—Several persons who arrived from Mexico City today and were closely in touch with the political situation, would not allow themselves to be quoted, but stated that general confidence existed in the capital that the mediation conference would be successful, although how and when were matters of much speculation.

The frequency of wrecks between Mexico City and Vera Cruz has led the military authorities here to believe that the rebels under Dr. Camacho are active there. Today's passengers were unable to give any facts regarding the cause of the wrecks, because they were forced to walk around by-paths and were not allowed to follow the roadbed. This is taken as an indication that the latest wreck was a serious one.

One theory which is held here is that the rebels expect an important passenger (Gen. Huerta) over this line soon.

Conditions in the capital and the towns north of there are reported quiet. The rebels and Federals are said to be maintaining their positions practically unaltered. This report comes as a contradiction to other reports here, which state that the rebels are making marked progress southward.

Among the passengers arriving here this morning were Luis Creel, Jr., and his family, who were on their way to Europe, where they will remain about six months during the Summer. The trip is the regular vacation outing of the family, and is said not to be due to political conditions in the country.

Señor Creel said that it was generally admitted in Mexico City that Gen. Huerta must resign before any solution of the trouble was possible through the peace conference. Gen. Huerta realized this, and was ready to leave when he believed the time had come when he might do so and assure peace to Mexico.

Señor Creel said that the report that San Luis Potosi had been evacuated was untrue, although about 5,000 troops from there had reached Mexico City under the command of Velasco. Those under Gen. Juaquin Maass remained in control of San Luis Potosi. Some rumors were current of friction between Gen. Maass and Gen. Velasco regarding conditions, which resulted in the withdrawal of Gen. Velasco, who gave as an excuse the fact that the wound he had received at Torreon was not healing.

According to Señor Creel, the attack which was made on San Luis Potosi by Gen. Jesus Carranza and Gen. Torres was merely an independent move, as the objective of the rebels was Aguascalientes, to which Gen. Maass was rushing some men.

These reports reaching Mexico City, Señor Creel said, were mostly based on rumors and indefinite information which were often contradicted by statements from official sources.

The fate of Zacatecas was unknown in Mexico City, as the place had been without direct communication with that place for several days.

MODIFIES OIL GRANTS.

Mexican Senate Will Not Give Romero an Absolute Monopoly.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MEXICO CITY, June 9.—Although the Senate today approved the oil concession granted by the Minister of Commerce and Industry to Pedro Barrenechea and Gen. Francisco Romero, it struck out various clauses.

In the first place, the concession, as modified by the Senate, prescribes that, while Barrenechea and Romero are authorized to prospect for oil and exploit oil deposits in lands of Federal jurisdiction in the States of Vera Cruz and Tamaulipas, such privileges must not be regarded as exclusive, and that permits for the same region must be granted to any other applicant, carrying the same privileges and subject to the same conditions. The Department of Commerce and Industry will issue regulations to prevent conflicts arising from the simultaneous exploration and exploitation of the same zone by different persons or companies.

In the second place, it is provided that on no account shall concessionaires enjoy exemption from export duties on their output, but they may be exempted from other taxes, excepting the stamp tax.

In the third place, the right of expropriation is restricted by the Senate modifications. The expropriation clause as it originally stood was very sweeping, and implicitly might have enabled the concessionaires to expropriate lands already in private ownership on which oil deposits were already being exploited; but, according to the modification introduced by the Senate, the right of expropriation is to be confined to land needed by the concessionaires for their plants. This is in accordance with law and precedent in Mexico in the case of enterprises declared to be of public utility.

Restrictions were also thrown by the Senate around easements or servitudes imposable by the concessionaires upon private land owners for the establishment of pipe lines.

The clause in regard to exemption from taxes does not affect the obligation of concessionaires to pay to the Government a contribution equivalent to 15 per cent. of the value of the unrefined output.

LIND LEAVES WASHINGTON.

Will Not Return Unless Administration Needs His Advice.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Ex-Gov. John Lind of Minnesota left Washington tonight for his home, and does not expect to return to Washington in connection with Mexican affairs unless sent for by President Wilson or Secretary Bryan. The assent of Secretary Bryan to the departure of Mr. Lind was given at an interview with the latter last Friday. On that date Gov. Lind rounded out an even ten months in the service of the Government as a special adviser on Mexican matters.

When asked tonight whether his official connection with the Government had ended, Gov. Lind parried the question. Then he was asked whether he would return to Washington in connection with Mexican affairs.

"I do not know," he replied. "I will come, of course, if sent for by Secretary Bryan or President Wilson."

It could not be ascertained tonight whether Mr. Lind's name had been stricken from the Federal pay roll.

Ex-Gov. Lind said that he was allowed to return from Vera Cruz at his own suggestion. He felt that he had obtained all the facts that were gleanable on the Mexican situation, and that his presence in Mexico was no longer necessary. When he returned he expected soon to be able to take a vacation, but the Vera Cruz seizure and other developments in the Mexican situation "broke," and he was urged to remain in Washington.

Since the mediation conferences were initiated Gov. Lind has been staying at the Willard in Washington, and dividing his time between the State Department and the Constitutionalist junta. He has participated in conferences between Secretary Bryan and Charles A. Douglas, attorney for the Constitutionalists in Washington and intermediary between them and the State Department. He has also taken part in the numerous conferences that have been held with Mr. Douglas and Senores Zubaran, Cabrera and Urquidi of the Constitutionalist confidential agency in Washington. In these conferences it is understood that Mr. Lind represented the State Department.

Mr. Lind's mission to Mexico as adviser to the American Embassy began Aug. 5, 1913. Gov. Lind arrived in Mexico City on Aug. 10, was unofficially received by the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs, moved into the embassy, conferred with Gen. Huerta, and returned to Vera Cruz before the end of the month, declaring his mission ended.

He remained in Vera Cruz until November, when he went to Mexico City, recommended that diplomatic negotiations with Mexico be suspended, vainly urged the dissolution of the Mexican Congress, and then returned to Vera Cruz, saying he would not return to the Mexican capital until the Congress was dissolved.

In November he made a trip on the battleship Louisiana with Admiral Fletcher to Tampico, and at the end of December he went from Vera Cruz to Pass Christian to confer with President Wilson on the scout cruiser Chester. Then he returned to Vera Cruz.

While he was in Mexico City Mr. Lind had some unique experiences. One of these was the privilege of hearing boys in the streets shout out "Mister Lind," the name of a comic magazine which sought to ridicule Mr. Lind, his mission, and the Wilson Administration.

RELEASED FROM MAZATLAN.

Starving Population Allowed to Go Over to Rebel Lines.

(ON BOARD U. S. S. CALIFORNIA, MAZATLAN, June 9, via wireless to San Diego.)—Moved by the plea of 200 starving women who besought him to end the sufferings of the populace by surrendering the city, the military Governor of Mazatlan issued an order today permitting all non-combatants who so desired to vacate their dwellings and enter the lines of the Constitutionalist army which has been besieging the port for months.

As the city of Mazatlan has been for some weeks in desperate straits for food and its sympathies from the first have been as strongly Constitutionalist as occupation by a Federal garrison would allow, there is little question that the Governor's permission will be seized by a majority of the poorer classes.

The Constitutionalists, in return for the rations they will supply, will expect to recruit as many of the refugees as they desire and have arms for.

Gen. Obregon's army far outnumbers that of the defenders, but the sea-girt and precipitous situation of Mazatlan and the superior artillery of the garrison have prevented him from attempting a costly general assault.

The cruiser South Dakota arrived here today with 600 marines.

To protect passengers for Mazatlan that arrived yesterday on the Pacific Mail liner Newport from the fire of the Constitutionalist batteries, Rear Admiral Howard, commander of the California, had them taken ashore in the cruiser's launch. Mail brought by the steamer also was transferred in this manner. The Federal authorities of Mazatlan received and cleared the Newport without delay.

Japanese Minister Adachi, who was detained en route from Mexico City to Mazanillo at the city of Sayula, has decided to return to the capital. Sayula, which is between Colima and Guadalajara, is in the hands of the Constitutionalists and a guard from the Japanese cruiser Idzumo has been sent to escort Minister Adachi and his party to Guadalajara.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Admiral Howard reported today from the West Coast of Mexico that the Japanese Minister to Mexico was said to be safe and well. While the report does not say so specifically, it indicates that the diplomat is at the town of Sayula. Sayula, according to Admiral Howard, is in the rebel hands.

There is no improvement in conditions at Mazatlan, says the Admiral. Many people are leaving the city and the others are demanding food.

FUERST BISMARCK SAILS.

But Is Believed to be Carrying No Arms to Puerto Mexico.

NEW ORLEANS, June 9.—The German steamer Fuerst Bismarck, which has been under surveillance here by Government authorities, sailed late yesterday for European ports via Puerto Mexico. The vessel took on a cargo of miscellaneous freight, but so far as could be ascertained did not carry arms or ammunition.

The Fuerst Bismarck changed her destination suddenly in touching here, and this fact was responsible for the belief that munitions of war were to be taken on.

DENIES A HUERTA RUMOR.

Secretary Garrison Says Dictator Is Not Seeking Refuge at Vera Cruz.

Secretary of War Garrison, who was at the Hotel Manhattan last night, declined to discuss the Cabinet decision against allowing any more shipments of arms to Mexican ports.

"There is a rumor that President Huerta is seeking asylum inside the American lines," said the interviewer.

"There is absolutely no truth in that," replied the Secretary.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE GAINS IN DENMARK

Constitutional Amendment Bill Passed by Lower House, but Higher Chamber Balks.

PREMIER FOR DISSOLUTION

Measure Takes from Crown Right to Nominate Members and Curtails Upper House Privileges.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, June 9.—Woman suffrage is to be enacted in Denmark and all property qualifications for electors of members of the Upper House abolished by a Constitutionalist Amendment bill, which passed the Lower House of the Denmark Parliament today. The vote was 102 in favor and six against, with six absentees.

When the bill was sent again to the Upper House, however, the Conservatives acted in accordance with their decision of June 3 and absented themselves. The coalition of Socialists, Radicals and Moderates in favor of the bill was not sufficient to carry the measure, as no vote of the Upper Chamber is considered valid unless more than half of the sixty-six members participate.

Premier Zahle announced that the Government would advise the King to dissolve the Upper House in order that a new Chamber might be elected which would act constitutionally.

The bill takes away from the Crown its present right to nominate twelve members out of the sixty-six composing the upper house, and withdraws the special privileges by which the remaining fifty-four members of that legislative body are elected.

By the existing system they are chosen by an electoral college, a third of whose delegates represent the highest taxpayers in the country districts, a third the highest taxpayers in the cities, and a third the rest of the community.

As two-thirds of the college represent the wealthy classes and generally act in union, the working classes are virtually excluded from a voice in the selection of members of the upper house.

ORGANIC TISSUE MARVELS.

Engrafted Cells Potentially Immortal, Dr. Carrel's Experiments Show.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, June 9.—A new communication on Dr. Alexis Carrel's experiments with regard to permanent life of tissues independently of organism was made to the French Academy of Medicine today by Prof. Pozzi.

In a note submitted to the academy in June, 1912, Dr. Carrel had shown that organic tissue could live permanently in a state of autonomous life. The tissue was a fragment of heart taken on Jan. 10 from the seven-day embryo of a chicken and cultivated in plasma of an adult fowl. For 104 days it gave regular pulsations and produced a large number of conjunctive cells.

On May 6, 1913, Prof. Pozzi communicated a new note from Dr. Carrel on how the tissues had developed. Cellular colonies have since grown actively, and after twenty-eight months of life, said Prof. Pozzi, a comparison of the quantity of tissue produced today in forty-eight hours with that produced in the same period two years ago showed that the activity of the cellular colonies had increased considerably. During its third year of autonomous life the engrafted tissue showed even greater activity than at first. That appeared to show that the tissue was no longer submissive to the action of time.

Prof. Pozzi concluded: "It may be said of the engrafted cells that they are potentially immortal."

BEAR TO GET KARLUK'S MEN.

Government Revenue Cutter to Rescue Scientists on Wrangel Island.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Formal announcement was made by the Treasury Department today that the revenue cutter Bear had been ordered to go to the rescue of the scientists and crew of the whaler Karluk, flagship of the Stefansson arctic expedition, which was crushed in the ice on Jan. 11 last near Herald Island. The men and crew of the Karluk are on Wrangel Island.

This message was sent by Assistant Secretary Newton of the Treasury Department today to Capt. Cochran of the Bear:

> Washington, June 9.
> To Cochran, Captain Bear, St. Michael, Alaska:
>
> Endeavor to rescue Karluk party on Wrangel Island, either en route to Point Barrow or whenever ice conditions permit.
>
> NEWTON.

The orders to Capt Cochran were in response to this message which was received by Capt. Bertholf, commandant of the revenue cutter service today:

> St. Michael, June 6.
>
> To Bertholf, Washington:
>
> Capt. Bartlett now here, commander of Canadian Government steamer Karluk, reports fifteen of his crew on Wrangel Island. Eight of the party additional presumably there. Suggest that Bear be offered to assist either en route to Point Barrow or whenever ice conditions permit.
>
> COCHRAN.

The Bear arrived at Nome last week and has just reached St. Michael on a cruise. It will probably be the latter part of July before the Bear can start north and at least August before she can reach Wrangel Island. She may not be able to reach the island in any event. It all depends upon the ice conditions in Bering Sea and beyond Bering Straits. Wrangel Island is 300 miles from Bering Straits and 150 miles north of North Cape, Siberia.

TWO COUPLES HELD UP.

Immigration Board May Send Them Back to Germany.

Four passengers who arrived yesterday in the second cabin of the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie from Bremen were detained and sent to Ellis Island at the request of the German Consul General, one of whose representatives went to Quarantine on the United States revenue cutter to meet the steamer. The four were listed as Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Jansen and Mr. and Mrs. Josef Roggendorf. The women were young and attractive-looking, and described themselves as sisters, to the immigration officials on the steamer.

Information was cabled to the Consul General of a financial transaction by which the Rheinischer Bank of Muelheim, Prussia, was defrauded of $3,000 by one Jacob Dresser of Duisberg, Prussia. It is believed that Roggendorf is Duisberg, and that the two sisters are Marie and Mathilde Pilsch.

The four will be called before the special Board of Inquiry at Ellis Island today, and it is expected that they will be sent back to Germany by the ship on which they arrived.

NEVER KISSED MRS. POSS.

Thorn, the Corespondent, Swears Behavior Was Always Most Proper.

Percy M. Thorn, President of the Manufacturers' Coal and Utilities Company, corespondent in the divorce suit begun by Frank R. Poss against Mrs. Lillian K. Poss, took the witness stand in his own defense yesterday in the Supreme Court. He swore that between himself and Mrs. Poss there existed only the most proper of relations. There had been no familiarity between them, he said, not even a platonic kiss.

When cross-examined, he admitted that he and Mrs. Poss had gone automobiling together, and on one occasion had led detectives "a merry chase" through Central Park. He also admitted having taken Mrs. Poss to a chop suey restaurant, but said that he could see nothing wrong in that. He would have taken his own mother for some chop suey, he said, if the occasion had arisen.

Mr. Thorn gave his address as 2,733 Quimby Avenue, Westchester. He said he first met Mrs. Poss in the Fall of 1912, but never began to see her frequently until last January. In January, he said, he and Mrs. Poss met at the Waldorf and talked over business affairs. Mrs. Poss, he said, was very much interested in the wholesale coal business. There was a titter in the courtroom at this, and Mrs. Thorn especially seemed much amused.

The details of Mr. Poss's entrance into the Poss apartment on the morning after a Washington's Birthday celebration were then given by Mr. Thorn. Mr. Poss, he said, burst into the room where he and Mrs. Poss and two other ladies were sitting. "He acted like a crazy man," Mr. Thorn said. Mr. Thorn then told how Mr. Poss had struck him on the jaw, and then had attacked Mrs. Poss.

In corroboration of Mr. Thorn's story that he and Mrs. Poss had always conducted themselves properly an affidavit submitted by Miss Irene Schilis of 251 West Ninety-first Street was read to the court. "I know both Mrs. Poss and Mr. Thorn," the affidavit read. "I have called at the home of Mrs. Poss several times, and she in turn has been over to my home. The occasion was either a dance or a card party. When I went to the home of Mrs. Poss I saw Mr. Thorn there a few times. There would be a party of seven or eight, including Mr. Thorn. As I was the only unmarried woman present, Mr. Thorn kindly consented to see me home when the parties would break up. Mr. Thorn would always leave when the parties broke up. I never noticed any manifestation of affection on his part for Mrs. Poss."

RACING BILL BEATEN.

Louisiana House Rejects the Rheinhart Measure, 55 to 50.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 9.—The Rheinhart bill, providing for the restoration of horse racing in Louisiana, was killed today in the House by a vote of 55 to 50.

The vote was on a motion to postpone action indefinitely, and was equivalent to killing the bill outright. Only five members of the House were absent.

Those for and against the measure had sent workers from all parts of the State to Batan Rouge, and this force was augumented by the arrival here yesterday of a special train bearing almost 200 advocates of the bill from New Orleans. At each session of the Legislature since 1908, when gambling on horse races was abolished in Louisiana, there has been talk of introducing a bill to regulate and restore the sport. Four weeks ago the Reinhardt bill was introduced. At first it was not generally taken seriously. Its friends began to grow in numbers, however, until the whole State was aroused. The brief campaign for and against it was marked by three mass meetings in New Orleans, two for and one against it. Women's organizations opposed it and clergymen preached against it.

Those against the bill made no attempt to marshal their forces to win in the two preliminary votes, but waited until today, when a motion was made to advance it to third reading and passage.

The Rheinhart bill provided for the pari-mutuel system of betting and a State Commission to govern races.

BOARDERS AT SEA GATE.

Coney Island's Exclusive Colony Loses Court Fight.

By a unanimous decision of the Court of Appeals the Sea Gate Association, which for many years has ruled the resort at the western end of Coney Island, has lost its fight to exclude boarding houses from the restricted area, and Mrs. Helen W. Biggs and her attorney, Walter W. Irwin of 233 Broadway, have come out victorious.

The legal battle began three years ago after the Sea Gate Association had cut off the connections between the water and sewer mains and a house in Beach Fiftieth Street owned by Mrs. Biggs. The association had passed a resolution prohibiting the use of any building in Sea Gate as a boarding house, inn, or hotel. Mrs. Biggs obtained from Supreme Court Justice Kelly a permanent injunction restraining the association. The Appellate Division reversed Justice Kelly's decision, but the Court of Appeals sustains his ruling, holding that a boarding house was not an obnoxious, offensive, or dangerous business.

PINCHOT DEMANDS THAT PERKINS GO

Charges That Executive Chairman Is Friendly with the Trusts.

ROOSEVELT MUST DECIDE

First Big Row in Progressive National Councils Awaits Colonel's Return from Spain.

To Col. Theodore Roosevelt when he returns from Spain will fall the task of acting as arbiter in the first serious dissension within the national ranks of the Progressive Party. The row concerns no less a Bull Moose follower than George W. Perkins, Chairman of the National Executive Committee. An active movement to force Mr. Perkins from the Progressive councils is under way. The Colonel will be asked to decide. Should the decision be in favor of Mr. Perkins, some Bull Moose leaders assert, serious defections from the Progressive ranks may follow.

The opponents of Mr. Perkins have already placed their case in the Colonel's hands. The fight has progressed so far that the anti-Perkins men on the Progressive National Committee have begun to discuss a man to succeed him as Executive Chairman. In this connection United States Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington is prominently mentioned.

Among the leaders in the fight on Perkins is Amos R. Pinchot. Mr. Pinchot wrote a letter to Chairman Joseph M. Dixon of the Progressive National Committee on May 23 urging that the committee be summoned at once for the purpose of putting Mr. Perkins out. Mr. Pinchot said yesterday that Chairman Dixon had not even acknowledged receipt of his letter. Copies of the letter were sent simultaneously to all the National Committeemen.

A copy was submitted to Col. Roosevelt when he returned from Brazil. Shortly after Col. Roosevelt's arrival in this country, too, Mr. Pinchot had a long talk with him regarding Mr. Perkins. It is understood that the Colonel disagreed emphatically with the criticism voiced aginst the financier, but promised to take the matter up for consideration upon his return from Spain.

The general sentiment voiced in the Pinchot letter, it was said yesterday, was that Mr. Perkins was a dead load on the Progressive Party; that he was looked upon as a trust magnate and an advocate and defender of the trusts. Mr. Pinchot further is reported to have laid stress on the fact that even after becoming one of the Progressive leaders Mr. Perkins has retained his association with the Harvester Trust and other big corporations; that he has filled the Progressive publications with praise of himself, the late J. P. Morgan, and other trust magnates, and that he is actively scheming for an opportunity to become the spokesman for his pro-trust convictions in the United States Senate.

All this, Mr. Pinchot wrote, would have the effect of alienating workingmen and others out of sympathy with the trusts from the support of the Progressives.

"The letter was a confidential communication and I will not make its contents public," said Mr. Pinchot yesterday. "I cannot imagine how this information has leaked out."

At the office of Mr. Perkins, 71 Broadway, it was said yesterday that he was out of town and was not expected back until today.

SHAMROCK IV. BEATS LIPTON'S OLD YACHT

New Challenger Leads by 2 Minutes and 15 Seconds at End of Test Race.

DEFENDERS SAIL TODAY

Three American Sloops Towed from Sound to Lower Bay for Trial Races on Sandy Hook Cup Course.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PORTSMOUTH, England, June 9.—The America's Cup challenger Shamrock IV., accompanied by Shamrock III., had another trial spin today over a distance of thirty miles. The outward journey was to windward, and in that distance the challenger gained ten minutes on the old boat. On the homeward run the wind fell and there was little difference in the relative positions. Neither Sir Thomas Lipton nor Designer Nicholson was aboard the challenger.

Today's race was regarded as the first real speed test. Shamrock covered the thirty-mile course in 5 hours 46 minutes, fifteen minutes under the limit fixed for the actual races off Sandy Hook.

SHAMROCK IV. FAR IN LEAD.

Challenger Beats Old Shamrock 2 Minutes and 15 Seconds.

By The Associated Press.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 9.—The first actual racing test between Shamrock IV., Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's Cup, and his older Shamrock took place today over a thirty-mile course. Shamrock finished 2 minutes and 15 seconds, elapsed time, ahead of the other, but the difference by no means represents the full measure of the challnger's superiority.

While the wind held true, favoring both yachts equally, Shamrock IV. proved much the speedier craft, but nearing the finish, when she had a long lead, the wind almost deserted her, while the older boat, still holding a good breeze, rapidly closed the gap.

The course was from Hythe to Warner Lightship and return. At the start a light southeasterly breeze was blowing. It was a beat to the lightship, and in this windward work Shamrock IV. showed marked superiority over her rival, rounding the lightship with a lead of 9 minutes and 40 seconds.

The return journey involved both running and reaching, in each of which the challenger continued to increase her lead while holding a good wind, although her gain was not so great as in the windward work. At one period of the race, in covering a four-mile stretch with spinnaker set, the challenger gained nearly five minutes.

According to American measurement the Shamrock IV. gives the older Shamrock an allowance of 4 minutes 23 seconds over a thirty-mile course.

THREE DEFENDERS READY.

First Ocean Test Race to be Sailed on Cup Course Today.

With the tri-city sloop Defiance on hand for the first time, the America's Cup defense candidates will sail their first ocean race today over the regular cup course off Sandy Hook. The series will continue tomorrow and Friday, and the Regatta Committee will try to follow the regular programme of the Cup races, sending the boats off on a windward and leeward run the first and third days, and over a triangular route the second day. This, of course, depends upon the direction of the wind each day. The distance will be thirty miles and the races will start at 11 o'clock from the Ambrose Channel Lightship.

The committee will use the big steam yacht Vanadis, owned by C. K. G. Billings, while the tug Julia Moran will be sent over the course with buoys to mark the turns. Weather conditions will play a big part in these ocean races and the showing that each boat makes in the series will be closely watched by those who will later have to select a defender to race Lipton's new Shamrock.

It was officially announced yesterday that in the races held thus far under the auspices of the New York Yacht Club the flag officers' candidate, Resolute, had won two, and Vanitie, the yacht owned by Alexander Smith Cochran, had won one. Saturday's race off Larchmont, which was won by Vanitie, was not in the New York Yacht Club's series. Thursday's race, in which Vanitie lost two sailors overboard and withdrew, was awarded to Resolute for finishing half the distance. The score as the boats go to the line today is, accordingly: Resolute, 2; Vanitie, 1; Defiance, 0.

All three sloops were towed down the East River from the Sound yesterday with their topmasts lowered in order to clear the city's bridges. They were saluted all along the line. Vanitie, towed by her tender, City of Stamford, anchored for the night off the Atlantic Yacht Club dock in Gravesend Bay. Resolute, towed by her tender, Cape Cod, and Defiance, towed by a tug, continued out through the Narrows and came to rest in the shelter of the Horseshoe, off the Atlantic Highlands.

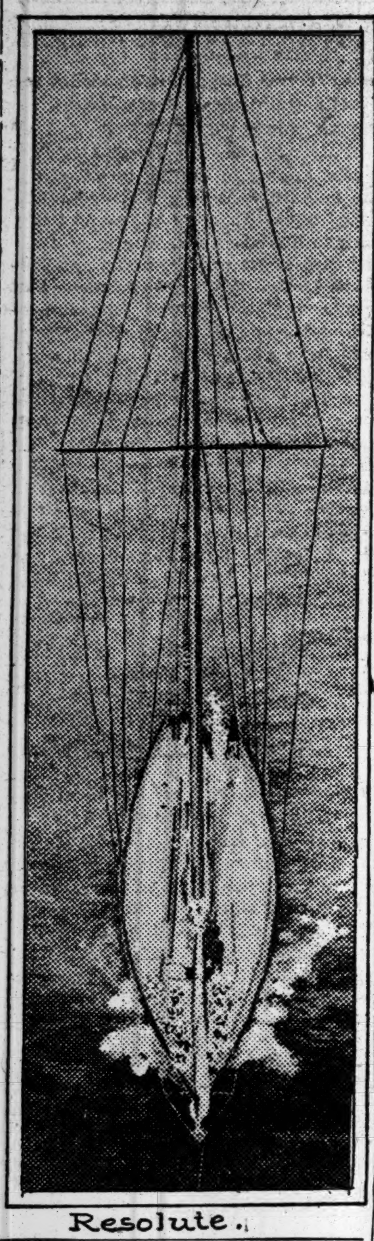
Although they had no chance to give her a trial spin, George M. Pynchon, E. Walter Clark, and the other owners of Defiance decided to enter today's contest as the best way of seeing what the boat was good for. They do not expect Defiance to do wonders the first day out. Defiance will be handicapped before the race starts. Vanitie will have to allow three minutes and fourteen seconds to Resolute in the thirty miles, and Defiance will probably allow about one minute.

Sir Thomas Lipton's announcement that he will not try to tow his latest challenger across the Atlantic was greeted with a sigh of relief yesterday by the members of the New York Yacht Club's Cup Committee. It relieved them of the embarrassment of calling attention to the clause in the deed of gift which requires that the challenging yacht must cross the ocean "on her own bottom," in other words, sail across. The committee had taken a firm stand on this point, but there was a good deal of speculation over what Lipton would do when the time came.

The first Shamrock that towed across did so by permission of the New York Yacht Club, after an accident to her mast which would have delayed her arrival. The club regarded this as a special concession that in no way altered the rule, but the next Shamrock challenger crossed in tow, evidently on the thery that a precedent had been estab- theory. To avoid a recurrence of this, the committee was prepared to enforce the rule to the letter in the case of the fourth Shamrock.

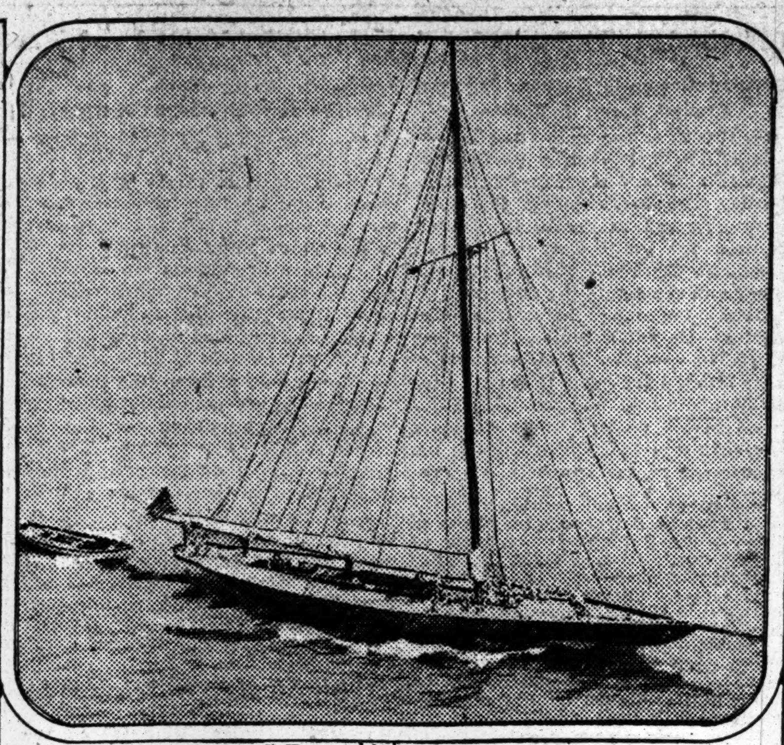
The owner's suggestion that his boat might sink in sailing across was taken as a joke by most yachtsmen. They declared that the challenger, sailing with a jury rig, would be under far less strain than if she were towed. "The American defense candidates with their racing sails set in the match off Sandy Hook today, will be under a much more severe strain than challenger will be crossing the Atlantic under a jury rig," declared one yachtsman.

Our Three America's Cup Defenders as Viewed from Aloft.

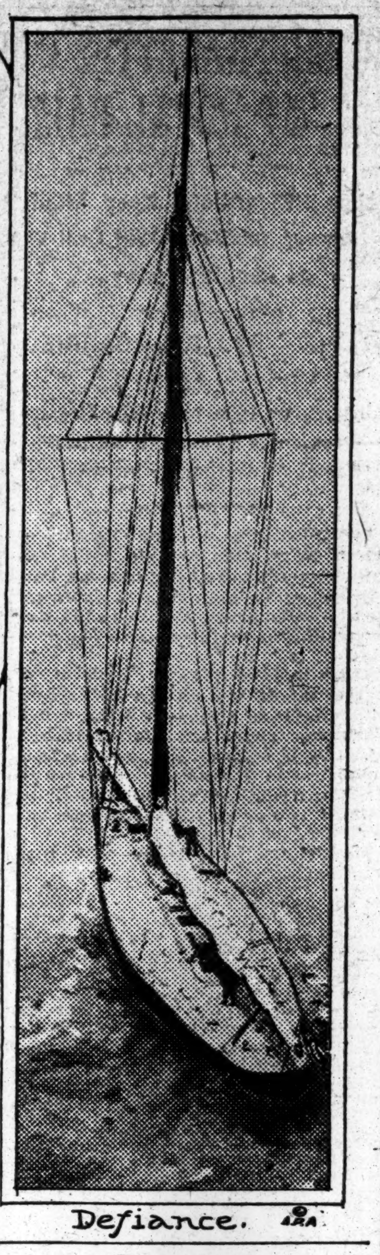


Resolute.

Viewed from the span of the Manhattan Bridge, the hulls of the three America's Cup defense sloops presented many striking contrasts as they passed on their way to Sandy Hook yesterday.



Photos UNDERWOOD UNDERWOOD. Vanitie



Defiance.

Resolute, Vanitie, and Defiance P hotographed from the Manhattan Bridge as They Passed Underneath.

The long slender curve that runs from stem to stern of the bronze-hulled yacht Vanitie marked her as the creation of one who has an eye for beauty as well as for the things that count for speed. A bird's-eye view of Vanitie's deck revealed a far more graceful hull than that of either Resolute or Defiance.

Defiance, the tri-city syndicate yacht, is distinguished by an extremely long sharp bow, which places her widest beam well aft. This characteristic is not so noticeable from the water, but looking down from the bridge it was instantly obvious. The view also furnished a good idea of the tremendous width of this boat's spreaders, which are approximately thirty feet from tip to tip, and project four feet beyond the deck line. The width is needed to give extra strength to the stays which brace the mainmast.

In the flag officer's candidate, Resolute, the most striking difference in the hull is the sawed-off stern—a feature which is even more marked in Shamrock IV. Both Herreshoff and Nicholson have disregarded beauty and cut their decks off sharp astern at a point where further overhang is deemed useless.

One thing noticeable about all three boats is the almost total lack of a rail. In Vanitie a five-inch extension of her hull plates above deck is all that protects the crew, while a light pole fastened down with cleats about half a foot inboard serves the purpose on Defiance.

When the boats towed down from the Sound, their topmast spars were lowered in order to clear the East River bridges. The 135-foot headway which is sufficient for the fighting masts of the biggest battleships could not be cleared with safety by the big racing sloops. It is said that Resolute, the smallest of the three, could have just squeezed through at low tide, but rather than take any chances, she as well as the others unstepped her topmast.

This spar in all three is of wood and extends about thirty feet above the mainmast. The mainmast in Vanitie and Resolute is of steel. Defiance carries a new one of hollow wood, which is eight feet shorter than the old one, but even so the topmast truck is said to be 145 feet above the water. Vanitie's topmast towers only a few feet less than that, while Resolute's is several feet shorter still.

An unusual thing about Vanitie's mainmast is that it is painted gray like the hull of a warship. Resolute's steel spar is painted to resemble wood.

SENATE SITS LATE TO PUSH TOLLS BILL

Hoke Smith Looks for Sixteen Majority if Amended to Reserve Canal Rights.

NO VOTE BEFORE WEEK-END

Tillman Says President Played Bad Politics in Raising Repeal Issue at This Time.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—In order to expedite the vote on the bill to repeal the tolls exemption clause in the Panama Canal act, the Senate leaders today determined upon a night session, which lasted till 10:45 P. M. The debate, which began at 8 P. M., was devoted to speeches by Senators McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota; James, Democrat, of Kentucky, and Thornton, Democrat, of Louisiana. All three favor the repeal bill.

Senator Hoke Smith, Democrat, of Georgia, said today that the bill would have a majority of 16 votes if amended in the manner proposed by adding a clause reserving all canal rights.

While the advocates of the bill are hoping day by day for a conclusion of the controversy, it it unlikely that the end will be reached before the latter part of the week, as Senator La Follette of Wisconsin is expected to make a lengthy speech, and it is probable that the several amendments to the bill will each produce considerable debate.

The night session was agreed upon today without protest except by Senators Reed of Missouri and Bristow of Kansas, but this is not accepted as an augury that night sessions can be held indefinitely without vigorous protest. Senator Simmons, who is in charge of the bill, is not anxious to force night sessions against the will of the minority, because several minority votes are required for the passage of the measure, and he has no desire to stir the resentment of these members.

The day was taken up with speech making. Senator William Alden Smith, Republican, of Michigan, completed a speech begun on Monday, and contended that the tolls repeal bill would never have been suggested by the Administration had it not been for the Mexican embroglio. He warned the Senate against taking so important a step as the repeal of the bill for the sake of temporary gain, arguing that while Huerta could live only the life of one man the repeal of the tolls exemption would stand as a perpetual annoyance to the United States. He charged that tolls repeal was advocated to obtain the friendship of England in an international situation which appeared to be acute.

"Then we have reached that point in national decadence where we buy peace?" inquired Senator Clapp.

"If we are not buying friendship," replied Senator Smith, "we are wasting our time in cultivating ill-will."

Senator Smith criticised Senator Root for favoring tolls repeal, saying the Senator had helped to prepare the first Hay-Pauncefote treaty which was "put to its death by overwhelming American indignation."

"I wish the Senator from New York were here, so that I might ask him if he approved of its death," Senator Smith added.

At that instant Senator Root entered the chamber and Senator Smith repeated his remark.

"I did approve of its death, because it did not afford the United States an opportunity for military protection of the canal," said Senator Root.

Senator Root added that while he was a member of the Cabinet at the time the treaty was submitted to the Senate, he had no knowledge of the treaty until it was sent to the Senate.

Senator Lewis, Democrat, of Illinois, said Senator Smith's statements were founded on fancy rather than fact, and that he could not believe Senator Smith intended his speech to be taken seriously.

"If the President makes blunders, let us all make blunders," said Senator Tillman, Democrat, of South Carolina, Chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, addressing his Democratic colleagues, "and stand shoulder to shoulder and fight it out on that line and go down together. This has been my policy and desire since the inauguration. But it does stagger my common sense, and I have been unable to understand just why he injected this fight into the party at this time. Until this issue was pressed to the front the course of the Democracy had been onward and upward. This is the first jolt or check it has received. This question was not a burning issue at the time he read his message. I must say that in my opinion it was a great blunder on the part of the President to have precipitated this fight now.

"It is of great importance to the Democratic Party to control the House at the next election, and I believe the President should have kept quiet until that election was over. It would have been the best statesmanship as well as good politics to have done so. Until this issue was pressed to the front the course of Democracy had been onward and upward. The opposition was hopeless and helpless. There was wisdom in silence, and it would have been golden."

Senator Tillman said that he would vote for the repeal, notwithstanding his objection to it, because he had been so directed by the State Convention of South Carolina, and he therefore felt himself absolved from his obligation to the Baltimore platform declaration in favor of tolls exemption.

Senator Burton of Ohio and Senator Gore of Oklahoma spoke briefly in support of the repeal bill.

At the night session Senator James revealed some of the strong feeling among Democratic Senators divided over the controversy. He made a particular attack upon the position of Senator O'Gorman, leader of the anti-repeal forces, saying that the New York Senator had been the valiant defender of the tolls plank of the platform, but had failed to be the champion of another plank just as important when opportunity offered.

From beginning to end the speech was filled with references that caused the Senate and the crowded galleries to laugh, and on several occasions the presiding officer had to demand order.

Senator James read a plank in the Baltimore platform declaring for publicity of recommendations for appointive Federal offices, explaining that the plank was inserted with the particular object of having the recommendations for Federal judgeships made public.

He said that Senator O'Gorman, as a member of the Judiciary Committee, had twice had an opportunity to show his advocacy of this plank by offering amendments to accomplish this end to bills before that committee creating new judicial districts.

Senator O'Gorman explained that on one occasion he had not been present when the question came up, and when the other bill was before the committee there was no discussion.

Senator James turned from Senator O'Gorman to Senator Vardaman, who recently spoke of the Democratic Party following the leadership of "Bryan and Root" in the tolls exemption fight.

"Everybody takes a lick at Bryan these days," he said with a smile, "but with every blow he grows in the love of the American people. Bryan and Root! Who is the distinguished Senator from Mississippi following in his position? Gallinger on one side and Smoot on the other, and in front Senator Boise Penrose of Pennsylvania!"

IMMIGRATION NEARS RECORD

1,038,956 Came in Ten Months, or 2,900 Every Weekday.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Immigrants arrived at American ports at the rate of more than 2,900 every week-day during the first ten months of the fiscal year of 1914, and indications are that by June 30, when the fiscal year ends, the greatest number of immigrants ever admitted during any year will have entered. Statistics of the Bureau of Immigration show that in April 119,885 were admitted and 1,038,956 in the ten months named. Should May and June arrivals equal the number admitted during those months in previous years, the 1914 total would be approximately 1,351,000 immigrants. The greatest number arriving in one year heretofore was 1,285,349 in 1907.

Immigrants from the South of Italy during the ten months numbered 220,123, while those from the North of Italy numbered 38,397. Hebrew immigrants were second in number, with 119,634, and Polish third, with 105,574. Other races were: Germans, 66,073; British, 42,705; Russian, 40,083; Croatian and Slavonian, 33,396; Ruthenian, 32,076; Scandinavian, 29,546; Japanese, 7,432, and Chinese, 2,012.

During the ten months 26,291 aliens were debarred for various reasons.

LONG SAULT CO. LOSES.

Repeal of Grant Legal, Although $750,000 Had Been Expended.

ALBANY, June 9.—The repeal by the 1913 Legislature of an act granting certain water rights along the St. Lawrence River to the Long Sault Development Company was today held by the Court of Appeals to be effective. Chief Judge Bartlett wrote the opinion. Judge Collins dissented.

In its appeal the company set forth that it had expended $750,000 in improving the property it obtained from the State.

The prevailing opinion says that the grant "virtually turns over to the corporation entire control of navigation at the Long Sault Rapids. All that the corporation must do is to construct the contemplated works, pay stipulated sums and keep navigation as good as it is now. No matter how much the interests of the public may demand the improvement thereof in the future, the State will be powerless to act either directly or by constraint upon the corporation."

Heat Kills Engineer at End of Run.

CAMDEN, N. J., June 9.—John H. Atkins, 28 years old, an engineer on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was overcome by heat last night. He drank ice water as a stimulant and stuck to his post until he brought his train safely from Ocean City. Then he was taken to his home, where he died early today.

JANE EST CONVICTED AS DISTURBER AGAIN

Gets Three Months for Interrupting Speaker at Meeting in Madison Square.

ACTS AS HER OWN LAWYER

Dr. Woelfkin's Plea from Calvary Baptist Trustees for Bouck White Presented to Court.

Jane Est, the former I. W. W. agitator who was arrested on Easter Sunday for disturbing the services in Dr. Parkhurst's church and sent to Blackwell's Island for thirty days, was arrested yesterday for disturbing a meeting of the Peace Forum conducted by Dr. Crosby in Madison Square and sentenced by Magistrate Campbell in the Essex Market Court to three months in the workhouse for disorderly conduct.

Frank Urban testified that he was addressing several hundred persons when Miss Est interrupted him. She asked him a question, and not satisfied with his answer, insisted on addressing the crowd on her own behalf. Patrolman Michael Jordan warned her that she must not cause a disturbance, but she insisted on speaking. Urban tried to stop her, and she struck at him, but the blows fell short. Jordan arrested her.

Miss Est at the East Twenty-second Street Station asked for food, which was supplied. She said she had no home and was a student of philosophy and sociology. In court she insisted on conducting her own defense. It was long, and consisted chiefly of a lecture on the rights of free-born American citizens.

"Is that all?" Magistrate Campbell asked.

"It is," replied the prisoner.

"Three months in the workhouse," was the only comment.

Miss Est said after the trial that a great injustice had been done her.

"I did not create any disturbance, and this is an outrage," she declared. "Magistrate Campbell sent me to the Workhouse when I tried to bring the Christian spirit into Parkhurst's church, and he remembered me. That is why he sentenced me for three months."

Jane Est had been repudiated by former associates and did not receive a single caller at the Jefferson Market Prison, where she was detained until sent to the Island today.

Miss Bertha Rembaugh, a lawyer, at 1 Broadway, read a letter to Judge Malone in Part II., General Sessions, from the Rev. Dr. Cornelius Woelfkin, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, in behalf of Bouck White, pastor of the Church of the Social Revolution. The letter stated that while the trustees agreed with Dr. Woelfkin that White was a sadly mistaken individual, there was a sentiment that he had been punished enough by the month already served in the Workhouse, and that the ends of justice would be served by his release.

Judge Malone referred Miss Rembaugh to Magistrate Campbell, who sentenced White, to obtain, if possible, his plea for clemency. Miss Rembaugh held a consultation with the Magistrate, at which it was understood she enlisted his sympathy. She also held a long conference with Assistant District Attorney Smith. The matter will be taken up again by Judge Malone this afternoon.

Alexander Berkman said last night that he expected to establish a permanent free-speech headquarters in a Tarrytown office and conduct a Summer campaign from this office.

QUINLAN MAKES A DENIAL.

Convicted Strike Leader Says He Has Not Disappeared.

Patrick Quinlan, the Paterson strike leader, whose sentence of two to seven years in the New Jersey Penitentiary was confirmed recently by the Supreme Court of New Jersey, sent this telegram to THE TIMES last night:

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The Trenton story in Saturday's TIMES that Quinlan, the strike leader of Paterson, has disappeared from New Jersey is untrue. Quinlan is a resident and voter of New Jersey. At present he is staying at the White Mountains under orders from his physician. The case will be carried to the Court of Appeals of New Jersey.

DIVORCE SUIT WON BY SCHUMANN-HEINK

Court Directs a Verdict and Clears the Name of the Singer.

SHE FORSWEARS MARRIAGE

"Never, Never Again," She Says—Is Glad of Vindication for the Sake of Children.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Judge Sullivan today instructed the jury to return a verdict granting a divorce to Mme. Schumann-Heink from her husband, William Rapp, Jr. The verdict, as dictated by Judge Sullivan and signed by each of the jury, was:

"We, the jury, find the issues for the complainant."

Mr. Rapp received the verdict with a slight smile. Mme. Schumann-Heink accepted her victory quietly, but her eyes were moist.

After the reading of the verdict Mr. Rapp's attorneys made a motion for a new trial. Judge Sullivan told the attorneys to appear before him within four days and he would set a day for a hearing on the motion.

In his instructions to the jury Judge Sullivan said in reference to the charges made against the singer by her husband:

"No evidence has been introduced which, with all its possible inferences and implications, would tend to prove that the complainant is other or has been other than a good wife to the defendant and a chaste and virtuous woman."

When the formalities of the court proceedings had ended Mme. Schumann-Heink said in reference to her victory:

"I am very glad that my name has been cleared for the sake of my children. I have come through the fire and I am not seared. Never, never will I marry again. There's no reason why I should and every reason why I should not.

"I am too busy with my work, which is everything to me—that and my children. My eight children—one of whom is my stepson, but who objects to being called anything but my real son—are my life outside of my singing. I just received word that I have a seventh grandchild—and I am very proud. The latest is the daughter of Hans Heink. Hans is 28 years old, a rancher at Lake Side, Cal.

"I sail for Europe on next Tuesday on the Vaterland. I was to have sailed today. I will miss a few of the first rehearsals, but that won't matter much.

"The attacks on my reputation were terrible, terrible. But now they have all been proved false, and I am glad for the sake of my children. Nobody who knows me believed for a moment any of the things said. My life has always been open. I have never concealed anything or tried to conceal anything.

"I never even pulled down the shades of the ground floor window at home. I say that anybody that wants to can look in—and see me eating soup, if he has any such desire. My home is always open. I have no 'secrets' in my life.

"I have a recognized position all over the world that would not be mine if there were any 'secrets' in my life. I have decorations from nine European Courts. I am received with honor everywhere. That would not be if I had not lived honestly."

Mr. Rapp refused to discuss his future plans. Mme. Schumann-Heink named Mrs. Catherine P. Deane of New York as co-respondent, and ardent letters which it was alleged were written by Mr. Rapp to Mrs. Deane aroused much interest in the court proceedings.

"Are you going to marry Mrs. Deane?" he was asked.

"The Illinois law makes that impossible for at least two years," Mr. Rapp replied.

GLYNN SIGNS FOUR BILLS.

One Appropriates $100,000 for Possible Militia Service in Mexico.

ALBANY, June 9.—Four minor appropriation bills were signed today by Gov. Glynn before he left here for New York to begin a speaking tour of a week. One measure permits the State Controller to negotiate a loan of $100,000 with which to place the National Guard on an active footing whenever, in the opinion of the Governor, such a move is advisable. This bill was passed when it appeared that the militia might be called upon for Mexican service.

Other bills signed provide for the interest on the highway improvement debt, $225,000; reappropriation of an unexpended balance of the highway fund, $1,045,000, and a contribution to the canal sinking fund, $2,277,255. The General Appropriation, Supply and Construction bills still are unsigned.

"MOVIES" MAN FINED $100.

Shusterman Admitted 14-Year-Old Girl to Vice Film Show.

Charged with admitting a fourteen-year-old girl into an Eighth Avenue moving picture show to see "the only white slave pictures on the avenue," Aaron Shusterman of 14 Dodge Avenue, Rockaway Beach, L. I., was fined $100 yesterday in the Court of Special Sessions.

Shusterman was arrested by an agent of the Children's Society, who said that the prisoner was acting as a "barker," and that he induced Mary Michaels into the theatre.

WON HER DIVORCE, BUT MAY LOSE IT

Husband Trailed Mrs. E. H. Glass to House Where She Lived with Georges Chretien.

PASSED AS ARTIST'S WIFE

Trapped in Raid, She Went to Europe and Final Decree May Be Refused to Her.

Affidavits filed in the Supreme Court yesterday accuse Georges Chretien, a wealthy artist, who is associated with Robert W. Chanler in the latter's studios at 147 East Nineteenth Street, with having lived with Mrs. Fannie Glass as his wife in the apartment house at 300 West Forty-ninth Street for six months, from October last until April 24 of this year.

The affidavits were presented to the court under an order issued by Justice Lehman and were in the shape of a supplemental answer to a suit begun by Mrs. Glass against Ernest H. Glass for divorce. Mrs. Glass won her suit on April 8, and two weeks later Mr. Glass thought he had found a means of preventing her from getting a final decree and of turning the tables on her.

Mr. Glass is a wealthy dealer and importer of table delicacies, with offices at 4 East Forty-sixth Street. Mrs. Glass named in her complaint Miss Blanche Matthieu, who is employed by Mr. Glass as bookkeeper and cashier. It came out in the evidence that Miss Matthieu had lived in the same apartment with Mr. Glass after Mrs. Glass left him. Mr. Glass said that Miss Matthieu was really his ward, having been left under his protection by her father, who had asked him to see that she was properly and comfortably provided for. When the jury returned a verdict against him Mr. Glass was greatly surprised, and he at once employed detectives to ascertain how and where Mrs. Glass had been living since she left him.

The detectives reported that they had traced Mrs. Glass to an apartment house at 300 West Forty-ninth Street, where she was known as Mrs. Georges Chretien, the name of the man who had leased an apartment there.

Mr. Glass organized a raiding squad that proceeded to the apartment house at midnight on April 22. Besides Mr. Glass this squad consisted of George V. Klein and F. C. Miller, friends of Mr. Glass, and two detectives. They entered the apartment and switched on the electric lights. The affidavits relate that Mr. Chretien and Mrs. Glass were found together there. Mr. Klein said in his affidavit:

"The said Georges Chretien got out of bed and struck Glass, the defendant. The woman, Fannie Glass, cried out in French, 'It is the police!' And the said Georges Chretien replied to her in the same language, 'Be quiet, it is not the police.'"

Next day, according to the affidavits, efforts were made to find Mr. Chretien, but it was learned that he had left the apartment with all of his belongings, and later it was found that he had sailed for Europe on the French Line steamer Rochambeau on April 25. Mrs. Glass sailed on the steamship France ten days later.

A. B. F. Hildreth, Superintendent of the West Forty-ninth Street house, made an affidavit in which he said that in October last a woman engaged an apartment and later a man came to inspect it. This man gave him a card on which was printed "Georges Chretien, Chanler Studios, 147 East Nineteenth Street." Mr. Chretien said he would take the apartment for six months, as it was the intention of himself and his wife to go to Europe in the Spring. Mr. Hildreth said the couple occupied the apartment together continuously from that date until April 24. Mr. Hildreth said that the woman had been identified by a detective as Mrs. Fannie Glass. He also said that on April 23, the day before the apartment was vacated, the woman told him that she was not Mrs. Georges Chretien, but that her name was Fannie Passeron, which was Mrs. Glass's maiden name.

Unless Mrs. Glass appears to make application for a final decree of divorce the proceedings will be annulled and Mr. Glass will be permitted to bring a counter suit for a divorce.

Comparisons are odious but

¶ If a great many New Yorkers did not make comparisons there would be fewer well-dressed men in Metropolitan circles and a far lighter volume of business for Saks clothes.

¶ Men who have compared Saks clothes with others have found them so incomparably better as to defy comparison.

¶ There is something in a Saks garment which is totally different from the hackneyed, commonplace creations of the town.

¶ Not necessarily better in fabric, price for price, but cut on cleaner, smarter lines, and by deft strokes of artistry in the lie of a lapel or the attenuation of a sleeve, lifted surely above the ruck and rut of dry rot and routine.

BLOODSHED FIRES ITALIAN STRIKERS

General Walkout Gains Headway and Rioting Is Increasing.

FIERCE FIGHTING IN ROME

Many Hurt in Collision Between Marchers and Troops—Striker Killed in Florence.

ROME, June 9.—The general strike proclaimed yesterday as a protest against the repressive measures taken by the Government in connection with a demonstration at Ancona on Sunday, when several men were shot down, is spreading and gaining in intensity. The resentment of the workmen has been fanned by the killing of another striker in Florence today.

The Government views the movement with anxiety, as it is believed to be supported not only by the Socialists, but by the Radical party, which is anxious to embarrass the Salandra Ministry. The Premier was subjected to strong criticism in the Chamber for prohibiting anti-militarist meetings on June 1. In reply, he said that there had been no trouble except at Ancona, and that none regretted more than he the loss of life. He said that the policeman who fired the fatal shots would be prosecuted, but he pointed out that, according to the report of the officials sent to make an investigation, the police at the time of the shooting were surrounded by rioters and only fired when several of them had been struck down by bricks.

In Rome tonight a thousand strikers tried to march to the Quirinal, and came into violent contact with the troops and police, who fired nine volleys in the air before the mob gave way. A large number of soldiers and strikers were injured. The strikers attempted to reform their shattered ranks, and another fierce engagement with the police took place before they were dispersed.

In the cities where the strike was in force no newspapers were published.

From many parts of Italy come reports of disorders.

In Genoa the strikers compelled the storekeepers to close their places of business.

In Turin rioters seized two wagon loads of tobacco belonging to the State and threw several cases of cigarettes through the window of a café and burned the rest of the tobacco before cavalry dispersed them. In Venice several clashes occurred between strikers and police, one of the latter being seriously injured.

After forcing all the stores to close, bands of strikers at Bergamo smashed the windows of cars and made the railroad employes return to the car sheds.

Strikers at Ancona tore up the railroad tracks for a short distance outside the city, but the Army Engineer Corps quickly repaired the damage. It is supposed the workmen intended to prevent reinforcements of troops reaching there quickly.

MILAN, Italy, June 9.—Serious disorders have occurred here as a result of the general strike. All the stores are closed and both newspapers and street cars have suspended.

At the close of a meeting attended by 5,000 persons this evening strikers and their followers armed themselves with bricks and fell upon the police, who fled. A squadron of cavalry dispersed the rioters after a sharp fight. The strikers reformed their ranks and attacked a detachment of carabineers, whom they scattered. They then captured a wagon loaded with cans of gasoline, to which they touched a match. A terrific explosion followed, causing a panic.

Later the manifestants attacked the police and reinforcements came to the rescue, revolvers being emptied into the mob. A large number of persons were wounded, including Signor Mussolini, editor of Avanti. More than a hundred arrests were made.

AMERICANS DESERT ITALY.

Strike Drives Many Tourists to Resorts in Switzerland.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, June 9.—The express trains from Italy are crowded with American and English visitors, as the result of the general strike. Among the travelers are two young Americans who were seriously injured in Milan when they became mixed in a crowd which was attacking the police.

The hotels at Lugano and Lucerne are booking room by scores for Americans who telegraph for them from Italy.

No Italian papers arrived here today.

WORK STOPPED IN CITIES.

General Strike Effective—Fighting Attends Municipal Elections.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, June 9.—Work has ceased in Rome, Florence, Milan, Genoa, and nearly all the large towns, hardly any newspapers appearing. Fierce rioting occurred here tonight and many combatants were injured.

Disorders have also attended some municipal elections. At Ruvo in Apulia shots were freely exchanged by Progressives and Moderates.

One woman was shot dead and sixty persons had bullet wounds dressed in the hospitals and pharmacies. At Limatola, in the Province of Benevento, electors stormed the Town Hall at 2 o'clock in the morning, and, after destroying the voting lists and the city archives and smashing the furniture, set fire to the building. Some carabinieri and a number of municipal servants sleeping in the upper stories narrowly escaped being burned alive. It was late in the afternoon before the flames were subdued.

HAD $6,000,000 FAKE STOCK.

But Wilmart Only Issued $3,440,000, His Counsel Pleads.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BRUSSELS, June 9.—Counsel for Nestor Wilmart, the financier and sportsman, who is on trial for issuing bogus stock of the Ghent-Terneuzen Railway, made an ingenious attempt today to explain to what disinterested uses the stock was put.

He said that though false shares for $6,000,000 were printed only $3,440,000 worth were issued. The greater part of this sum was used by his client in the interests of the railway company, Wilmart only appropriating $240,000 for himself. Counsel argued that this amount represented money owed to Wilmart by the company in the shape of Directors' fees which had been unpaid since 1900.

On this point, however, he was contradicted by the examining Magistrate, who further pointed out that between 1900 and 1912 Wilmart spent more than twice the amount of his legitimate personal income.

The trial was adjourned.

The Ministerial declaration to be read in the Chamber of Deputies on Friday has already been drafted. It insists upon the rigid application of the three years' military service law, but does not bar the consideration of a system of military preparation in youth, and better organization of the reserves.

The Cabinet will ask the Chamber to authorize the issue of a large loan and will announce the introduction of a bill taxing fortunes in 1915. It will seek to arrive at a compromise with the Senate on proportional representation, will maintain the non-sectarian character of the public schools, and introduce reforms directed at bettering the lot of the working classes.

PLAN CONGRESS ON CREDITS

Commercial Congress Delegates Want Laws of Nations Unified.

PARIS, June 9.—At the resumed sittings of the International Congress of Chambers of Commerce and Commercial and Industrial Associations today a motion was adopted in favor of an international conference with the object of reaching an agreement in regard to the unification of legislation relating to warrants so as to facilitate, extend, and provide better guarantees for credit on merchandise.

In the course of several addresses on the subject it was declared that the question was complicated because of the essential differences in the laws of Great Britain, the United States, Germany, France, Russia, and other great trading countries. These, it was pointed out, could only be adjusted by fresh legislation in all the countries concerned.

Postal checks was another question dealt with by the congress, and it was decided that it should be fully considered at the next congress, when an attempt would be made to place international payments upon the most solid basis. It was decided that besides the postal check system the discussion should take into account note-issuing banks and their relation to payments by citizens of one country to those of another.

A resolution was adopted that an international bureau similar to the International Postal Bureau should be organized to facilitate relations between Governmental banks and between Government banks and private institutions.

Won't Assist British Exhibitors.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, June 9.—The Government having refused to participate officially in the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the Board of Trade has now declined to make a grant to the British Committee toward the expenses of an exhibit.

NO SUFFRAGETTES AT ROYAL BALL

Police Precautions Keep Them Away, but They Will Call on Asquith Today.

SYLVIA TO BE CARRIED

Militant Headquarters Raided Again—Woman at Birmingham Chops Famous Painting by Romney.

LONDON, June 9.—King George and Queen Mary were able to enjoy the brilliant state ball at Buckingham Palace tonight as there was no interruption by suffragettes, thanks to the rigorous police precautions which had been taken.

There is every prospect, however, of a renewal of the oft-repeated scenes at Westminster tomorrow, when Sylvia Pankhurst and other militant leaders will march with a bodyguard of their supporters to demand an interview with Premier Asquith. This will certainly be refused. A great force of police has been detailed to keep order.

Miss Pankhurst's friends have tried hard to dissuade her from joining in the procession, fearing too great a strain on her overtaxed health. At the meeting at which the names of the deputation were being chosen, nearly the whole gathering rose when Sylvia's name was called, shouting, "No, she can't stand it; she will die on the way!" Miss Pankhurst protested that nothing would deter her, and it was decided that she should be carried shoulder-high in the procession.

The constant raids by the police on the Women's Social and Political Union headquarters are disconcerting to the militants, who are compelled to seek new offices, as the police retain possession of the raided premises. Today the police made a descent on a place in Westminster where, since the closing of the offices in Kingsway early in May, the women had established new headquarters, and succeeded in collecting there a quantity of documents, books, and letters. After being searched the occupants of the offices were ejected. No arrests were made. It is understood that all important documents are kept at the private residences of the members of the union.

In the city of London women selling the militant organ Suffragette were hustled and mobbed and were obliged to escape in taxicabs.

At Birmingham today a militant suffragette vandal armed with a butcher's cleaver destroyed a "Portrait of a Boy," by George Romney, in the Birmingham Art Gallery. When arrested she gave the name of Miss Ryland.

Stringent precautions are being taken to guard against suffragette interference in the Garter procession from Windsor Castle to St. George's Chapel next Saturday. All applicants for tickets are obliged to give a guarantee that they are not connected with the suffragette movement.

G. B. SHAW ON MILITANTS.

Will Get the Vote After There Have Been a Few Hangings, He Says.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, June 9.—George Bernard Shaw, contributing his opinion to The Evening Standard's symposium on the treatment of the suffragettes, says:

"As we have neither conviction enough to dare to starve the militants to death nor common sense enough to pledge ourselves to the inevitable reform, there is nothing to be done but wait until the women provoke a mob to lynch them and the Government hangs a satisfactory number of the mob in expiation. Then the women will get their votes after the last inch of mischief and suffering has been squeezed out of a situation which several civilized and reasonable countries already have disposed of without the slightest trouble. That is England all over."

Sir Frederick Treves says:

"If these people attempt to commit suicide they ought to be prevented by every possible means. I do not think you can actually stand by and see them starve, but the methods adopted with lunatics should be applied in their case. If a lunatic won't take food he is forced to do so. If suffragettes hunger-strike, they should be fed forcibly."

Say Palace Intruder Was Geo. Pike.

OAKLAND, Cal., June 9.—It was not Harry Pike, but his brother George, a machinist's helper, who gained entrance to the royal apartments in Buckingham Palace, London, Sunday night, according to J. D. Oakley, Superintendent of an Alameda County ranch, who is a friend of the Pike family. Harry Pike, he said today, was an officer in the British naval reserve. Mrs. Helen Pike, wife of George, is employed here as a housekeeper. She said she left her husband about a year ago.

Embassy Voted by Argentine Senate

BUENOS AIRES, June 9.—The Senate unanimously adopted today the measure introduced by the Government for the elevation to an embassy of the Argentine Legation at Washington. This is in keeping with the action of the United States Government for the elevation to an embassy of the American Legation at Buenos Aires.

DENOUNCES "THE MIRACLE."

German Dramatic Authors' Counsel Creates Scene in Theatre.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, June 9.—After the first act of last night's performance of Reinhardt's "Miracle," now in the midst of a long run in Berlin, Dr. Dinter, counsel for the Society of German Dramatic Authors, stood up in the stalls and shouted to the audience:

"As a Catholic, I herewith protest against this public profanation of the Christian religion. I deeply regret that things have come to such a pass in Germany that we must permit our most sacred feelings to be wantonly outraged and that Christians are too indifferent or too cowardly to protest."

According to one version, Dinter said, "It's an outrage that we have to tolerate these things at the hands of Jews," the reference being to Reinhardt's religion.

The huge audience received Dinter's outburst in silence, whereupon he gave himself up to the police.

The Executive Committee of the Authors Society met today, condemned their official's action, and decided to have him examined by a brain specialist.

SERENADE MR. PAGE.

700 Salvationists March to Embassy with Bands and Banners.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, June 9.—The American delegation to the Salvation Army Congress, 700 strong, with banners waving and two bands blaring, paraded from Victoria Street to the embassy today, for the purpose of calling upon Ambassador Page.

They threw a scare into the embassy staff, as the premises were not built to hold 700 visitors simultaneously. However, the main body of the Salvationists contented itself with an open-air reception in the street. Ambassador Page, ensconced in an office window, bowed a dignified Ambassadorial welcome and resisted the tempting opportunity to make a speech.

Afterward a select committee of twenty-five ranking officers, headed by Eva Booth, was admitted into Mr. Page's sanctum, where he welcomed it with a "few well-chosen words," while the massed bands turned loose patriotic airs.

The Salvationists, whose smart uniforms and red cowboy hats attracted much attention, were cheered by the crowds as they marched through the streets.

SAYS GOLF IS HARMFUL.

Eton Headmaster Also Calls Bridge a National Danger.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, June 9.—Dr. Lyttelton, head master of Eton, at a meeting in support of the "Duty and Discipline Movement" at Lansdowne House, said that golf, on which this country spent $70,000 yearly, did a grave social harm, because the players insisted upon having caddies at all hours, and thus created a "blind alley" occupation.

Bridge, too, he described as a grave national danger. Any game, he said, was a menace that kept Cambridge undergraduates abed on Sunday and other mornings and throughout the whole day in rooms full of tobacco smoke, when they ought to be out in the sunshine.

HIGH PRICES FOR JEWELS.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, June 9.—Jewels fetched big prices at Christie's today.

A double brilliant and pearl necklace went for $15,000, a necklace of fifty-one pearls with a brilliant snap for $8,500, an emerald and brilliant collar for $9,250, and an emerald and brilliant pendant for $7,250.

EHRLICH'S ACCUSER LOSES.

Frankfort Editor Gets a Year in Prison for Salvarsan Charges.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, June 9.—Wassmann, the Frankfort-on-Main editor, on trial for criminal slander in the salvarsan case, was convicted today and sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

The court, in pronouncing sentence, said the prisoner had failed entirely to establish the charge that Prof. Ehrlich and the manufacturers of his specific had resorted to illicit practices for the purpose of marketing the cure.

One of the gravest counts on which Wassmann was indicted was that the City Hospital of Frankfort, in conjunction with Prof. Ehrlich, applied salvarsan to women patients against the latter's will, with fatal results in several cases. Prof. Ehrlich's testimony included the statement that if salvarsan were to be condemned because it caused some deaths, all medicine might be held to be criminal practice.

RUSH TO JOIN IRISH ARMY.

Redmond Denies Volunteers Are Hostile to Nationalist Party.

DUBLIN, June 9.—John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, issued a statement to-night in which he denies emphatically the reports that the Irish volunteer movement is hostile to the objects of the Irish Party, and adds:

"Up to two months ago I felt that the volunteer movement was somewhat premature, but the effect of Sir Edward Carson's threats upon public opinion in England, the House of Commons and the Government, and the occurrence at Curragh Camp and successful gun-running in Ulster virtually altered the position, and the Irish Party took steps about six weeks ago to inform their friends and supporters that in their opinion it was desirable to support the volunteer movement.

"As a result, it has spread within the last six weeks like a prairie fire, and all the Nationalists in Ireland shortly will be enrolled."

LONDON, June 9.—John Redmond's action in giving the official countenance of his party to the Nationalist volunteer movement is regarded as likely to introduce a new danger in the Ulster situation. Mr. Redmond proposes that the existing self-selected committee of the volunteers should be strengthened by the addition of twenty-five representatives of the Irish Party.

The volunteers are said to number 120,000 at present, but they are not so well armed and drilled as the Ulster volunteers, their organization on a military basis having only begun recently. Further they are hampered by lack of money and difficulty in finding officers willing to train them.

PLUME DEALERS PROTEST.

International Congress Wants Laws Affecting the Industry Repealed.

PARIS, June 9.—Called to defend their industry against what is termed legislative destruction on the part of bird protectors, the International Congress of Plume Dealers met here today, the deliberations to extend over a period of several days. Besides the French representatives delegates came from Germany, England, Austria, Belgium, Holland and Spain.

Edmond Morin, Vice President of the French Association of Feather Merchants and Manufacturers, outlined the international situation with regard to the feather industry. He told the delegates that what must be obtained was the repeal of that section of the United States tariff act prohibiting the importation of plumes, the nullification of the decree recently promulgated in Canada, and also the prevention of proposed legislation in Great Britain.

It was not true, M. Morin said, that their business tended to destroy species. On the contrary, they had the greatest interest in keeping the birds multiplying in domesticity if threatened in wild life. He cited various examples where this method was employed, and pointed out that Austria obtained at the present time 95 per cent. of her plume requirements from domestic birds, while fifty years ago 85 per cent. were derived from wild life.

This, which is his first, prize was awarded for a picture entitled "Girl in a Cloak and Hat."

Mr. Pushman's picture is a nude study in the modern style.

The operation was necessary because cancer had developed owing to the action of X-rays, which had penetrated through the special gloves now used by X-ray manipulators. The gloves were found to be defective on examination.

WASTE

It will never fully be known how much failure in the world is due to waste — waste of money and waste of time.

Many a good building proposition has turned out unprofitable because too much money was spent and too much time was lost in building it.

BROKERS ARRESTED; 6,550 SHARES GONE

W. B. Hotchkin and J. S. Stoppani Accused by Creditor as Inquiry Is Going On.

THREE ACCOUNTS FOR FIRM

Chief Clerk Says Partners Speculated and He Never Struck Balance in Thirteen Years.

Two of the clerks employed by the bankrupt stock brokerage house of Stoppani & Hotchkin who were examined last night at 149 Broadway by Leon Lauterstein, attorney for the assignee, gave testimony that there were 6,550 shares of the approximate value of $300,000 missing, and that one of the accounts about which there had been much inquiry, No. 30, was a speculative account of the firm. The creditors will be asked to meet A. S. Gilbert, the assignee, at the Broadway Central Hotel next Tuesday, and it is expected that he will report to them there is only between $120 and $1,500 to be divided among them.

Earlier in the day Col. Walter B. Hotchkin and Joseph S. Stoppani, the members of the firm, were arrested on a charge of grand larceny, and were arraigned in the Butler Street Court in Brooklyn. The complaint was made by John F. Smith of 141 North Third Street, Greenpoint, who deposited with the firm on May 1 two Steel bonds and a check for $3,000 to purchase thirty Steel shares and thirty B. R. T. This was one of the accounts investigated at the examination of the clerks, and it was asserted then that Smith had nothing to show for his investment. Magistrate Voorhees held the stock brokers in $2,000 bail each for a hearing on June 18.

Wolfgang Walter, chief clerk of the firm, was the first to be questioned. He had been in charge of the books for thirteen years, but said that he had never struck a balance and had never known whether the firm was making or losing money. He admitted that there were 6,550 shares of the value of about $300,000 missing, which he could not account for, and under strong pressure at length said that he imagined Account No. 30 was a speculative account of the firm.

Walter was asked especially about three accounts. John Maggiolo, it appeared, had deposited some stock with the firm, which was sold for a profit of $895.02, but neither securities nor credit, it was stated, were to be found to account for them. Then there was the John F. Smith account and another in the name of George A. Williams. On April 7 he had deposited a check to purchase ten shares of Havana Electric. The shares, it appeared, were bought from a curb broker named Hall, but there was nothing, according to Walter's testimony, to show the stock had been delivered or that Williams's money was used to pay for them.

Benjamin Morris, loan clerk, then asked to be permitted to correct his testimony. He said that Account No. 30, like No. 10 and No. 20, was a private account of the firm. The speculation in connection with it, he asserted, was done on the order of either Stoppani or Hotchkin, and he was permitted to use his discretion as to which account he should post the entries in.

Asked which of the two members did most of the ordering for the speculative accounts, he said that Stoppani generally gave the orders, and that Hotchkin did not seem to do much in the office. Hotchkin went on the floor of the Exchange in the morning and returned later for only a short time.

Morris will be examined again on Thursday evening, June 18, and Walter next Tuesday afternoon.

B. & M. BILLS OUTLINED.

Both Provide for State Acquisition, but One Carries a Referendum.

BOSTON, June 9.—Two bills to separate the Boston & Maine and the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad were outlined at a hearing before the Legislative Committee on Railroads today by Joseph Walker of Brookline, ex-Speaker of the House, and now Chairman of the Progressive Party's Legislative Committee.

Both measures have been approved by party leaders. One carries a referendum clause and gives the State the option of purchasing the Boston & Maine stock now held for the New Haven by the Boston Railroad Holding Company at a price to be approved by the Governor and the Executive Council. The other bill, which has no referendum provision, authorizes the transfer to the State of the Boston & Maine stock under such regulations as the Public Service Commission may deem proper to protect the interests of both Commonwealth and stockholders.

Representative Washburn of Worcester, a member of the committee, declared the only thing for the committee to do was to report a bill with two qualifications, namely, to let the New Haven dispose of the securities held for it by the Boston Railroad Holding Company and for the State to retain for the present at least the right to buy.

Cheaper and Better Lights for City.

Water Commissioner Williams announced yesterday that he had reached an agreement with the New York Edison Company whereby the city is to obtain electric current for the larger city buildings in Manhattan at a lower rate than heretofore. Just how much the city is to save the Commissioner said had not yet been figured out. It was also arranged that the electric light companies throughout the city should supply street and park incandescent electric lamps of an intensity greater by 50 per cent. than heretofore without additional cost. The increased illuminating power will be equivalent to about 700,000 candles.

PEACE FOR ROADS IN RATE DECISION

Ends Conflict Between State and Federal Jurisdiction, Says Samuel Untermyer.

F. L. STETSON DEPLORES IT

Confers Too Much Power on the Interstate Commerce Commission, in His Opinion.

With the terms of the Shreveport decision more fully known, railroad men who were in New York yesterday found in it a good deal of satisfaction as promising them more freedom in future from State interference with rates regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Though few were willing to be quoted on the Supreme Court's findings, they made no secret of the fact that they regarded the Shreveport case as a promise of better times.

Francis Lynde Stetson of Stetson, Jennings & Russell said that as an advocate of State rights he regretted that the Supreme Court had found it necessary to increase further the powers of the Federal Government at the expense of the State authorities.

"I am a heretic among railroad men in the viws I hold of the Shreveport case," said Mr. Stetson, "for I am sorry to see the Interstate Commerce Commission's power increased to this extent. As one of the counsel for the Northern Pacific in the Minnesota rate case I told Judge Bond, who argued the case, that I hoped he would win on the point of unreasonablesness, but not on the question of jurisdiction.

"I do not believe that the writers of our Constitution contemplated such a broadening of the central power. The decision is a logical one, but for the welfare of the country I wish it had been in favor of the State. I told the Hadley Securities Commission that rather than see full power over all rates given to the Interstate Commerce Commission I would almost favor keeping each railroad within one State and transferring traffic at the borders.

"One valuable lesson of the decision is to emphasize a suggestion I have made before, that the country should be divided into circuits or districts, with Commissioners for each district and the right of appeal to the Commerce Board at Washington. The commission will be overwhelmed with work, and it cannot arrive at a sympathetic view that would be gained by a local body."

Samuel Untermyer made this brief comment:

"I regard the decision as of far-reaching importance and as a long step in the direction of effective Government control. The conflicting jurisdictions of Federal and State Commissions was intolerable and unworkable. The decision ought to add vastly to the stability of corporate securities."

L. D. Smith, Vice President of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, said:

"I think the decision is one of value to both shippers and railroads. It will prevent individual State Commissions from arbitrarily making rates in favor of towns and sections under their jurisdiction and discriminatory toward adjacent towns which happen to be just over the line in some other State. It will tend to curb indiscriminate rate-making tendencies by State Commissions, and as such is a step forward and in the right direction for general business as well as the railroads."

A. E. ORR LEFT $5,000,000.

Bulk of Estate Goes to Children and Grandchildren.

The will of Alexander Ector Orr, merchant, banker and Chairman of the old Rapid Transit Board, who died on June 3 at his home, 102 Remsen Street, Brooklyn, was filed yesterday in that borough. Mr. Orr left an estate estimated at $5,000,000. The bulk of it is bequeathed to his children and grandchildren. The testator's wife died on July 6, 1913, and her share went to the family. Had she lived she would have received $200,000 outright and the income from two-sevenths of the residue of the estate.

The chief beneficiaries under the will are Mr. Orr's three daughters, Mrs. Jane Dows Nies, wife of the Rev. James B. Nies; Miss Mary Moore Orr, Mrs. Julien Ector Munsell, wife of Albert E. Munsell of Boston, and Mrs. Munsell's four children. These beneficiaries receive four-fifths of the estate. Each one of the testator's daughters receives $200,000 outright and a similar amount is left to be divided equally among the children of Mrs. Munsell.

The income of the estate is to be left in trust for the daughters and grandchildren of Mr. Orr. Each of the daughters, with the exception of Mrs. Munsell, is to receive the income of one-seventh of the residuary estate; Mrs. Munsell gets two-sevenths, and in addition to the income of one-seventh to be divided among the grandchildren, they will receive the income of the two-sevenths that was to be part of Mrs. Orr's share of her husband's estate.

Other bequests give various amounts to relatives of Mr. Orr, and friends and servants in his household. Mrs. Margaret E. Munn, his sister, and her husband, Alexander Munn of 277 Union Street, receive $75,000 jointly. To their daughter Mary is left $5,000.

Ever Realize

That the greatest joy of living depends on freedom from aches and pains and worries?

Also, that perfect health depends largely on the proper selection of good, nourishing food.

The ordinary diet is often heavy and indigestible, or lacks certain essential elements. It's a wise plan—especially in summer time—to drop out heavy, rich foods and take on a simple, nourishing, easily digested food, such as—

Grape-Nuts

Made of prime whole wheat and barley, Grape-Nuts retains all the rich nourishment of these grains, including the mineral salts so often lacking in ordinary food, but which Nature must have to build perfect bodies—brains and nerves.

Grape-Nuts digests easily and quickly—generally in about one hour.

Ready to eat from the package, fresh, crisp, appetizing—

A regular ration of Grape-Nuts as the cereal part of meals will show—

UNGER'S WORD MAY FREE SCHWITOFSKY

Lawyer Tells Parole Board Dale Sought to "Frame" a Case Against a Prisoner.

OTHERS HEARD CONFESSION

Tombs Warden Reads Record of Police Attempt to Have Victim Falsely Identified.

Voluntarily and without previous announcement, Albert B. Unger, of Levy & Unger, 115 Broadway, formerly managing attorney for the firm of O'Gorman, Battle & Marshall, entered the Schwitofsky case yesterday and gave testimony tending to establish the truth of Schwitofsky's story that the twenty-year prison sentence which he is serving was the result of perjury on the part of Theodore B. Dale, the ladies' tailor, whose evidence was important toward Schwitofsky's conviction.

The second day's session of the Board of Parole to determine the value of Alfred Schwitofsky's charge that he is an innocent victim of police persecution, opened yesterday with Superintendent of Prisons John B. Riley, presiding. The cross-examination of Schwitofsky, who finished his story Monday afternoon, was postponed, and Samuel Untermyer, who with Assemblyman Mark Eisner, is giving his services in Schwitofsky's behalf, was allowed to call his next witness.

Before Mr. Unger took the stand, Mr. Untermyer called John J. Hanley, Warden of the Tombs Prison. On Monday Schwitofsky told of the failure of Detective William W. Duggan to have him falsely identified as a burglar in the Tombs in 1908, and Warden Hanley was called to corroborate this part of Schwitofsky's story. The Warden gave no testimony regarding the 1908 identification from memory, but read an entry he had made on the occasion in the identification book of the Tombs.

According to Warden Hanley's record, Schwitofsky was a prisoner in 1908 under the name of Gerber, by which name he had become known in business, because his right name was difficult to pronounce. The police accused Schwitofsky of burglary, and Detectives Duggan and Kinsler brought five women and one man to the Tombs to identify him as having been seen unlawfully in their homes. According to the Warden's record, Schwitofsky was lined up in the prison with a number of other prisoners and the six persons were brought in singly. The man and the first four women failed to pick him out.

The last person brought in was a Mrs. Adele Carpenter. According to the Warden's record, she looked over the line of prisoners and then picked out an Italian named Jovine. After speaking with Detective Duggan, however, the woman turned again and pointed to Schwitofsky. Warden Hanley refused to acknowledge this identification as proper, and made a record of his refusal in the book from which he read yesterday.

This record corresponded with Schwitofsky's story of Monday.

Albert B. Unger's testimony consisted almost entirely of a statement which he said he made after assuring himself that doing so was consistent with professional ethics. In 1911, he said, while he was managing attorney for O'Gorman, Battle & Marshall, Theodore B. Dale was arrested and charged with a vile offense, the complainant against him being one Jack Young, a youth of 17 years. Dale had had business with Mr. Unger's firm and Mr. Unger took charge of the case. The man denied his guilt, Mr. Unger said, and expressed a desire to have charges of assault and burglary preferred against the complainant Young.

"This fellow Young is trying to blackmail me," Mr. Unger quoted Dale as saying, "and I'll have him sent up. Once before I sent a fellow up for twenty years for the same thing."

Mr. Unger said that he investigated Dale's case before it came to trial and concluded that the man was guilty of the charges against him and was making false charges against Young to save himself. He therefore withdrew from the case. Dale committed suicide on the day on which he was to appear for trial.

Mr. Unger said the Dale incident had passed out of his memory until Monday afternoon, when he read in newspapers of the Schwitofsky hearing. He was of the opinion, he said, that Dale had referred to Schwitofsky when he said he had "sent a fellow up for twenty years."

The significance of Mr. Unger's testimony lay chiefly in the fact that Gelsky, who was said to have been an accomplice of Schwitofsky, charged Dale with the same offenses in 1911 that Jack Young accused him of in 1912, and that both Gelsky and Schwitofsky suffered imprisonment on the same charges that Dale had made against Young.

"It was perfectly apparent to me," Mr. Unger said, "that Dale was willing to frame up Young, and, if the facts in Schwitofsky's case are similar to those in Young's case, any reasonable man might infer that Schwitofsky was framed up."

Dr. Herman F. Nordeman, a physician of 65 West West Forty-fifth Street, and a young woman formerly the stenographer of Bernard H. Sandler, Dale's counsel at the time of his suicide, told of the confessions Dale made in the week before his death, that he had "framed up" Schwitofsky. As Mr. Sandler and others had said Monday, both admitted that from things Dale had said to them they gathered that his testimony against Schwitofsky had been false

Mr. Delehanty, for the State, recalled Schwitofsky to the stand. He made Schwitofsky admit again his guilt of the larceny charge for which he served five years in the Pennsylvania penitentiary, but Schwitofsky reiterated that he had stolen under great pressure, and succeeded in bringing out that, while he had taken more than $20,000 worth of jewelry belonging to his employer, he had left $150,000 worth of jewelry in the box he had robbed.

Police Lieut. William Brown, who arrested Schwitofsky, was next called by Mr. Delehanty, and upon his taking the stand discussion arose over the length to which the board should go into the testimony taken at Schwitofsky's original trial, Lieut. Brown having been a witness on that occasion. Adjournment was taken without the point being settled, but during the noon recess the Parole Board decided to admit any old or new testimony either side desired. This meant that the scope of the hearing would be greatly extended and that each side would need time to obtain witnesses not on hand, so adjournment until Wednesday, June 17, was taken.

SUFFRAGE PLEA IN WALL ST.

Women's Political Union Holds Meeting at Sub-Treasury.

A large crowd of Wall Street men, with a scattering of women, attended the first of a series of noon meetings to be held in front of the sub-treasury on Tuesdays of this month by the Women's Political Union. Miss Helen Todd of California was the chief speaker, Miss Alberta Hill presided, and Miss Helen Bernays made an opening address.

Meetings held by the Women's Political Union in the same place had been broken up by the younger element of the Street. There were older men at the meeting yesterday, the automobile which was used as a rostrum was surrounded by a crowd, and there was no attempt at a disturbance. Mrs. Walter Chambers with Miss Bernays sold pencils, buttons, and suffrage papers and took up a collection after Miss Todd's first address.

An automobile bus full of women will leave the union headquarters, 25 West Forty-fifth Street, at 12:15 today and make the first of a number of speeches at Madison Square at 12:30.

Body Found in Central Park Lake.

The body of a man about 35 years old was found in the large lake in Central Park yesterday by Theodore Davis, a boatman. The man weighed 125 pounds, was 5 feet 7 inches in height, and had reddish hair. The body was attired in a brown suit with blue stripes, white collar, and necktie, and in the pockets were found a razor, scissors, a comb, and eyeglasses.

WANT 3-WHEELED 'BATHTUBS' LICENSED

This "Bathtub" Is a Motor Cycle with a Carrying Car on the Side.

HAS SPEED OF AN AUTO

National Highway Protective Society Says the "Contraptions" Should Be Under Regulation.

All of those odd little motor-driven vehicles which resemble tricycles and which carry whole families at the rate of sixty miles an hour or less have come under the censure of the National Highway Protective Society. The society is seeking to have these vehicles licensed just as automobiles are licensed, and Police Commissioner Woods has been asked to take measures to that effect.

Frederic R. Coudert, President of the National Highway Protective Society, and Col. Edward S. Cornell, Secretary of the society, are behind the move to license the tricyclers. Mr. Coudert referred to the fangles yesterday as "unlicensed derelicts." The "manufacturers' lobby" at Albany, he said, was responsible for exempting all motor cycles from license. The innovation machines, however, should not come under the exemptions of the law, according to Mr. Coudert and Col. Cornell. The fact that they carry whole families and take up as much room as automobiles, they say, puts these machines in the automobile category.

While the Highway Protective Society cannot hope to restrict the ordinary two-wheeled motor cycles under the present law, it hopes to have licensed all vehicles which do not strictly conform to the law. Mr. Coudert wrote this letter to Commissioner Woods:

> National Highway Protective Society,
> 1 West Thirty-fourth Street
>
> Hon. Arthur Woods, Police Department, New York:
>
> My Dear Mr. Commissioner:
>
> I wish to call your attention to the fact that there are now upon the highways of the city and the roads hereabout a number of motor vehicles which do not carry licenses. These vehicles are a combination of the ordinary automobile and motor cycle. You have doubtless seen them. They consist of a motor cycle with a third wheel attachment and a small carriage arrangement in which one person is seated. I presume that the theory is that, like motor cycles, they are not subject to license requirements, but I am sure that if you examine the law you will not so interpret it. These vehicles should be classed with the ordinary motor vehicles and required to take out licenses. They are a constant danger on the roads, and I hope that you will be able to take the matter up and reach some decision regarding them. In any event, I felt that it was the duty of our society to call your attention to the matter. I remain, very truly yours,
>
> FREDERIC R. COUDERT.
> June 9, 1914.

The National Highway Protective Society is not concerned with the collection of license money. The point of view taken by the society is wholly one of safety and responsibility. It is argued that any vehicle able to make its getaway after an accident should be licensed. Under the present law a motorcycle can run over a person and leave no trace behind for the police. The law ought to provide for numbers for each motor cycle, it is contended, with numerals as large as those on automobiles. Every State in the East has such a law excepting only New York.

BRENTON WAS 'LITTLE CAT.'

Preacher Translates for Jury Strange Missive of His Former Wife.

Special to The New York Times.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 9.—The Rev. Cranston Brenton of Yonkers, New York States Secretary of the Social Service Department of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was under cross-examination most of the afternoon by David E. Fitzgerald of New Haven, counsel for Mr. Brenton's divorced wife, now Mrs. Elizabeth A. C. Holman of Waterville, Me.

Mrs. Holman is suing Mr. Brenton and Dr. O. C. Smith and Dr. Paul Waterman for $50,000 for alleged incarceration in a Vermont asylum.

Mr. Brenton on the stand asserted that his then wife knew she was a voluntary patient. He acknowledged that the plaintiff while engaged to be married to him, in 1899, prepared his class poem when he was graduated from Trinity College.

Although a hundred of Mrs. Holman's letters were offered in evidence today, only one letter to F. Ernest Holman from the former Mrs. Brenton was read. It was sent through a friend, and in it Mrs. Holman craved for the sight of her master and to find shelter in his arms. It concluded: "All my love, all, all to my Ernest boy."

Another letter to himself was translated to the jury by Brenton. He said the expression "Let the little fat cat be very careful crossing the big city, where he is meowing, meowing, and meowing," meant that he himself should be very careful in New York City, where he then was preaching.

WM. C. YORKE DISMISSED.

William C. Yorke, Superintendent of the Municipal Lodging House, who had been connected with the Department of Public Charities for the past nineteen years, was dismissed yesterday by Commissioner John A. Kingsbury. Yorke was found guilty of misconduct and incompetency after a trial before Deputy Commissioner Wright that lasted about three weeks. There were seven specifications in the charges and Yorke was found guilty on each count.

The department case against Yorke was handled by Assistant Corporation Counsel Stover. He was defended by William E. Murphy, attorney for the Patrolmen's Benevolent Society of the Police Department. Mr. Murphy said he would apply for a writ of certiorari in order to have the case reviewed by the Appellate Division.

BRIBERY PRISONER VANISHES IN COURT

While Detective Is Writing Complaint in West Side Tribunal Man Disappears.

WOMEN ASSIST IN CAPTURE

Witnesses of Meeting at Which Alleged Cocaine Dealers Are Said to Have Paid Accusers.

While in the custody of a detective, who was making out papers charging him with bribery, Emil Witzel, 25 years old, of 242 West 144th Street, escaped from the complaint room of the West Side Court yesterday at noon.

Witzel and William Scofield, 35 years old, of 237 West 37th Street, were arrested on June 3 by Detectives Dawson and McGannon, of Lieutenant "Honest Dan" Costigan's special squad, which had been breaking up the traffic in cocaine and other drugs. In the West Side Court Scofield was released in $500 bail for a hearing today and Witzel was set free.

The two detectives asserted that last Friday they met Witzel and Scofield, and Witzel offered to give them money if they would testify that the white powder found on Scofield was not cocaine. The detectives reported this conversation to Lieut. Costigan and Deputy Police Commissioner McClintock. Mr. McClintock assigned Detective Sergt. Donnelly, Detective Isabella Goodwin, and Adele Priess, Police Matron, to assist the detectives in getting evidence against the two men.

Several appointments were made for a meeting, and at last the two men agreed to meet Dawson and McGannon at a saloon at Eighth Avenue and Fifty-fourth Street, not far from the Court House. Detective Sergt. Donnelly, accompanied by Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Priess, went to the saloon and sat at a table in the back room. Later Scofield and Witzel entered the room. The two detectives entered soon. After a short conversation, according to the detectives, Witzel handed Dawson $100 in bills. The detectives suggested that they would better leave for the Court House, as it was nearly time for the examination of Scofield. At the entrance to the court the detectives told Witzel and Scofield they were under arrest.

Scofield was lodged in the detention pen in the West Side Prison, and Witzel was taken to the complaint room. When one of the detectives completed a complaint for the Magistrate, he found that Witzel had disappeared. A general alarm was sent out for him.

Scofield was arraigned before Magistrate Marsh. At the request of Assistant District Attorney Coleman the bail on the cocaine charge was raised from $500 to $1,000, and bail on the bribery charge was fixed at $1,000 for examination today.

M'ADOO NOW WILLING TO GRANT EASEMENT

Secretary Writes McCall Suggesting Meeting of Experts to Reach Subway Agreement.

$1,000,000 VALUE TOO HIGH

Counsel for Government and Commission Confer — Treasury Head Complains of "Misrepresentation."

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has written to Chairman Edward E. McCall of the Public Service Commission upon the question of the easement for the new subway under the Post Office Building, and has assumed an attitude which, it is believed, will enable the question to be decided in the next day or two.

The Secretary in his communication grants the chief points urged by the commission. He admits that the estimate of Horace S. Ely & Co., his own real estate experts, that the value of the easement is $1,000,000, must be modified materially by the limitations in the title to the City Hall Park site which the city granted to the Federal authorities years ago, and he notes that the city is willing to assume all responsibility for damages to the Post Office structure or injuries to individuals as a consequence of the subway building. Finally he suggests a conference between the experts on both sides to draw up suggestions for the settlement on which he may pass. Here is the Secretary's letter:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.
Washington, June 8, 1914.

Hon. Edward E. McCall, Chairman Public Service Commission for the First District of the State of New York, 154 Nassau Street, New York City.

Dear Sir: I have given careful consideration to the request of the Public Service Commission for the grant of an easement for building a subway under the Post Office and Court House building owned by the United States Government in New York City, and have reached a conclusion in the matter as follows:

Under the act of Aug. 9, 1912, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized, in his discretion, to grant such an easement for such consideration, nominal or otherwise, and upon such terms, conditions, &c., as he may deem proper. My construction of this act is that there is imposed upon the Secretary the duty to examine into the matter, and if such grant, in his judgment, should in justice and equity be made for a nominal consideration, it is his duty to make it; on the other hand, if he should find that the easement in question has great value to the United States, or, to put it in another way, if he should find that the property of the United States would be greatly injured by such easement, then it is his duty to require payment in full for such injury.

Easement Valued at $1,000,000.

With a view to determining this matter I requested Messrs. Horace S. Ely & Co. to advise me as to the value of such a perpetual easement, and on May 6, 1914, said company informed me that, in its opinion, the value of such a perpetual easement was at least $1,000,000. Thereupon, on May 11, 1914, the proposed deed submitted by your commission conveying such an easement, and all the papers, were referred to the Attorney General for advice as to the title to the property and what the duty of the Secretary is as to insisting upon the payment of the fair value of said easement. On May 20, 1914, the United States District Attorney at New York reported to the Attorney General as to said deed. On June 1, 1914, the Attorney General was requested to advise this department whether there was anything in the state of the title of the United States to said property which would release the Secretary from the duty of collecting the fair market value of such easement as a condition precedent to granting it. On June 4, 1914, the Attorney General advised me that there was no legal reason why the full market value of this easement should not be paid, and while expressing no opinion as to what that value is, stated that the city should waive and release any claim it might have to assert a forfeiture of said title because of the grant of any such easement.

In order to satisfy myself clearly as to what the value of this easement is, I wrote again to my experts as to the basis of their valuation, and found that their opinion was given without considering the title to the property or any conditions imposed upon its use, but that it was considered simply as a plot of real estate without regard to any limitations upon its use or sale. They informed me that if there were conditions which limited the use of the property on the part of the United States it would materially affect the question of the value of the easement.

Upon examination of the deed originally given by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New York to the United States, I find that it was conveyed for a consideration of $500,000, which was paid by the United States, and upon the express condition that the buildings to be placed thereon should at all times be used and occupied exclusively for Post Office and Court House purposes, and for no other purpose whatsoever, and also upon the further condition that if the premises shall be used for any other purposes, said premises shall revert to the City of New York.

It would seem clear that the state of the title above indicated would have a very material bearing upon the value of the proposed easement, and, therefore, it became necessary to determine what that value is, or what the damage to the Government property would be by virtue of the construction of said subway.

Must Pay for Damage.

It would seem clear, also, that in estimating the damages, any injury to the present building during or because of said construction should be made good to the United States, also any future claims for personal injury during said construction, and, furthermore, any additional expense to which the Government might be put because of said construction, in case it should be determined in the future to erect a modern building necessitating deeper foundations.

I understand that the City of New York is prepared to assume all of the above expenses, and the only question which would arise is whether any further payment should be made as a consideration for the proposed deed.

In order that this question may be speedily settled, I have requested Messrs. Horace S. Ely & Co. of New York, the Government experts, to confer with the experts of your commission, and report to me as to what, if any, further payment should be made other than the undertaking to be responsible for the above-mentioned expenses and claims. The Attorney General has instructed the United States District Attorney at New York to advise the Government experts as to the legal effect of said deed as bearing upon this question, and I would suggest that your experts confer with the Government experts at the earliest possible moment, and see if they cannot agree as to what further consideration, if any, should be made.

I believe that within two or three days an agreement could be reached by these experts, so that I shall have the necessary information to enable me to act immediately upon receipt of their report. My desire is that they should examine into the matter, looking through all legal technicalities to the real justice and equity of the case.

The United States District Attorney has made several suggestions as to the further terms of the deed, which I believe there will be no difficulty in arranging in conference with your counsel, all of which shall, of course, be subject to my approval.

There has been so much misrepresentation of the department's attitude and action in this matter that I must insist as one of the conditions of any settlement that may be made that this letter and the full terms of such settlement shall be published once in every daily newspaper in the City of New York, the cost thereof to be borne by the Public Service Commission.

Respectfully yours,
W. G. McADOO, Secretary.

Immediately after Chairman McCall had received the original of the letter the commission requested its real estate experts, Joseph P. Day and the Douglas Robinson-Charles S. Brown Company, to get into touch with Horace S. Ely & Co. A conference was also held yesterday afternoon on the legal side of the matter between Assistant United States District Attorney Knox, representing the Federal Government, and Assistant Counsel Le Roy T. Harkness and Travis H. Whitney, Secretary of the commission.

Mr. Knox proposed certain changes in the deed concerning the easement. They would insure the more careful protection of the interests of the Government during construction, as far as liability was concerned, and would also safeguard the Government in case at some future time it should erect a new building on the site. These suggestions were tentatitvely agreed to.

INTERBOROUGH LOW BIDDER.

Likely to Get Contract for Subway Link at the Battery.

The Interborough Company, through its subsidiary, the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company, is likely to obtain one of the contracts for the construction of a connection between the old and new subways, and will thus avoid at the Battery a controversy with the Public Service Commission similar to that which has arisen over the grant of the contract for the Times Square connection to the Holbrook, Cabot & Rollins Corporation.

The section for which the bids were opened yesterday is known as Section 1A of the Interborough's Seventh Avenue route, and it begins at a point within Battery Park and runs south to connect with the present Brooklyn-Manhattan subway line. There were four bidders, the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company with $474,244, the Oscar Daniels Company with $498,000, Patrick McGovern & Co. with $556,000, and Smith, Hauser & McIsaac, Inc., with $804,000.

These figures are unofficial but approximately correct, and the commission is likely to grant the contract to the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Company, which already has the section immediately to the north under Greenwich Street.

DAISY CHAIN AT VASSAR.

Class Day Ceremony Brings Out a Record Crowd of Visitors.

Special to The New York Times.

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 9. — About 5,000 visitors from all parts of the United States flocked to this city today for the class day exercises and the time-honored daisy chain ceremony at Vassar College. Favored with sunshine and a mild breeze, the affair, which was held on the campus, brought out the largest crowd and was the most successful in the history of the college.

The daisy chain was carried by twenty-four girls especially chosen for the honor. They were the Misses Priscilla Galt, Isabella Wadsworth, Marjorie Arnold, Katherine Jeffries, Katherine Place, Katherine Barcus, Laura Osborne, Martha Armstrong, Esther Rauschoff, Ethel Rose, Phebe Briggs, Elizabath Hardin, Emma Downer, Elizabeth Linder, Dorothy Sagendorph, Mary Hendrickson, Edith Dutton, Helen Hodge, Dorothy Bailey, Christine Barnes, Rose Sharpe, Elizabeth McCreery, Dorothy Graham, and Norma Leitch.

TALKED ONLY ABOUT CATS.

Miss Knight Mentioned Pets Often, Nurse Says at Trial.

Miss Hilda Jackson, one of the nurses at St. Luke's Hospital who attended to Miss Sarah A. Knight during her last illness, was the principal witness yesterday when the trial of the contest of Miss Knight's will was resumed before Surrogate Fowler. Miss Knight, who was one of Mrs. Hetty Green's closest friends, died in St. Luke's Hospital on Oct. 13, 1913. Two days before her death she drew up a will in which she left her entire $2,000,000 estate to twenty cousins of the McLaughlin branch of her family, disinheriting her cousins on the Knight side. The latter cousins are contesting the will on the ground that Miss Knight was of unsound mind at the time the will was drawn.

Miss Jackson's theme yesterday was "Cats."

"Tell me anything you recall about Miss Sarah Knight," began former Assistant District Attorney James W. Osborne as soon as Miss Jackson took the stand, and Miss Jackson at once replied:

"I remember she talked frequently about her cats."

"Anything else besides her cats?" asked Mr. Osborne.

"No," replied Miss Jackson. "That was the only subject she talked to me about."

"What did she say?" queried Mr. Osborne.

"She said she was very fond of them," Miss Jackson replied, "and would like to have them come to see her."

Mr. Osborne then smilingly asked the witness if the cats ever did call upon her, to which Miss Jackson, looking very serious, replied, "No." Miss Jackson then went on to tell how Miss Knight had talked about the cats' home, and of the Summer home which she had had prepared for them, of the playfulness of the animals, and their fondness for her.

"She kept talking about her cats," Miss Jackson testified, "until within two days of her death."

Miss Jackson testified also that Miss Knight had refused nourishment during her last illness, and had had to be coaxed into taking food. Miss Pearl Saunders, a nurse who sometimes relieved Miss Jackson, said that she did not remember having heard Miss Knight mention cats.

The proceedings will be continued before Surrogate Fowler this morning.

SLAPS DR. LEHANE'S FACE.

Dr. Eastman Attacks Coroner's Physician at Schultze Hearing.

The outbreaks of personal animosities and exchanges of angry words that marked previous hearings of the charges of neglect of duty and insubordination against Dr. Otto H. Schultze, Coroner's physician, also marked the final hearing last night before the Board of Coroners in the Municipal Building, and the excitement attending the session was increased when Dr. Fred Ward Eastman of Harlem Hospital slapped the face of Dr. Timothy D. Lehane, a Coroner's physician.

Dr. Lehane's name had been brought into the case by Dr. Schultze when he was testifying in his own behalf. Dr. Schultze had charged Dr. Lehane with performing an autopsy after a death in a state of coma without examining the dead man's brain, and Dr. Eastman had supported this charge, saying that he had been present at the autopsy in question. Dr. Lehane denied the charge. Drs. Eastman and Delane then became engaged in a dispute, which culminated in the former attacking Dr. Lehane. Friends pulled them apart.

In the course of the hearing Dr. Schultze told his whole story of the incidents out of which the charges against him grew. Several other witnesses were called after him, and then the Coroners adjourned. They announced that they would meet to consider their verdict after Almuth C. Vandiver of O'Gorman, Battle & Vandiver, counsel for Dr. Schultze, had submitted his brief. He has a week in which to do this.

SCHOOL BOARD FIGHT UP.

By-Law on Duties of Director to be Voted On.

If a sufficient number of the present administration's adherents attend today's meeting of the Board of Education, the proposed new section of the by-laws setting forth the duties of the Director and Assistant Director of the recently organized Board of Reference and Research will be adopted.

A majority of the board, twenty-four members, is required. At the meeting on May 27 only twenty-two administration members were present. The opposition, led by Abraham Flexner and William G. Willcox, cast twelve votes against it.

The proposed new section says that the bureau shall furnish information upon request of the officers of the board, its committees or members of these committees, or to any other person. The opposition wants City Supt. Maxwell and the Board of Superintendents included specifically among those entitled to call for information.

SPANISH IN HIGH SCHOOL.

Language to be Taught to Boys Entering De Witt Clinton.

The Board of Education has authorized boys entering the De Witt Clinton High School next September and thereafter to choose Spanish as their foreign language.

Many De Witt Clinton boys find their way into business life, and for them, it is said, Spanish is of more practical benefit than any other foreign language.

Spanish is now accepted on a par with French and German for entrance to a majority of the Eastern colleges. It may be counted toward the college entrance diploma of the Regents of New York State.

EXPERTS TO VALUE TELEPHONE LINES

Property of New York Company in This State to be Appraised.

P. S. COMMISSION'S ORDER

Agitation for Reduction in Tolls Leads to Conference Preliminary to Big Piece of Work.

The Public Service Commission of the Second District is to hold a conference tomorrow with John L. Swayze counsel and other officials of the New York Telephone Company with regard to the valuation of the property of the telephone company within the State. The commission is very anxious that this should be completed within six months, but the company takes the stand that to do it in this time is impossible. The property of the company within the State is worth between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000; is of the most complex character and includes all the real property, exchanges, telephone lines and switchboards needed to operate about 1,000,000 separate telephones.

Mr. Swayze told the commission that such a valuation would take at least a year or fifteen months, and experts think he would have been nearer the truth if he had said eighteen months.

This valuation is the result of the agitation for the reduction of telephone rates in the State. A number of taxpayers and trade associations have asked the commission to insist on reduction of the rates now charged, but the commission cannot order any cut which would deprive the company of a fair rate of return upon its capital. It must, therefore, be forced to determine what the investment of the company in its plant may be, and this it is impossible to ascertain without a regular valuation.

The New York Telephone Company has had some of its staff considering this matter since last Autumn, but it has been brought up again by the fact that no matter what valuations its own employes may make of its property, its assailants are sure to declare that it is too high. So it has invited a committee of independent experts, all of whom have a high reputation in the engineering world, to undertake a valuation entirely independent of the company and to be as conservative in their figures as they would be for a private client.

The Chairman of this committee is F. B. H. Paine, a consulting engineer, of 26 Cortlandt Street. He has had much experience in connection with the construction and operation of power plants, and especially with those of the Ontario Power Company and the Niagara, Lockport and Ontario Power Company. His colleagues are H. Hobart Porter of Sanderson & Porter, 52 William Street, who has recently been engaged in the appraisal of the Brooklyn Edison Company; Russell Robb of Stone & Webster, Boston, a firm which has had much to do with handling public utilities throughout the country; H. P. Gillette, who was the chief engineer of the State of Washington in the appraisal of its railroads, and Gen. George H. Harries, Vice President of H. M. Byllesby & Co. of Chicago, and ex-President of the American Electrical Railways Association. By special request of the committee, who wished to have one of the important officials of the New York Telephone Company associated with them, J. A. Stewart, the company's General Manager, will also serve on the committee.

The New York Telephone Company owns or operates many telephone lines in other States than New York, but as it is a holding company the finances of these are kept entirely separate from the accounts of the telephone lines it owns and operates within New York State. Consequently all this important part of its business is outside of the scope of the committee's work. It will, however, have plenty to do, as every part of the State except four well-defined areas are served by the New York Telephone Company, and its offices and plant in Buffalo or in some remote country district will be of just as much importance to it as the exchanges and conduits in this city.

Every building and every parcel of land which the company owns will have to be valued, and it will be necessary to consider not only the fact that along a certain stretch of country a certain number of telephone poles have been erected, but also the condition in which they are today. Then all the telephone plant within the big office buildings will have to be examined and valued. When a skyscraper is run up, the New York Telephone Co. is invited to co-operate with the owner. From the ground floor to the roof conduits are built into the walls at the expense of the company, and switchboards of all sizes, from those large enough for the requirements of a great department store to those just big enough for the business of a law office, are installed by the company, also at its own cost. In one big building it is reckoned the investment of the New York Telephone Company is thus more than $100,000.

All these questions will enter into the valuation of the exchanges and the proper allowance for the distribution of the cost of obtaining and establishing the telephone business. Incidentally, although this is a matter with which the present committee has nothing directly to do, it may have a considerable effect on the modification of tolls. As things are, the telephone system has grown as the demand arose, and the charges have been imposed more or less by haphazard. This will be the first attempt in New York State to study scientifically the relation of the cost of telephone service to its use, and it would not be surprising that the facts thus collected led to some radical changes.

GEORG BRANDES SAILS AWAY

Danish Critic Tired Out After Nine Days' Visit Here.

Dr. Georg Brandes, the Danish critic, sailed yesterday for home on the Hamburg-American liner Kaiserin Auguste Victoria.

In a brief interview with the reporters on the steamer, Dr. Brandes said that he was glad to get away to enjoy some sleep, because the telephone had kept him awake during his nine days' stay here.

"The bell tinkled incessantly day and night," said the critic, "and I had to give my opinions on every variety of subject and accept all sorts of kind invitations to luncheon, dinner, and supper."

Dr. Brandes went on to say that he liked what he had seen of American cities, and found that although the inhabitants were always in a hurry they always found time to be polite.

LAKE SHORE MERGER TO BE MET BY SUIT

Minority Stockholders Will Attempt to Block New York Central's Plan in U. S. Court.

OHIO DENIES APPLICATION

State Utilities Commission Holds It Is Without Authority—Other States to Act Soon.

Special to The New York Times.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 9.—Regardless of the actions of any of the State public utility commissions whose approval has been asked for a consolidation of the New York Central & Hudson River, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroads and various smaller lines, there will soon be filed, probably in the United States Circuit Court at Detroit, a suit on the part of the minority stockholders of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern to test the merger scheme.

The petition will test out first the right of the various lines to be merged into one company, and second will put at issue the merits and demerits of the consolidation plan that has been outlined. The petition will go very extensively into the transactions, financial and otherwise, of the New York Central and Lake Shore Railroads and an effort will be made to show that the proposed arrangement is unfair to stockholders of the Lake Shore, to whom it is proposed to give five shares of the new company for every share they now hold. The Lake Shore contestants assert that the trade should be on a ten to one basis at the very lowest calculation.

The suit will be filed probably within ten days, and will ask a temporary order restraining the various railroads from proceeding with the merger plan. It will also contest the right of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad to vote the stock of the Lake Shore in the consolidation plan. The New York Central owns 90 per cent. of the Lake Shore, the value of the remaining 10 per cent. being estimated at $30,000,000. During some years the stock has paid dividends as high as 18 per cent. The suit is calculated to disclose to the minority stockholders the details of financial transactions.

The minority interest in the suit will be represented by Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft of New York City, and by Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus. It is also likely that counsel for the objecting minority will appear before all the State commissions in which approval is asked and make objection.

Before the Ohio commission today the consolidation petition was dismissed upon a showing that the statutes do not give the commission jurisdiction to pass upon merger proposals. The next State commission which will hear the application will be the Illinois State Commission, on June 17. The New York commission hears it on June 25. Before the Ohio commission this morning A. W. Harris, Vice President of the New York Central, argued that the other State commissions had jurisdiction, but did not insist that Ohio had. He contended that if the Ohio commission had no jurisdiction over the consolidation it could have none over the proposed issue of stocks and bonds.

Counsel for the minority interest reminded him that the roads had not yet obtained the consent of all their stockholders. The minority counsel also contended that the Ohio commission could have nothing to say until the contract of consolidation had been entered into among the various companies to be merged.

The decision as to jurisdiction was rendered by Judge O. H. Hughes, who agreed that the commission could exercise no authority unless given it specifically by statute. There is no such power in the law, he found. Were the case one of an Ohio railroad and it was attempting to enter into an illegal combination, the commission's power would be limited to informing the Attorney General and asking that he bring suit. There is no violation of law suggested here, he said, but the commission could not go into the fairness of the proposed agreement. After the consolidation contract has been entered into the commission could then, he said, take up and consider the stock and bond question and determine whether it had authority. Offhand he was inclined to think it had. The application was dismissed.

SECOND ISLAND DRUG CASE.

Male Nurse Charged with Giving Morphine to Woman Prisoner.

A second arrest for giving morphine to a prison inmate was made yesterday in the Workhouse Hospital on Blackwell's Island at the instance of Dr. Katharine B. Davis, Commissioner of Correction. The man arrested is Joseph C. Mills, a nurse, 23 years old. He is charged with giving two bottles of the narcotic to Florence Smith in one of the wards. Mills was arraigned before Chief Magistrate McAdoo and held in $500 bail for examination tomorrow.

The woman is a prisoner in the Tombs, but Dr. Davis had sent her to the workhouse to get evidence against Mills. She made an affidavit before Magistrate Cornell on Monday, and the warrant was issued. It is not charged that Mills took money for the morphine. Under the law, however, narcotics can be dispensed in prisons only with a physician's prescription.

The head of one of the greatest steel mills in America walked into a Studebaker store last week and said: "Send me out a Studebaker SIX. Studebakers are the hardest people in the automobile business to satisfy on steels. Judging by their chemical, metallurgical, and physical tests, this must be the best "Six" in the world".

Studebaker
Economical Light-Weight SIX
$1575

One of the reasons why Studebakers are the hardest people in the automobile business to satisfy on steels is this:

In no other way than by heat treatment of steels can the strength of a "SIX" be greatly increased while the weight is being decreased.

In no other way than by the scientific distribution of this weight through intensive manufacturing can that balance be secured which results in the superb roadability of the Studebaker SIX.

And the important thing for you to remember is that the Studebaker SIX stands absolutely alone among light "Sixes" in the application of manufacturing methods without which light-weight, strength, balance and roadability are impossible.

How Studebaker SIX Superiority Shows Itself

The Studebaker SIX will glide silently from a standing start on high into a forty mile gait, in a distance of less than 200 yards.

The Studebaker SIX when it is skimming along at a high rate of speed will actually seem to you—from the lack of effort and vibration—to be going at a rate ten miles per hour less.

The Studebaker SIX will stick to a straight line with scarcely a touch on the steering wheel, mile after mile and hour after hour —while other "Sixes" are constantly creeping to one side or the other, and being coaxed back.

The Studebaker SIX will take steeper hills and more of them, on high, than any other "Six" it meets in a day's run.

The Studebaker SIX is not merely motor-silent, but silent all over —the transmission on the rear axle, in addition to its other advantages, contributing to that result.

The Studebaker Proof Book describes and pictures the scientific manufacturing operations of Studebaker. Send for it.

STUDEBAKER
Detroit

The difference between a brand-new manufactured Studebaker SIX and a brand-new assembled or semi-manufactured "Six" is immediately apparent in the superior way in which the Studebaker holds the road. And that difference grows more marked month after month. It culminates tragically, in a second-hand sale of the non-manufactured "Six" at a terrific depreciation.

The Studebaker FOUR is characterized by the same manufacturing excellence and quality of material as the Studebaker SIX.

DEMAREE WEAKENS, CARDINALS WIN

St. Louis Bats Get Busy in the Eighth and Tenth Innings and Rout Giants.

Almost every member of the Giants had his mind made up at the Polo Grounds yesterday to beat the St. Looey Cardinals except Snodgrass and Bescher. These two young men were in the minority, and the minority won. That is, the Giants lost by a score of 5 to 2. The result was exceptionally distressing to Al Demaree, because Al was pitching for all he was worth against the Cards, and according to the laws of this State he has a strong case of non-support against the Giants if he wants to push it.

For seven fast and well-played innings it was nip and tuck, both Demaree and "Slim" Sallee pitching the sort of ball which gave no encouragement toward run-getting. In the eighth inning the Cards fell upon Demaree, and the Mobile Steamer was unable to check the run flood until two counts had gushed over the plate.

Fred Snodgrass at this point began to show a disagreement with the other Giants about winning the game. With one out Ivy Wingo rapped a roller at Snodgrass, who was playing first base because Merkle's "charley horse" came back and necessitated his retirement from the fray.

When this roller came at Snodgrass he treated it like a perfect stranger and refused to mingle with the ball. So Wingo was safe, and he promptly stole second. Beck struck out, and Sallee, disappointed at the indifferent hitting of his clubmates, took matters into his own hands and banged forth a single which scored Wingo. Huggins then got a pass. Lee Magee, the globe-trotter, banged a hit to centre which scored Sallee.

At this point Cosey Dolan came to the bat. Dolan evidently has no regard whatever for Umpire Rigler. When the umpire called the second strike on him Cosey burst into a brand of English which isn't tolerated in the best society. He was immediately chased from the game after two strikes and a ball had been called on him. Cather took his place at the bat, and when the latter swung at one he was out. Cather struck out with only one swing, and will get credit for fanning. Dolan approves of this, but Cather doesn't. It's tough to fan on one strike.

In their half of the eighth the Giants, with one out, started to get the runs back. And they did. Burns singled and romped home when Fletcher ripped a double to left. Fletcher, by the way, made his reappearance at shortstop and livened up the infield quite a bit. Doyle died, Huggins to Miller, and Chief Meyers, batting for Murray, doubled to left, scoring Fletcher, and the count was tied, 2 to 2. Fine.

In the ninth activity on both sides was at a standstill. "Bob" Bescher in the tenth showed his dissension to winning the game, just as Snodgrass did in the eighth inning.

Wingo singled and went to third on Zinn Beck's double. The best that Sallee could do was to strike out. "Rabbit" Huggins outguessed Demaree and got a pass, filling the bases.

The meagre facts which are about to be chronicled here, patient reader, call for groans and sobs. Lee Magee smashed a single to centre. The ball approached Bescher with a smile. Bob had his hands all set and ready to greet the ball. But look, the ball hopped by Bescher as if they were bitter enemies. Pass the smelling salts, please.

On, on, rolled the ball toward the centre-field fence. Remember, the bases were loaded. Wingo, Beck, and Huggins dug their spikes into the dirt and raced for home. One, two, three, they romped over the plate, and Magee got around to third before Bescher retrieved the truant ball. There goes the ball game, right there. The score:

BOSTON, June 9.—Boston shifted the batting order today and defeated Cincinnati 3 to 2, making it an even break for the series of four games. Two bases on balls, a sacrifice hit, a stolen base and a single gave Boston two runs in the first inning. Phillies Bunch Hits and Win.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—After Conzelman fanned Reed and Becker in the sixth inning today, Philadelphia scored the runs which won the game from Pittsburgh by 3 to 1 on Lobert's single, a pass to Magee, Cravath's single, and Luderus's double. Mayer pitched in excellent style, the visitors not getting a man past second base until the ninth inning. Then Wagner led off with a drive which bounded over Becker's head for a double, and he scored while Lobert and Magee were throwing out the next two batsmen. Wagner's hit was his three thousandth during his National League career. He came here lacking two hits of the thirty century mark, and it took him four games to get them. Score:

HARD BATTING GAME GOES TO WHITE SOX

Yankees Make Four Errors, Which Figure in Chicago's Rungetting.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 9.—Aided by four misplays by the Yankees, the White Sox took the final game of the series this afternoon, 7 to 4. Chance's men made four errors, all figuring in White Sox runs.

The batting was about the only thing that kept up the interest of about 2,500 patrons. It was too warm to even watch the athletes perform. It was wrose for the principals themselves, and the play showed it. Each team dragged through eight and one-half innings with no display of "pep."

The liveliest incident of the afternoon was the banishment of Manager Callahan. He tried to tell Umpire Egan that Schalk was hit by a pitched ball in the fourth inning. Egan did not think so, and with the temperature hovering around 100, he did not want to undergo any hot talk. Hence Callahan was ordered to view the remainder of the game from the coop.

Two White Sox pitchers handled the engagement. Cicotte started the affair, pitted against Ray Keating. Cicotte underwent a trying time fooling through four full innings, two runs being scored in the third on three wallops. Not caring to flirt with fate, Callahan called forth Jim Scott at the start of the fifth and the Yankees could not score on the "Death Valley" curvist until the ninth, when a couple of runs scored were of no consequence. Ten hits were peeled off by the Yankees.

Keating was allowed to go the distance by his manager. The game was lost for him right in the first inning, when four hits, mixed with a pair of bad errors, sent three runners over the pan after two were out. The Yanks got back a couple of these tallies in the third, but the White Sox put the win away for good with a three-run spurt in the fourth. The seventh run was registered in the eighth.

Cicotte showed he was off trim when he passed two after Peckingpaugh's single in the first inning. He retired the side runless, howeevr. The third was started in a peculiar way. Maisel beat out a roller to Blackburn. Chase thought the man was out so pegged to Schalk, who failed to stop the throw. Maisel went to second on the error and scored on a double by Peckinpaugh, who counted when Cook tripled down the right field line.

In the final stand of the Yanks, Scott's error on Holden, a pinch hitter, followed by singles by Maisel, Truesdale, and Peckingpaugh, counted two. Hartzell then went out and Cook fanned for the final play. The score:

Morgan's Error Lets Browns Win.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—Morgan's error in the fifth inning enabled Shotten to cross the plate with the run that gave St. Louis today's game with Washington, 4 to 3, the home club making it three victories out of the four-game series. Washington, by bunching hits, with an error and a base on balls, scored all its runs in the third inning. Manager Griffith and Clyde Milan received notice today of their indefinite suspension for wrangling with Umpire O'Loughlin during yesterday's contest. The score:

Shawkey was unsteady, but the Tigers could not hit him in the pinches. Baker, in the second inning, had his second home run in two days; Cobb stole home in the fourth; and in the eighth inning McInnis made a startling stop of Cobb's smoking grounder, touched first and then doubled Moriarty, who was going to second. Hofman Wins Salary Suit.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Arthur Hofman, former star of the Chicago National League Ball Club will get $2,944.47 back pay, which he asserts is due him from the club. The jury, which today listened to his claims, returned a sealed verdict tonight. Hofman charged that he had a contract calling for $5,000 for his services in 1912, but was sold to Pittsburgh after being struck on the head with a ball. Pittsburgh, he charged, refused to pay him the $3,000 due him for the remainder of the season. Enthusiasts to whom baseball is a subject of importance ranking everything else were shocked at the ease with which a jury was found. Of twenty-one men examined for service half admitted they attended an occasional game, four had never seen a professional ball game, and six said they never read baseball news.

Carr to Play witn Federals.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 9.—Charles C. Carr, manager of the Indianapolis American Association team in 1908 when it won the league pennant, today signed a contract to play first base for the local Federal League team for the remainder of the season. It was announced that there was no intention of making Carr manager of the Federals in place of Manager Phillips, as was rumored would be done. Carr's salary was not announced.

WHEAT'S THROW SAVES GAME

Cuts Off Tieing Run at Plate and Dodgers Win from Cubs, 2 to 1.

A pretty throw by Zack Wheat from left field, which cut off Johnstone at the plate, prevented the Cubs from tieing the score in the eighth inning of yesterday's game with the Dodgers, which the latter managed to get away with by a 2-to-1 score. In this inning the Cubs seemed almost certain of getting at least one run when Williams and Corriden, who were put in as pinch hitters, got on base by a base on balls and a single, respectively. The fleet Johnstone was sent in to run for Williams when the latter got to first base and he managed to get around to third on Corriden's single. Corriden stole second and with men on second and third bases and none out, the path looked extremely rocky for Pfeffer, who was pitching, and his fellow-Dodgers.

Manager Robinson seemed to think that the situation deserved the guidance of an experienced hand, for he pulled out Pfeffer and put in the veteran Ed Reulbach, who takes great joy in working against his old club. Tommy Leach, the first man to face Reulbach, hit a low fly over third base, which Wheat caught after a hard run. Wheat was brought in so far to make the catch that Johnstone made no effort to score. Wilbur Good, the next batter, drove another one out between centre and left field, which Wheat again grabbed on the run. The moment the Brooklyn left fielder caught the ball, Johnstone started to sprint for home. Wheat made a beautiful throw to the plate. McCarty got the ball in the air and blocked off Johnstone from the plate.

Brooklyn got their first run when Dalton walked and went around to third without any assistance. Zabel tried to get him napping at first, but instead of running back to the base, Dalton ran for second. Saier tried to get him there and threw over Sweeney's head. He scored while Smith was being thrown out at first. The second run resulted from Riggert's triple and McCarty's sacrifice fly. The Cubs' one run came in the seventh when Zimmerman doubled and got home when Dalton threw wild trying to get him at third after catching Schulte's fly. The score:

WAGNER'S 3,000TH HIT.

Wonderful Batting Record of Old Pirate for Seventeen Years.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—"Hans" Wagner, the veteran shortstop of the Pittsburgh National League team, today made his 3,000th hit in seventeen years of major league baseball. It was a two-bagger off Pitcher Mayer with no one on base in the ninth inning. He subsequently scored Pittsburgh's only run of the game on two outs. He was applauded when he made the hit and again when he crossed the plate.

Wagner, when the series opened here with Philadelphia last Friday, had 2,998 hits to his credit. He failed to connect in the first two games, but made it 2,999 yesterday. Today's hit came on his last turn at bat.

The only other player who is said to have made 3,000 hits in his major league career was Adrian C. Anson, who batted 3,047 in twenty-two years.

"Miner" Brown Not Deposed.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 9.—Rumors that Mordecai Brown will be deposed as manager of the St. Louis Federals were set at rest today by President Steininger and Director Otto F. Stifel. Stifel issued a statement in which he said the former Chicago pitcher would be retained, that the club owners were satisfied it was no fault of Brown's the team was in seventh place in the league standing. Steininger announced no attempt would be made to sign Armando Marsans, Cincinnati National outfielder, until the Cuban was a free agent. Marsans, who has been in town since his suspension by Manager Herzog last week, announced he would sign with the local Federals when his ten days' notice to the Cincinnati owners had expired.

Here's a Tip for the Scouts.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Howard Ehmke, the nineteen-year-old youth who left high school this year to join the pitching staff of the Los Angeles team of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, won his eighth straight victory today when he shut out San Francisco, 6 to 0. He has not suffered a defeat.

GUN COTTON WINS THRILLING 'CHASE

Syosset Runs Stride for Stride with the Winner in Last Quarter of Race.

Strangely enough the best race of the hurriedly made-up card at Belmont Park yesterday was the steeplechase. It was a run of two miles with five starters and two contestants, for Handrunning was allowed to set the pace for a mile and a half on sufferance only. Then Gun Cotton and Syosset, the real contestants, took up the game. They had been running close together, and at the last hurdle on the back stretch took the obstacle with Gun Cotton a length or so to the good. Swinging around the turn they were level and from that point on to the finish a single blanket might have covered them.

Stride for stride they ran as a pair. Over both the last two hurdles they leaped as if tied together like men in a three-legged race. It was the toss of a penny as to which had the better of it when they leaped to the turf for the straight run home.

Both Allen on Gun Cotton and Tuckey on Syosset were using every bit of skill at their command and each horse was struggling with every muscle. Perhaps it was the superior skill of Allen, who is an artist in the saddle, that told in the end, for he landed Gun Cotton winner by an eyelash. Shannon River, good as he is, was beaten home by ten lengths, as Heider, who rode him, made him run too late. It was the best steeplechase of the year.

Four of the six races were run over the straight course with the start up Mineola way, and little but the finish visible to the crowd. One of these races, a selling affair at six furlongs, furnished the liveliest contest of the afternoon. Water Welles, Edith W., and Gordon came into sight in a bunch, well ahead of the other starters. A lively race they made of it, too, all ridden out desperately for Water Welles was at a long price while the two others were the favorites in the speculation, and all were trying hard to land the bets as well as the purse. Water Welles lasted long enough to get his nose first past the finishing post, while heads only separated Edith W. and Gordon. It sure was some horse race, for it was impossible to say how the horses were placed until the numbers went up. The summaries:

OLYMPIC ATHLETIC JURY.

Five Men Suggested by Committee to Decide Protests.

LYONS, France, June 9.—The Rules Committee of the International Amateur Athletic Federation today adopted a suggestion originating with Franz Reishel, the French delegate, that the referee at the Olympic games should be displaced by an international jury of five members. It is to be recommended to the Olympic Committee at Paris.

The referee is not, however, to be abolised altogether, but the power of decision in cases of protest is to be transferred to the jury which is to be nominated by the Council of the International Amateur Athletic Federation. The jury must remain on the infield during the games.

Another step tending to internationalize the Olympic games was the adoption of the American suggestion that judges should be international. The committee recommends the appointment of the world's greatest authorities in particular events to judge those events. Thus America suggested that Richard Coombes of Australia should be appointed judge of walking.

Particular significance was lent to these proposals by the fact that they had the support of the German delegates.

The President of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, J. S. Edstrom of Sweden, who arrived to preside over the congress, was obliged to return immediately to Sweden on receipt of a telegram saying his mother was ill. Szilard Stankovitz of Hungary will, therefore, act as President.

The congress declined the offer of entertainment from the Lyons municipality on the ground that the delegats had scarcely sufficient time to accomplish their work.

XAVIER CHARGES HEARD.

No Decision Expected in Millrose A. A. Case for a Day or Two.

The special committee of the Board of Managers of the Metropolitan Association, A. A. U. appointed by President James E. Sullivan to investigate the charges of the Xavier A. A. that the Millrose A. A. was using positions in a big local department store as magnets to draw star athletes from other clubs, last night began its hearing at the Imperial Hotel. More than twenty-five track and field luminaries, many of whom at some time worked for John Wanamaker, were called, and it was well after midnight before the committee ended its investigation for the session. Some of the men who had been summoned to appear did not get a hearing, and it will be another day, and perhaps longer, before the committee's decision will be made known. After it is announced it will have to be approved by the full Board of Managers before it will become official. Fred Rubien presided at the meeting as Chairman. Other members of the investigation board are Hermann Obertubessing, the A. A. U. handicapper; Steve Byrne, Trinity Club; J. V. Hoole, Union Settlement A. A.; Harold Dibblee, Seventy-first Regiment A. A.; John Walsh, Pastime A. C., and Andrew Tulley, Paulist A. C.

Notes of the Turf.

Trainer James Rowe will not take Harry Payne Whitney's unbeaten colt, Pennant, to Canada to race for the Dorval Derby of $25,000. The colt pulled up sore in his final trial, one leg has filled up, and there is fear of a bowed tendon. Charlestonian has been shipped to Canada to fill his engagement in the Derby for Mr. H. J. Morris, who has leased his racing qualities for that event.

Racing at Belmont Park on Saturday will begin at noon. This will allow the Keene Memorial, for two-year-olds, to be run off, as planned, and then permit racegoers to make the trip to Meadow Brook to see the first of the international polo matches.

Stake books for the Queens County Jockey Club meeting at the Aqueduct track, June 23 to July 9, were issued yesterday. Of the important fixtures, the Brooklyn Handicap, at a mile and a quarter, will be run on the opening day; the Carter Handicap on June 27, the Great American Stakes for two-year-olds and the Brookdale Handicap, July 14; the Astoria and Myrtel Stakes on July 6; the Tremont on July 8, and the Brooklyn Derby, for three-year-olds, at a mile and a quarter, on July 9.

POLO---LAWN TENNIS---ROWING

LORD WIMBORNE IN CHEAPE'S SADDLE

Sponsor of British Polo Team Makes Good Substitute for Injured Player.

TEAM PLAY IS LACKING

British Pilgrims Praise American Sportsmanship in Postponing First Game—Second Contest June 16.

The Polo Association announced yesterday that the second match of the international cup series would be played at Meadow Brook on Tuesday, June 16, at 4 o'clock, weather permitting. The first game will be played on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

George T. Wilson, Vice President of the American Pilgrims, of which former Ambassador Choate is President, received yesterday the following cablegram from Harry Brittain of London, Honorary President of the British Pilgrims, of which Earl Roberts is President:

"Bravo polo team. True American sportsmanship immensely appreciated here."

The English polo team, with Lord Wimborne playing at No. 2, in Capt. Cheape's place, defeated a scrub team, the Whites, at Meadow Brook yesterday by a score of 11½ to 3¾. The Whites lineup was: No. 1, Duke of Penaranda; No. 2, J. W. Webb; No. 3, J. G. Milburn, Jr., and W. S. Devereaux; back, John Traill.

The absence of Capt. Cheape was noticeable in the team's playing. They failed to "get together" in the same way as when Cheape is in the game. The individual work of the players was excellent. Lord Wimborne proved an able substitute for the injured player and scored four goals during the match. He plays very much on the style of the American players—with much dash and vim.

J. S. Phipps, at whose house Capt. Cheape is staying, stated yesterday that the English player was getting along splendidly and would be in condition to go into Saturday's game. He said that Capt. Cheape would have insisted on playing in the international match yesterday if it had not been postponed. The English players are greatly pleased at the action of the Polo Association in postponing the match because of Capt. Cheape's injury.

The postponement has caused much inconvenience to a number of people who came from out of town to see the matches. Yesterday afternoon numerous parties, who had not been informed of the postponement, motored to Meadow Brook only to learn that the match was off.

At the start of yesterday's practice match Capt. Tomkinson scored two goals in rapid succession, the first in 17 seconds and the other in 1 minute 37 seconds. The Whites were penalized twice in the first period, one-half for a safety made by the Duke of Penaranda and a foul cross by Traill. J. G. Milburn, Jr., playing at No. 3 for the Whites, was hit on the elbow with a mallet during the fifth period and had to retire, W. S. Devereaux, a California player, taking his place. Devereaux was not prepared to play, but volunteered to substitute for the injured player, and did not even wait to don a uniform.

J. W. Webb, a left-handed hitter, did fine work for the scrub team. He scored three goals. His mounts were fast, and on several runs he put the English ponies to a severe test. Keith Marsham, who is act as umpire for the English team, refereed the game.

The American team will practice today on No. 2 field, and on Thursday the English team will have their final practice. Both teams will rest on Friday. The line-up and summary:

PRAISE OUR FRIENDLINESS.

British Appreciate Our Sportsmanship in Polo Postponement.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, June 9.—The postponement of the first international polo match in consequence of Capt. Cheape's injury is much appreciated by English sportsmen. The Evening Standard, in commenting, says:

"Following the good temper recently shown by the American golf team, this display of friendliness by the International Committee is more appreciable. Such excellent relationship in sport is an asset worth consideration in its bearing on the general attitude of the two countries toward each other. It is of interest to the observer in this connection that Sir Thomas Lipton bears witness to the anxiety of the New York Yacht Club to meet his wishes over the forthcoming contest for the America's Cup, and this fact will remain, whichever way the victory goes."

Will Enforce Foot Fault Rule.

Frederick B. Alexander, the former national champion in the doubles, yesterday expressed himself as intending to rigidly enforce the service or foot fault rule. He is to act as referee of the metropolitan championship tournament, which will begin next Saturday on the courts of the West Side Tennis Club, at Forest Hills, L. I. In the estimation of the internationalist the rules of the game mean something and are to be observed. Taking a hint from the official notification which Edwin F. Torrey, Secretary to the National Association, has sent to each of the clubs, Alexander intends to personally instruct each member of the corps of umpires as to just what constitutes a foot fault.

Mr. Alexander is of the opinion that no tennis rule is more generally misunderstood than that which governs the foot fault on service. It is very simple, for it really means that one foot must be firmly planted on the ground behind the baseline of the court and without slipping that foot forward or swinging the other foot into court for a start toward the net before the ball is hit with the racquet. The courts at Forest Hills are being groomed for the championship. The entry list will close tomorrow at 6 o'clock P. M.

Armstrong and Seaver in Finals.

BROOKLINE, Mass., June 9.—J. J. Armstrong of St. Paul, Minn., a Harvard player, and R. C. Seaver, a former State champion, won their way to the finals in the Massachusetts singles lawn tennis championship today by defeating A. S. Pier and E. H. Whitney, another former title holder, on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club. The winner of the finals tomorrow will play N. W. Niles in the challenge match for the title.

Wind Dismasts Sloop Kiowa.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., June 9.—The sloop yacht Kiowa, owned by Allen O. Freeler of Bridgeport, Conn., was dismasted in a fresh northeast wind off Cottage City today, and was towed into this port for repairs. The mast broke off near the deck and demolished the wheel. The crew of three escaped injury. Only slight damage was done the hull. The Kiowa was on her way from Marblehead to Bridgeport.

HARVARD 'VARSITY WINS.

Henley Crew Defeated in Two-Mile Race on Thames in 09:30.

RED TOP, Conn., June 9.—In the best preparatory race on the Thames this season, Harvard's 'Varsity eight tonight defeated the second, or Henley crew, by about six feet. The unofficial time for the two miles was 9:30, which is fast for the Thames course. The tide favored the oarsmen and the wind was quartering. The Henley crew jumped into the lead and maintained it for half a mile. Both crews seesawed for the rest of the race.

The gentlemen's four defeated the freshman four in a mile race, winning by a length in the unofficial time of 5:32. The freshman eight had a short paddle.

By a daring land and water attack the Harvard freshmen today captured the Yale freshman banner from the boathouse at Gales Ferry and now have it hung bottom-side up under their own banner at the Harvard crew quarters. The actual capture was made by Cameron, freshman coxswain.

While two members of the Harvard freshman squad paddled up the river in a canoe to the Yale float, two others, including Cameron, made a detour by land and came up behind the Yale boathouse. The Yale men went down to the float to see what the Harvard men wanted, and while they were there Cameron seized the banner, and his companion dashed down through the yard over the float and into the canoe with the banner under the eyes of the Yale men. The latter gave chase, one man diving for the canoe and missing it by a scant foot. Owing to the fact that the Yale launch was close by the Harvard canoe kept close inshore until near the Harvard quarters when the occupants went overboard and swam to the float.

The first and second 'Varsity and the freshman eights had a half mile brush this forenoon, the second boat winning over the first 'Varsity by about a third of a length, while the freshman eight was about the same distance behind the 'Varsity. The unofficial time was 2:20.

Yale's First Crew Beats Second.

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 9.—Yale's first and second eights had a mile brush on the river tonight after the crews had paddled three miles, the first boat winning by a length. No time was taken. Coach Nickalls coached the men as to individual faults. The freshman eight had a four-mile row up the river, under the coaching of Armstrong and Giannini. The water was rough at the time the crews went out and the practice was short.

PENN NEXT ON HUDSON.

Syracuse, Wisconsin, and Washington Crews Will Arrive This Week.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 9.—The rowing colony along the Poughkeepsie course will be augmented tomorrow by the arrival of the Pennsylvania crews. On Thursday the crews of Syracuse and Wisconsin will arrive, and Washington is expected Thursday night or Friday morning. The Wisconsin crews will enjoy real outdoor life, as the oarsmen will live in tents pitched on the hillside near Milton, nearly four miles below the finish of the course.

The Cornell and Columbia crews had their usual afternoon's practice late today, all six crews getting a pull of about eight miles. Coach Rice has virtually decided that Hooven, who pulled the No. 2 oar in the Columbia freshman shell, will not be able to get back in the boat, and Lorenz will be continued in the seat.

Gibbons Defeats Chicago K.O. Brown

BOSTON, June 9.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul got the decision over George "Knockout" Brown of Chicago after twelve rounds here tonight. Gibbons led throughout the bout, outpointing Brown in every session.

COULON KNOCKED OUT IN THIRD ROUND

"Kid" Williams of Baltimore New Champion Bantamweight Boxer.

VERNON, Cal., June 9.—Johnny Coulon, bantamweight champion of the world, lost his title tonight to "Kid" Williams of Baltimore, who knocked him out with a stiff right-hand punch to the chin in the third round of their twenty-round contest. The fighting was all Williams's own from the start. Coulon seemed to be unable to solve the problem of landing anywhere in the short interval of the first two rounds, and was saved at the close of the second round only by the timely ringing of the bell.

RITCHIE DEMANDS CHANGE.

Articles for Welsh Fight Revised and Difficulty is Overcome.

It was feared that there would be a hitch in the negotiations for the match between Willie Ritchie and Freddie Welsh for the lightweight championship when it was learned that, despite the report given out Monday night, Ritchie had not deposited his forfeit of $2,500, which was demanded by the club to guarantee his appearance in the ring. This difficulty was smoothed out last night at another conference with Bob Vernon, who represents the Olympia Club of London, before which the bout will be staged on July 4. Certain changes in the articles which were demanded by Ritchie were agreed to and made, and Ritchie then showed his cold cash for the first time and handed $2,500 over to Billy Gibson, who is the forfeit holder.

One of the principal causes for Ritchie asking to have the articles changed was that there was no provision made in case Eugene Corri, who has agreed to referee, was unable or unwilling at the last moment to act. The articles were so amended as to read that the referee must be Corri or some one selected by Corri. Ritchie feared that an unknown English referee might be prejudiced in favor of his English opponent.

The new set of articles were signed and the cash was deposited.

GRAVES BEATS BARTFIELD.

Three Boxing Contests with Variety of Results at Broadway S. C.

Patrons of the Broadway Sporting Club of Brooklyn received a fistic treat last night in the ten-round bout in which Kid Graves of Milwaukee, at 142 pounds, gave a fine illustration, against Soldier Bartfield, at 148, of the difference between a skilful pugilist and a hard-hitting mixer. Graves won by a shade after an exhibition that is rarely equalled, the more so, as Bartfield is a rugged, heavy hitting two-handed boxer and had a decided advantage in weight.

Eddie Cook and Willie Chandler, lightweights pummeled each other through nine rounds of hard slugging, when the referee ended the bout by forcibly helping Chandler to his corner.

Boxing Saved by Small Margin.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Prizefighting had a narrow escape from being crossed off this city's programme of future entertainments yesterday when the Board of Supervisors voted, 9 to 8, to revoke all fight permits. Under thecharter ten votes were necessary to adopt the resolution and one member of the board was absent.

NEW YORK PLAYERS WIN.

Women Tennis Experts Make Good Showing in National Title Play.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—New York players made an excellent showing today in the women's singles and doubles national championships on the courts of the Philadelphia Cricket Club at Wissahickon Heights. Mrs. Theodore Cassebeer was the only New York player to be defeated in the singles. She won her way into the second round by defeating Miss M. E. Wilcox, but failed to maintain her form against Mrs. Willard Sullivan of Richmond, Va., who won in straight sets after a hard battle. Miss Claire Cassel played a good game, as did Mrs. Edward Raymond. The latter won the singles, doubles, and mixed doubles Eastern States titles last week.

Miss Marie Wagner, the national indoor champion, with Miss Cassel as a partner, defeated Miss Isabella Pendleton of Cincinnati and Mrs. G. H. Henry of Philadelphia after three brilliant sets, one of which went to vantage. SURPRISES IN TENNIS.

Reversals of Form in New Jersey State Championship Tournament.

Two surprises marked the second day's play in the men's singles in the New Jersey State championship yesterday on the courts of the Englewood Field Club at Englewood. In the first upset of form Charles M. Bull, Jr., of the Crescent Athletic Club scored a three-set victory over Ralph L. Baggs after dropping the first love set to his opponent. Baggs, who has been playing a strong game this season, went to pieces in the second and third sets, and Bull carried off the honors.

The victory of George C. Shafer over Frederick C. Baggs in straight sets was the second pronounced reversal. Shafer held the upper hand throughout, and outplayed his opponent with little effort. This was Shafer's second victory of the day, Gwynne Frenchi being his victim in the first round.

Several leading players displayed good form. Louis Graves won two matches by superior play. In the second round Graves won from T. B. Stickney in straight sets, while in the third T. O. Garett fell before his superiority in the second round. In the four sets played Graves's opponents scared but five games. The summary:

Johnston Wins Frisco Title.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—William M. Johnston, Pacific Coast tennis champion, New York State champion, and holder of the Longwood Cup, won the San Francisco tournament today, but he was hard pressed in the final by Roland Roberts, a lad of 17, whose play has been the sensation of the tournament. The score by sets: 6—4, 4—6, 7—5, 6—4. John R. Strachan, national clay court tennis champion, will not defend his title at Cincinnati this year.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10, 1914.

A PROMISE OF PLENTY.

When the crops fail it is hard to escape adversity. When crops are such as is now promised it is equally difficult to escape prosperity. This year's harvest is not a matter of psychology, except perhaps regarding cotton. Regarding that the planters are still doing all in their power to produce scarcity prices by predicting them, and may yet be disappointed to find how well the abundance of their yield makes good the deficiency in price. As regards other crops prediction is fast passing into realization as to both yield and price. The Winter wheat crop is made. Nature's part is done, and it remains only to harvest the 638,000,000 bushels which are in sight.

An increase of 114,000,000 bushels above the previous maximum is a sad blow to the pessimists. Their indignation grows as they contemplate the excellence of the foreign demand at prices which do not collapse as they ought in the face of such incredible abundance. The reason is that world stocks are low, and all the talent had sold in anticipation of the good news, with the result that they advanced prices by overselling. The distress of those who thrive in adversity is likely to deepen as the season advances. The Spring wheat crop will not be reduced, as it sometimes is when the Winter crop is large. On the contrary, it will be larger than last year, and will carry the total wheat crop to near 150,000,000 above the maximum. Good weather for wheat is good for grass, and the humble hay crop is no more to be despised than the hen, which lays truly golden eggs. Last year the hay crop was worth $797,000,000, and wheat was worth only $610,000,000. If this year's hay is worth, say, $200,000,000 more than 900,000,000 bushels of wheat the figures of wealth from the soil become dazzling.

Corn is the biggest cash crop, and the figures regarding it are not available yet. Oats will be next to the record, a fact which assures abundance for breakfast for both man and beast. With hay and oats abundant there can be no natural reason for a shortage in animal products, which add about a half to the crop products of the farms. Last year farm products approximated $10,000,000,000. This year it is dollars to doughnuts that $10,000,000,000 will be less than the farmers' income. Who would not be a farmer, with license to join associations "not for profit" to raise prices to the ultimate consumer above these modest figures? It is unfashionable to be hopeful these days, but it takes invincible resolution to resist such incitements to optimism as these figures, surpassing all but immoderate imagination, and carrying dismay to those hoping that the worst is yet to come.

JEWS IN RUSSIA.

So clear and detailed an account of the methods employed by the Russian Government in the last thirty years to persecute the Jews (restricting their liberty, hampering their efforts to gain a livelihood, denying them privileges which are permitted elsewhere even to criminals and outcasts,) as that presented by KURT ARAM in THE TIMES last Sunday, has not hitherto appeared in print in this country. This article does not treat of what may be called the spectacular side of Russian persecution. It does not deal with slaughter. It shows only how the few rights the Jews have possessed have been taken from them, how they have been fooled, robbed and insulted in the name of the law.

Thirty years ago they had the right of domicile in about one-quarter of Russia. Recent "elucidations" of the law of 1882 have diminished the radius of their domicile. Craftsmen who have been using modern machinery, for instance, have been reclassified as manufacturers, and, as there has been no provision for such in the regulations affecting Jews, have been deprived of the right to live and work. In a hundred similar petty ways the letter and spirit of the law have been misinterpreted to restrict the privileges of the Russian Jew.

The percentage of pauperism among the Jews has inevitably increased. Yet the modern Jew did not invade Russia any more than the Slav. It is his home, though it is made uninhabitable for him. KURT ARAM's plain, unexaggerated tale should not only arouse sympathy with the persecuted Russian Jew, but should cause in every decent mind a sense of shame that such abominable misrule can exist in a country which claims to be Christian and civilized.

MR. M'ADOO CHANGES HIS MIND.

Having discovered, upon examination of the deed, as, indeed, he might have learned by consulting almost any resident of New York of mature years, that the site of the downtown Post Office was conveyed to the United States Government upon the condition that if the premises should ever be used for any other purpose than that of the Federal Post Office and courts the title should revert to the city, Secretary MCADOO has decided that the charge of $1,000,000 for an easement for building the subway under the building is excessive. The probability is, therefore, that no charge whatever will be made for the easement.

It is a great pity that the subway must run under the building at all. Its usefulness as a Post Office and home for the Federal courts is nearly ended. Within a few years the site will be turned over to the city and restored to City Hall Park. But in the meanwhile, thanks to Mr. MCADOO's happy thought of looking up the deed, the building of a subway to accommodate 5,000,000 inhabitants of New York and a few million visitors can proceed.

"LET THEM DIE!"

Cruel words they seem to be, but a catalogue of the outrages lately committed by the British militants in the name of their cause, which, viewed in the most favorable light, must be considered of comparatively small importance in its relation to human progress, would amaze even an anarchist. That royalty has been three times insulted within as many days is, indeed, as Queen MARY intimated, a small matter in comparison with the destructive work of the militants. They have aroused the country now, and not to the support of their cause either. England is tired of militant suffragism, and if the Government will not take measures to suppress it the people will. It would be much better for the Government to do it, but it must adopt new measures, abandon cat and mouse methods, bestir itself to make the name of the law respected even by harridans if it is going to save the country from an outbreak of mob law and lynching.

Forcible feeding, except on rare occasions, is preposterous. That practice in the case of convicted militants who have tried to starve themselves should be abandoned. Nothing can be clearer than the futility of forcible feeding of militants. The course advised by many humane persons, including some distinguished clergymen, is to provide food for the prisoners, and if they refuse to eat let them die.

Probably the idea of those who advise this course is that few, if any of them, would actually starve themselves to death. Perhaps none would. At the risk of making a martyr or two to add lustre to the cause of militant suffragism, however, it seems that Mr. ASQUITH's Government must be firm enough to adopt this course. If it had been adopted in the beginning there would have been no martyrdom and militantism would have speedily disappeared. Probably a few real zealots have been developed by the triumphs of the militants over the Government.

SOBERED FRANCE.

What shall be the policy of the Cabinet formed yesterday by M. RIBOT? The Ministry of DOUMERGUE resigned because it could not govern—it was destroyed by factions. Equally unstable were the Governments of BARTHOU, of BRIAND, of POINCARE, of CAILLAUX, of MONIS, of the first Briand Ministry, of CLEMENCEAU, of SARRIEN, and of ROUVIER. The Government has changed four times in one year. The last Ministry that showed relative stability was that of M. COMBES, who resigned in January, 1905, after a troubled Premiership of two and a half years. M. RIBOT is one of the Elder Statesmen of France.

He should know better, perhaps, than any other man the weaknesses of the Third Republic and its sources of strength. He has served in successive Cabinets as Director of Criminal Affairs, as Secretary General at the Ministry of Justice, as Foreign Minister, Minister of Finance, and Premier. As Foreign Minister in the Freycinet Cabinet he made a keen and sympathetic study of the British Parliamentary system, with its powerful majorities; and he had previously devoted himself to questions of finance, serving as Reporter of the Budget. In 1891 he directed French policy into a treaty of alliance with Russia. RIBOT belongs now to no faction.

Necessity disregards all things. Petty local interests may split the French Parliament into impotent groups. The politicians may wrangle and raise national scandals. But when the credit of a thrifty people begins to suffer, when foreign relations in which the French Nation's business prosperity is involved are threatened, and when menacing neighbors arm more heavily; then the strife for small advantages in the Chambers must cease and the groups must join in support of the Government. No doubt the 4,000,000 electors of France who are called upon to pay its increased expenses will submit to the income tax if they are assured of a better economy at home and improved business relations abroad. Electoral reform, the tax upon incomes, and the extension of army service to three years—if that will strengthen the position of France with the other Powers—should be parts of M. RIBOT's programme which he is capable of presenting with skill and with the strong plea of national necessity.

NEW YORK'S SENATORSHIP.

There are more reasons than one why it is to be hoped that Senator ROOT will reconsider his reported determination not to be a candidate for re-election, which, by the way, has been neither refuted nor confirmed. There is the obvious one that he is the intellectual leader of the United States Senate, and that the people of his State should not be deprived of his great ability and his eminent services by his own act. But there is another. This year the election of Senators by the people is to have its first country-wide trial. The adoption of the change in the Constitution was opposed by many who distrusted the ability of the people to select as fit servants as could be selected for them by Legislatures. Whether that distrust was justfied or not no man can know until the people have answered the question themselves by the use they make of the power given them. It is much to be desired that they shall render the verdict in their own favor emphatically the first time they have the opportunity, and that time is this year.

In this State we are also trying for the first time the nomination of candidates by direct vote of the people. It is much to be desired that we shall ascertain at once what the people will do when a public servant of proved and great abilities, which have not only made him conspicuous, but have reflected vast credit on his State throughout the nation, comes before them opposed by demagogy, clap-trap and personal revenge; and we already have an indication that these instruments will be prominently exerted against Senator ROOT if he dares to stand for re-election. Popular elections are on trial; Mr. ROOT owes it to the people to see, so far as he can, that the trial is so thorough a one as to give the voters a chance to answer their detractors.

Should he be a candidate, there is no name that stands out conspicuously on the Republican side against him. The rank and file of the Republican Party will do the nominating. Mr. HEARST's recent outpouring indicates a fear, which may or may not be based on information, that there will be a fusion between the Republicans and Progressives in which the Gubernatorial nomination will go to ROOSEVELT and the Senatorial to ROOT. On that point no information will be of any value until the Progressive Party returns from the wedding at Madrid. On its face Mr. HEARST's pronunciamento seems a straight-out proposal for the nomination of ROOSEVELT for Governor and HEARST for Senator on a Progressive ticket. If the Democrats are not scared into nominating him by this demonstration, it is difficult to say who their candidate will be.

MEANING OF THE TEXAS RATES DECISION.

It minimizes the decision of the Supreme Court to call it the Shreveport case. The rates which are annulled were not fixed with reference to Shreveport. They were State wide rates, adopted because the Texas commission thought them reasonable. They were, in fact, declared to be reasonable in themselves by the Interstate Commerce decision. They are annulled because they conflict with interstate rates also declared to be reasonable. The higher authority of the Federal rate was declared successively by the Interstate Commission, by the Commerce Court upon appeal, and now by the highest authority. To appreciate the far-reaching effect of the decision it is only necessary to reflect that but a small part of railway traffic is entirely within a State. Most journeys and consignments of freight cross State lines at either the beginning or the end. A State which controlled even a few miles at either end or in the middle of the route might make the interstate rate if allowed control of the part within its limits.

There is nothing theoretical about this. What Texas did, in fact, without intending it, Alabama did with intention, making a rate prejudicial to the Florida fish trade. Louisiana made a rate on Texas oil as prejudicial to Texas as the Texas rate was to Shreveport's jobbing trade. The idea was so strong that States could make interstate rates that there had grown up a demand for the Interstate Commerce Commission to make joint rates composed of State passenger rates lower than interstate rates. Passengers complained of the inconvenience of breaking their rides and buying several tickets in order to take advantage of two-cent fare laws when lower than interstate rates which the commission regarded as reasonable.

This method of nibbling away at railway rates by attacking them piecemeal is ended. Before it was doubtful how the inconsistency between State and interstate rates was to be remedied, whether by the reduction of the interstate rates or by the raising of the State rates. The Texas decision immediately controls an area equal to Germany, and one where the anti-railway sentiment has been rabid. It cannot absorb another State's commerce by uneconomic competition, making profit for its merchants at the expense of railways forced to cut one another's rates to get traffic. Nominally the collision is between State and nation. The economic collision has been between regulation and competition, and regulation has won. There will be other applications of the principle asserted in the Texas case, and they will make for stability of trade and for the welfare of merchants and railways, as well as for the good of the nation. The importance of the decision will grow with appreciation of it from an economic standpoint. The political bearings are not so clear. It will be interesting to see how Texas accommodates itself to the check to its crusade against common carriers. From a Texas standpoint it is a fair inquiry, since rates declared reasonable are invalidated, just how unreasonable must a State make its rates to satisfy Washington requirements? That, of course, is the Texas way of putting it, and the question is not without interest from any standpoint.

WHAT EMPLOYERS AND MEN MUST DO.

The risks in forty-two "hazardous" occupations will receive radically different treatment at law in this State after July 1, when the Workmen's Compensation act becomes effective. Millions of employés, as well as the men who hire them, are individually concerned. Each must find out for himself just what he may do and what he may not do in the way of insuring himself against accidents.

Specific things workmen are forbidden to do in any other way than that provided by the act. They must avoid certain plans of indemnity, they must not waive any right. Similarly, employers are bound by the terms of the new law, which they must learn for themselves. The article which THE TIMES prints elsewhere today is the first of a series of four on this question, carefully covering the chief points involved.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Advertisers Do Have Their Rights.

HENRY B. JOY, the automobile manufacturer, has, of course, like any other business man, the best of rights to use his own judgment in purchasing publicity for his wares—to buy advertising space, that is, where he thinks it most advantageous, or satisfactorily advantageous, to himself. He has an equally good right not to advertise in papers which do not give the sort or amount of publicity he needs. He may properly withhold his advertising from papers that advocate policies in his opinion injurious to his business or to business in general, if they do it so efficaciously that he thinks he is more harmed by what they are than helped by what they can give.

So far as the letter by Mr. JOY which was published yesterday is a formulation of these statements, it merely stated some self-evident truths, and therefore is beyond fair criticism. One cannot ignore, however, the fact that the publication of the letter, presumably with Mr. JOY's consent, and possibly by his procurement, made it in effect a presentation to other manufacturers of the reasons which guide him in placing his advertising appropriation, and, by inevitable implication, an appeal to them to use the same discrimination. In so doing Mr. JOY traveled a considerable distance beyond his obvious rights and entered a field where he will be subjected to criticism more or less severe.

It is one thing not to patronize a certain grocer, but quite another to go about advising other people also to withhold their custom from him. To do an analogous thing in the case of a newspaper is an evident attempt to bring to bear upon the press an influence the effect of which would be to destroy its freedom of opinion and expression to the exact degree in which the influence was successful. It would be not only a form of oppression, but it would be a form of corruption, and one glimpses in it that which the law so sternly reprehends—to wit, conspiracy.

Parted by Spanish Etiquette.

As King ALFONSO and Col. ROOSEVELT had already "met" in London, and as in all probability each interests the other, it seems an absurdity as well as a pity that when the two were occupants of the same dining car they could not speak because they were in Spain and a formal presentation by the American Ambassador had not yet been made. It seems that such was the case, however, for Spanish etiquette is still more rigorous than that observed in other parts of Europe, and although the present King has revolted against and broken through a good many of the innumerable regulations which made life weary for his predecessors, he is still the more or less discontented slave of old customs not a few.

Probably those to which the young King still submits have some remnant of the original utility on which practically all old customs rest, but it must have fretted him as much as it did the Colonel to eat apart and in silence when they could have fared so much more pleasantly together.

Of course King ALFONSO does not share the illusion which certain Spanish papers are charged with trying to foster—the illusion that the Colonel is or ever was an enemy of the Spanish people. He once took part in a war against their Government, but the Spaniards, who at one time or another have fought with most of the world's peoples, should be the last to count that an excuse for lasting animosity.

Quite possibly it has occurred to ALFONSO as to others that there is something of likeness between Col. ROOSEVELT and GEORGE BORROW, in some ways the most interesting speaker of English that has hitherto visited the Iberian Peninsula. BORROW, like ROOSEVELT, was an out-of-doors man, a lover of high adventure and exciting experiences, a keen student of nature and of books, and like him, too, in being the object of bitter antagonisms and fervent enthusiasms. Both make the irresistible appeal to attention. Their essential difference is that BORROW was romantic, while ROOSEVELT, though equally picturesque, has a practicality which the other lacked and will never fall in his old age into the gloomy brooding of the man with a grievance against his kind.

A Bridegroom Issues a Warning.

Another brilliant gem from the rural press is a formal announcement to all and sundry made by one WESLEY CLARK of Udora, Ontario, which appears in The Uxbridge Free Press, a little paper published in the same province. Mr. CLARK's proclamation is at once a defense and a warning, and runs thus:

> Parties should beware that any one molesting me on the night of my marriage will be severely dealt with, or any other time. I keep my own home and am well able to take care of a wife; my motto is to pay cash, and not stand about the store.

Evidently it is the habit of Udora to give Mr. and Mrs. Newlywed a cacophonous serenade, with such rough horseplay added as ingenuity and opportunity suggest. As obviously Mr. CLARK was apprehensive of trouble, and, whether wisely or not, went to meet it. But why are paying cash and not standing about the store presented as though they were antitheses?

Repeating an Old Definition.

After solemn deliberation, a committee appointed for the purpose by the International Amateur Athletic Association, now convened in France, has defined an amateur as one who competes only for the love of sport and a professional as one who accepts money or other pecuniary reward—if he can get it. The definition is further complicated by provisions to cover special cases like those of coaches and trainers, and some discretion is left to the several organizations in the federation in dealing with their own members, but taking or not taking money remains the essential distinction between the amateur and the professional.

In other words, the situation is just what it has always been, with all of the old opportunities for deception, concealment, and controversy. Even the international yacht races present a topic for discussion, sailed as the boats are mostly by hired sailors. Strictly speaking, is this or is it not amateur sport?

A PARTY WITHOUT A MAN.

Therein Lies the Glory of the Republicans, Says Mr. Barnes.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I have read your editorial entitled "Not a Man in Sight," and have marveled at its conclusions that the Republican Party is in a plight—"the plight of a party without a man."

For some years up to 1912 the plight of the Republican Party was that it suffered from a man. Since 1896 the Democratic Party has suffered from the plight that it was a party which had a man.

For many years it was the glory of the Republican Party that it was not the possession of a man.

The Progressive Party at the present time is suffering from the fact that it belongs to a man. The Republican Party, if it means anything in the United States, means that it is not a party of a man.

All our latter-day thinking, our direct primary legislation, &c., has led the people of this country into the morass of one-man power. If this Republic is to endure at all, it will only do so by the destruction of the one-man idea. I believe that the people of this country in their sober senses demand their right to live, to enjoy liberty, to trade with one another and with foreigners; to work, to save, and to be secure. They are sick of "programmes" and propaganda. They are sick of being exploited by this or that candidate who travels from place to place to arouse them to a sense of grievance where they have none.

The Republican Party in this country has been the party of sound common sense and has resisted hysteria wherever it has raised its head. Having rid itself of one-man power, I hope the time will never come when the Republican Party will again be the plaything of a personal ambition.

It is not a "plight" of the Republican Party today that it is not the possession of one man; it is its glory.

HEARST AND ROOSEVELT.

From The World.

No obstacles should be placed in the way of a political alliance between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hearst. They are twin souls and belong together.

There are no other two men in American politics who have so much in common. Both of them detest the Wilson Administration. Both of them are opposed to the Underwood-Simmons tariff. Both of them are jingoes who are fundamentally antagonistic to the President's Mexican policy. Both of them are in favor of breaking faith in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty in order to give a subsidy to the coastwise monopoly. Both of them profess to believe that the Wilson Administration is responsible for hard times. Both froth at the mouth at every mention of the Colombian treaty.

Both of them advocate regulated monopoly. Both of them are against an impartial enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law. Both of them favor the initiative, referendum, and recall. Both of them are demogogic critics of courts and Judges. Both of them are vehement in denouncing all bosses except themselves. Both of them were educated at the same university and have spent their lives in political agitation. Both of them were born to fortune and relieved of the necessity of earning their daily bread, which has enabled them to devote themselves unremittingly to the exploitation of their own ambition. Both are perpetual candidates, with a vagrant party allegiance that can be held only by honors and office.

Both of them believe in militarism and imperialism. Both of them are against independence for the Philippines. Both of them believe in centralized government. Both of them are on intimate terms with certain forms of Big Business, and both of them favor the use of governmental power to make fortunes for favored individuals.

Of the two, Mr. Roosevelt has more ability and is more versatile, but Mr. Hearst has more political independence and courage. Mr. Hearst always finances his own campaigns; Mr. Roosevelt gets gentlemen in Wall Street to finance his campaigns; but this is a difference in method rather than of principle. If Mr. Roosevelt were as rich as Mr. Hearst, he would probably do his own financing too. Mr. Roosevelt is more popular than Mr. Hearst, but Mr. Hearst goes to press oftener than Mr. Roosevelt and has a greater talent for appearing disinterested when "putting something over."

The only personal difference between them arose over Mr. Roosevelt's direct charge that Mr. Hearst was morally responsible for the assassination of President McKinley; but Mr. Roosevelt subsequently received Mr. Hearst at the White House, and so that rift in the lute has been mended.

Armageddon is big enough for both of them, and Mr. Hearst is not averse to battling for the Lord provided the gate receipts are equitably divided.

Speed of Vessels.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In today's edition of your valued paper it is announced that the day's run of the Aquitania was 527 "knots." Permit me to call your attention to the wrong interpretation commonly given to the term "knot."

"One knot" is a measure of the velocity—not a measure of the distance—and means one nautical mile per hour. It therefore includes the measure of distance and the measure of time. It is wrong to say "a vessel runs twenty-three knots an hour." Either "twenty-three knots" or "twenty-three miles an hour" is right. But it is apparent from the above that for the same reason it is wrong to say "The day's run was 527 knots," because you wish to express the distance which that boat ran in one day. It should read, "The day's run was 527 nautical miles."

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION.

I.

The New Law Waives the Question of Contributory Negligence, but Frees Employers from Damage Suits.

The new Workmen's Compensation act will become operative on July 1. The law has really been in effect since Jan. 1, but only for the purpose of permitting the State to organize the so-called Workmen's Compensation Commission and to establish the machinery required for its administration.

After July 1 the present system, involving the liability of employers under the common law for negligence resulting in death or injury to their employes, will be discontinued and "compensation," within the meaning of the new law, be substituted. The Workmen's Compensation act is mandatory and therefore binding on both employers and employes in all its provisions to an extent where it would be unlawful even by mutual agreement for an employer to shirk any of the obligations the law imposes or for an employe to waive any of the rights it confers, or to substitute for the plan embodied in the law any other plan of indemnity, no matter how beneficent it might be to the employe.

A radical departure from the present law is the provision in the Workmen's Compensation act depriving the employer of the right he now enjoys of pleading that the death or injury to an employe was purely incidental to a risk of which he was aware and willingly assumed when he entered the employment in which he was killed or injured. Employers will also be deprived of the plea of contributory negligence on the part of the employe, claiming compensation for injury or death, and of the plea that the injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow-employe which the employer had no power to prevent.

Under the Workmen's Compensation act all employers subject to the law must pay or provide "compensation" for the disability or death of their employes, "resulting from an accidental personal injury, sustained by the employe and arising out of and in the course of his employment," without regard to the fault of either employer or employe, with these sole exceptions:

1—Where the injury is due to the willful intention of the injured employe.

2—Where the injury results solely from intoxication of such an employe while on duty.

The intention of the law was to provide compensation only for persons engaged in what is known as "hazardous employment." Forty-two groups of occupations are specified in the act as coming within this meaning. In substance the definitions laid down by Sir William Ralph Meredith, Chief Justice of the Province of Ontario, Canada, have been used by the framers of the New York Workmen's Compensation act.

The act makes specific exemption for these employments:

1—Farm labor.

2—Domestic service.

3—Any pursuit not engaged in by the employer for pecuniary gain.

This exemption applies even if the class of labor performed by the employe and resulting in death or injury to him should come strictly within the categories of employment written into the body of the law as being "hazardous," and as such rendering the employer liable in the case of injury or death to the worker.

To provide against the failure of an employer to properly meet claims of employes arising under the Workmen's Compensation act, that statute provides that all employers of labor in hazardous occupations, within the meaning of the law, must insure their liabilities. Four methods are provided. These are:

1—Insurance in a State fund, administered by the Workmen's Compensation Commission.

2—Insurance in a stock insurance company authorized to write workmen's compensation insurance in this State.

3—Insurance in a mutual insurance association formed by a group of employers for this purpose.

4—Self insurance.

The last-named method will be available only to employers of unquestioned financial standing, who, upon furnishing satisfactory proof to the Workmen's Compensation Commission and upon furnishing high-class security in such amount as the commission may require, will be permitted to assume their liabilities under the law without insuring them.

Employers who desire to insure their risks with a private concern may have recourse to the present employers' liability insurance companies. When the Workmen's Compensation act was passed last December a companion measure was enacted also, giving the Superintendent of Insurance enlarged power in the matter of supervising rates of companies on risks assumed under the compensation act.

Another law enacted at the time provides that mutual insurance associations to engage in the insurance of risks under the Workmen's Compensation act may be formed by not less than forty employers who employ in the aggregate not less than 2,500 workmen. The Insurance Department will have the same ample jurisdiction over the conduct of these mutual concerns and their rates as over the stock companies, with a view of assuring at all times their solvency and stability.

The Compensation Commission is working out at present its premium schedules, and sample policies for insurance through the State fund will be available within a very few days. The necessary preliminaries to obtaining insurance in the State fund is the signing of an application and filing with this application a copy of the complete payroll of the concern, with the amounts paid each employe and the character of his employment specified.

The weekly wage of an employe is the basis for compensation payments under the new law. If an employe who meets injury or death in any of the hazardous employments falling within the provisions of the law should be employed by the day, his daily wage multiplied by 300 and the product divided by 52 would be the basis.

This applies to cases of total permanent or total temporary disability. If the injuries cause total permanent disability, the injured employe will be a beneficiary under the compensation system for the rest of his or her natural life; if the disability is merely temporary, during the period of disability.

In both instances the injured employe is entitled to two-thirds of the weekly wage he was receiving when injured, with these limitations only, that the weekly compensation shall in no case be more than $15 or less than $5. If the injured employe is a minor, the fact that under normal conditions his wages would be expected to increase may be considered, should the commission so decide, in arriving at his average weekly wage.

Elaborate schedules to provide for the compensation payments in cases of permanent partial disability and in the case of death have been embodied in the law. The loss of both hands, or both arms, or both feet, or both eyes, or the loss of one foot and one hand, or one hand and one eye, or of any two of the members enumerated, in the absence of any conclusive proof to the contrary, must be construed under the law as total permanent disability.

This schedule is provided for permanent partial disability; the payments in each case being 66 2-3 per cent. of the weekly wage:

Loss of thumb, 60 weeks; index finger, 46 weeks; second finger, 30 weeks; fourth finger, 25 weeks; great toe, 38 weeks; any other toe, 16 weeks; hand, 244 weeks; arm, 312 weeks; foot, 205 weeks; leg, 288 weeks; eye, 128 weeks.

If one phalange of either a finger or a toe is lost, the payment shall be on the basis of one-half of the amount paid for the total loss of such a finger or toe. The loss of two phalanges is made the equivalent of the loss of the entire finger or toe. Permanent loss of the use of an arm, or a leg, or a hand, or a foot, or an eye is construed in the law as equivalent to the loss of such member. Amputation below the elbow or the knee entitles the injured workman to compensation for the loss of hand or foot as the case may be. Amputation above the elbow or the knee is made equivalent to the loss of arm or leg.

The law provides, in a general way, for compensation to indemnify injured workmen whose partial temporary disability is due to other causes than those specified. This general provision gives the injured employe two-thirds of the difference between his wages at the time the injury was received and his earning capacity thereafter, with the limitation that the total payments shall not be in excess of $3,500.

In partial disability cases resulting from causes specified above it is provided that for any cases except where the loss of an arm, or a leg, or a hand, or a foot, or an eye, the compensation shall not be more than $15 and not less than $5 a week. For the complete loss of any of these members the maximum is placed at $20, the minimum at $5, except where the wages of the injured workman is less than $5, when he is entitled only to the amount of his salary as compensation.

The fact that an employe has suffered or received compensation for previous disability does not preclude his receiving compensation for later injuries.

Employers are not required to pay compensation for the first two weeks of disability in any case. Employers are required in all cases during a period of sixty days to furnish medical and surgical care, nurse and hospital treatment for an injured employe, as well as crutches or other implements he may require as a result of his injury, if he calls for them.

In computing death benefits under the compensation act earnings of the employe in excess of $100 a month need not be taken into account, as that is the limit on which compensation is paid to the dependents of a workman who has met accidental death in any of the "hazardous" employments to which the benefits under the new law extend.

Here is the schedule of death payments demanded under the law:

1. Surviving widow, or dependent husband, is entitled to receive 30 per cent. of the dead employe's wage. A widow on remarrying is entitled to receive two years' compensation in a lump sum; thereafter all further payments stop.

2. Each child under and until 18 years of age, 10 per cent. if widow survives. If no widow survives each such child is entitled to receive 15 per cent. of the weekly wage until he reaches the age of 18.

3. If the amounts paid out do not equal two-thirds of the weekly wage 15 per cent. of the wage must be paid for the support of dependent grandchildren, or brothers or sisters, but not beyond the time when they reach the age of 18.

4. Dependent grandparents may receive for their support at the rate of 15 per cent. of the weekly wage, if two-thirds of that wage has not already been disposed of in other manner.

Death payments are limited strictly to two-thirds of the weekly wage, but there is no limit placed on the aggregate of gross payments.

Employers must pay reasonable funeral expenses, not to exceed $100, in cases of employes meeting accidental death entitling their dependents to compensation.

The Value of Gymnastics.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Twice has your reporter of proceedings of the N. Y. U. Alumni Association reported me as "bent with age." I deny the soft impeachment. Gymnastics in my youth made my figure straight, and I am as straight now as I was then. Age has not bent me an inch.

Widowed Mother Left Unprovided.

A young mother with a two-weeks-old baby and little girls four and two years old is without resources. Her husband died suddenly five months ago, stricken down before he had had an opportunity to make any provision for his wife and children beyond $300 insurance, which is now expended. Her own bewildered attempt to support herself by taking boarders met with little success. Suitable rooms were found for her before the baby's birth and a young woman friend still boards with her. A nurse is going in regularly to care for her and the baby, and a woman is staying with her every day to keep the home in order and look after the children. She needs help to pay her expenses during her convalescence and later will continue to need help with the rent of the home. The interest of one person has been secured to pay $50 out of the $150 which it is estimated she will need during the next six months. The Charity Organization Society asks for $100 to provide for the balance.

Gifts may be sent to the office of the society, 105 East Twenty-second Street.

The society acknowledges with thanks the following contributions sent in response to previous appeals in THE TIMES: "B. O.," $1; "A Friend," $2; "Cash," $1; "I. M. A.," $1; Mrs. Payson Merrill, $5; "C. L. R. B.," $5; Mrs. Richard March Hoe, $20; "B. M. R.," $2; Mrs. Belle Leerburger, $5; "Cash," $1; "C. K. H.," $3; "E. B. S.," $1; "Cash," $1.

MAIA.

God of Illusion, where is your power?
One time you held me, thralled by your spell.
Far off you hailed me; now, in this hour,
Heaven is mockery, barren is Hell.

Might would be mine and control of dominions,
King of the land and king of the sea;
Lord am I, yet, yonder gull on his pinions,
Skimming the wave, makes a prisoner of me.

Gold I should have and the treasure of mountains,
Riches untold at my slightest command.
Lo! it was done, and 'mid gardens and fountains,
I envy the children at play in the sand.

Love you were bringing, flame-winged and eternal,
Fire to make holy my heart and my will.
Clouds shroud the starlight that once shone supernal;
Love I have known—is there greater love still?

God of Illusion, clothe me with gladness,
Once more a seer and a dreamer of dreams,
Once more a rover, strike me with madness,
Lose me again on your far-winding streams.

LAUNCHES SARCASM AT ADMINISTRATION

Redfield a Spouter of Twisted Prosperity Figures, Says Congressman Humphrey.

BITTERLY ATTACKS WILSON

President Twitted for Mexican Policy, Arlington Address and Psychology—Marshall's Manicure Talk.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Secretary of Commerce Redfield was referred to in the House today as "that circulating vocabulary of the Administration" and as a "spouter of twisted figures" by Representative William E. Humphrey, Republican, of Washington. He said that Mr. Redfield was engaged in an effort to demonstrate to the country that it was in the midst of prosperity through the medium of "doctored reports" from "discredited experts."

Mr. Humphrey also directed shafts of sarcasm at the President and paid his respects to Vice President Marshall, who, he asserted, had given out a "prosperity interview while having his nails manicured."

"What a fascinating female the manicurist must have been to make the world look so roseate to our own Thomas Riley!" exclaimed the Washington Congressman. "His optimism must have been psychological."

Mr. Humphrey's speech was the bitterest of his numerous attacks upon the Administration during the session. He declared that "the business of the Nation is decreasing $1,000,000 an hour" under the present Administration, while 250,000 freight cars were idle on May 1. Now, he said, 3,000,000 men were out of work and the prices of stocks had decreased.

"Of course," he said, "these figures are psychological. I protest against this reflection by the President upon that oratorical demonstrator of efficency, that vocal creator of imaginary prosperity, that suave sophist, the radiant and serene Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Redfield. He is the optimistic spouter of twisted figures, who never met a truth he could not strangle, nor a fact which he could not vanquish.

"A few days ago the President refused, as he had refused a year ago, to go to Arlington on that sacred day when a grateful nation pays its tribute of loving remembrance to its heroic dead. An invitation was extended to the patriotic Speaker of this House to be the orator on that occasion. Then the President, without knowing of this invitation to the Speaker and without communicating the fact to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, suddenly changed his mind. True, this was a strange and striking coincident, but no doubt the reason was that it was psychological.

"A few days ago we practically declared war against an individual, not because American citizens have been murdered, not because millions of American property has been destroyed, but because he persisted in firing five rounds in salute instead of twenty-one. I cannot understand why the President and Huerta did not compromise on the magic thirteen.

"Then one of the mightiest battleship squadrons of the world was rushed to the coast of Mexico to blockade her ports, and Vera Cruz was seized to prevent the landing of a cargo containing munitions of war by a German ship. In this undertaking seventeen brave American boys gave up their lives in the heroic performance of duty. A few days ago this same ship unloaded this same cargo unmolested, and these same guns, shotted with the same ammunition, are ready to be turned upon American soldiers."

PRAISES WOMEN VOTERS.

Ex-Vice President Fairbanks Says Men Need Their Help.

NEW HARMONY, Ind., June 9.—"The ballot in the hands of woman has not been a firebrand, but a steadying, wholesome influence," declared Charles W. Fairbanks, former Vice President, who was the principal speaker tonight on the Woman's Day programme in connection with the centennial celebration being held here.

"By what divine patent do men monopolize political power?" he continued. "The right of women to vote has been conferred in many States; the experiment has not proven disastrous. There were prophets of evil when it was attempted, but the rafters of the Republic have not fallen. Chaos has not comen; on the contrary, orderly progress has been maintained.

"We should heed past experience, avoiding the errors committed in our immaturity. No thoughtful person fails to realize that we shall need the combined wisdom of both men and women in meeting the many problems which shall confront us from time time in our social and political affairs."

Mrs. Della Mann Owen and Mrs. Rachel Fauntleroy, two of the charter members of what is declared to have been the first woman's club in the United States, attended today's celebration. It was at the old Fauntleroy home here that the Minerva Club was organized in 1850. Women's club leaders from all over the State asserted that the Minerva Club antedated Sorosis of New York, usually credited with being the pioneer club in the movement.

PLAY FOR WOMEN'S VOTES.

Practical Politics Pays Court to Convention of Women's Clubs.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The suffrage question will be a live issue during the convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs which meets here tomorrow.

According to a report current among the delegates today practical politicians with an eye on the woman vote are working quietly to keep the prohibition question from arising in the convention.

The suffragists today asserted that they had won a point at the meeting of the General Council. They asserted that a majority of those present expressed themselves in favor of permitting woman's suffrage organizations to have representation in the convention on an equality with non-political clubs.

Women's clubs are permitted to send delegates, and the State organizations with which they are affiliated also send them, but, as the rule stands at present, while suffrage clubs individually may appoint delegates, their State organizations may not. The council, it is asserted, indicated yesterday that it would favor the admittance of delegates from State equal suffrage organizations.

Every train today brought delegations. More than 4,000 delegates arrived here yesterday and 6,000 today.

Delegates from Indiana have a candidate for the Presidency of the federation in 1916 in the person of Grace Julian Clarke of Indianapolis. It is assumed that custom will be followed in the re-election of Mrs. Percival V. Pennypacker of Texas as President this year.

CHURCH ARCHITECT CHOSEN

Bertram G. Goodhue Will Plan the New St. Bartholomew's.

Announcement was made yesterday that Bertram G. Goodhue, who was associated with Ralph A. Cram in designing St. Thomas's Church, at Fifth Avenue and Fifty-third Street, and also designed the Intercession Chapel in Upper Broadway, had been selected to prepare plans for the new church to be erected by St. Bartholomew's congregation in Park Avenue, between Fiftieth and Fifty-first Streets. The Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks and the church's committee on fabric will confer with him soon concerning the details.

Discussing plans for the new church, Dr. Parks said yesterday that beyond the selection of Mr. Goodhue as the architect nothing had been decided.

CROSS SWORDS FOR NAVAL BRIDAL PAIR

Lieut. J. S. Abbott and Miss Ernestine Rhein Wed in Heavenly Rest Church.

SWORD SALUTE FOLLOWS

Best Man and Ushers in Full Dress Uniform at Marriage of the Dixie's Executive Officer.

Lieut. John Strong Abbott, U. S. N., and Miss Ernestine Van Wyck Rhein, the elder daughter of Dr. M. L. Rhein and Mrs. Rhein of 28 East Sixty-first Street, had a naval wedding yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Church of the Heavenly Rest, at Forty-fifth Street and Fifth Avenue, including the ceremony of crossed swords. Officers were in full dress uniforms as best man and ushers, and many attended the wedding.

The only decorations of the edifice were huge palms at each side of the chancel and bowls of white peonies on the altar. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herbert Shipman, rector of the church, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Matthews.

The bride, who walked up the nave with her father, wore a white satin gown with a court train, a trail of point lace ran down one side, caught with orange blossoms. The low-cut corsage was of shirred white tulle with point lace, and she wore a point lace veil arranged in a tiny pointed cap effect, that showed her coiffure; a spray of orange blossoms marked the point of the cap. She wore several jeweled ornaments, wedding gifts, and carried lilies of the valley and white orchids.

Miss Ruth Rhein, a sister of the bride, was her only attendant, and wore the navy colors, blue and gold. Her frock of changeable blue and gold taffeta had a draped skirt. The gown had touches of blue tulle and a blue tulle cape edged with gold color fell from the neck at the back. She wore gold-colored hose and slippers. Her large straw hat was of yellow and blue, the edge of the brim in yellow and the body of the crown in blue. It was trimmed with gold-colored camellias. She carried a large arm bouquet of Admiral Ward roses, also yellow.

The best man and ushers were in full dress uniform with cocked hats and swords, and the gold and blue gave a touch of color, a novelty not seen of late. The best man was Lieut. Charles Belknap, and the four ushers were Lieut. Commander Charles P. Nelson of the Parker, Lieut. John C. Fremont of the Washington, and Lieut. George Patton Brown and Ensign Meigs of the McCall.

When Lieut. Abbott and his bride, after the ceremony, turned to leave the chancel the four ushers unsheathed their swords, raised and crossed them, and the newly married couple passed under them.

The wedding reception was held at the Women's University Club, 106 East Fifty-second Street, where the decorations were American Beauty roses and June flowers.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Rhein, wore one of the new shades of reddish orange veiled with deep blue and topped by a tulle hat in blue. Mrs. Herbert Shipman, who was among the guests, wore a severely tailored white cloth costume, topped by a white hat with a single slender white feather, and Mrs. Harold Richard, a bride of a few months, wore a snuff brown walking skirt and Norfolk coat, topped by a large black sailor hat with black satin ribbon bows at the front and back.

Lieut. Abbott and his bride have gone on a brief honeymoon trip, and if he is not called to Mexico they will probably spend the Summer at Newport.

The wedding was originally set for June 6, but the Dixie, on which Lieut. Abbott was the executive officer, was ordered to Mexican waters. Later the Dixie was ordered North and hasty arrangements were made for the wedding. Lieut. Abbott is a son of the late Lieut. John Strong Abbott, U. S. N., who died many years ago, and of Mrs. Abbott, who lives in New York. Mrs. Abbott is a granddaughter of Mrs. Francis M. Odell of Great Neck, L. I., and was graduated from Wellesley College in 1910.

WILSON ATTACKED AT PUBLIC DINNER

Piano Men Hear the Rev. J. Wesley Hill Deplore President's Attitude Toward Flag.

HEARERS RESENT REMARKS

Voice Drowned by Singing of "The Red, White, and Blue" and Cheers for Wilson.

At the dinner of the National Association of Piano Merchants of America, held at the Astor last night as the closing event of the thirteenth annual convention, the Rev. J. Wesley Hill, the first speaker, stirred a little excitement by the remarks he made on the American flag. There was nothing staid about the dinner, and most of the seven hundred men and women who sat at the tables made it plain throughout the evening they were there to have a good time first of all, so that the mass of those present applauded indiscriminately, either for the speaker or against him, during a speech in which political conditions were the principal topic.

When he came to discussing the foreign policy, the Rev. Mr. Hill, who has been identified with conservative Republican beliefs, caused a little unrest among his hearers.

Just before he got to that part of his remarks where he referred to the American flag a man stood up in the rear of the grand ballroom and, placing his hands beside his mouth, roared "Rotten!" several times at the speaker. It was at the peroration that the strongest objections came.

"As for our flag," the speaker was saying, "I am almost afraid to say what it now represents. That flag represents no longer the dignity and authority of a great independent nation. It has been lowered to a basis of watchful waiting. In the first place, we sent our troops down to a nation of bandits and insisted on them saluting our flag. Then when nineteen of our brave boys had lost their lives we changed our minds and decided that they did not need to salute. I want to see that flag brought back into the position it ought to occupy, the position of respect and esteem among nations that our traditions demand for it."

As the speaker sat down a wave of applause and objection spread over the hall. Over in one corner a group of men were standing and waving their arms, while they sang "Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue" as loud as they could. A cry of "Three cheers for President Wilson!" made itself heard above the din.

During a momentary lull an elderly man rose from his seat near the speaker's table and got the silence he was motioning for.

"We like to hear speeches of another nature," he could be heard plainly saying. "No Socialism here."

Then the din broke out again, a great many jovial diners merely seizing the occasion for the enjoyment of tumult. But there were some who were really angry, and every one was watching for what next would develop.

Finally a diplomat got the floor, puzzled the crowd into following his remarks by not giving any indication at first of what they were about, and then turned the occasion into the presentation of a diamond pin to Albert Behning, Chairman of the committee which had arranged the banquet. The tenseness of a moment before ended in choruses of "He's a jolly good fellow" for the recipient of the gift.

There were many speeches, among those whom the programme showed as scheduled being Harry Robbins, Chairman of the Vigilance Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America; H. C. Brown, advertising manager for the Victor Talking Machine Company; O. A. Field, President of the National Association of Piano Merchants of America; Richard Lawrence, ex-President of the National Association of Piano Manufacturers of America; Ben Owen, ex-President of the Piano Travelers' Association; Frank Teeple, President of the National Piano Manufacturers' Association, and Philip D. Clay of San Francisco, newly elected President of the association which gave the dinner.

Gov. Glynn, announced as one of the speakers, did not arrive until 11 o'clock, and spoke immediately on his arrival. He began by apologizing for not appearing in evening dress, saying that he had come from one commencement exercise, and was to take a late train for another at Syracuse.

"You look good to us, Governor," shouted one of the diners.

"I hope there will be a time when I will look even better to you," he responded quickly. "There is no political significance in that remark, of course, but you may take it as you please."

Then he commented upon the fact that though he might look good to them, the toastmaster did not even know his name, but had introduced him as "J. J. Glynn." He reintroduced himself as Martin H. Glynn. He told the piano dealers he was himself a great musician, and claimed the title of champion pianola and victrola player of the United States, ending by saying that if they wanted to save the Governor's nerves the piano dealers would present a new piano to a man who lived just across the street from the Executive Mansion.

MUSIC PUBLISHERS DINE.

Close Twentieth Annual Convention with Feast at the Astor.

The Music Publishers' Association of the United States, at the close of its twentieth annual convention, had a dinner last night at the Astor. The principal publishing firms of the country were represented in the gathering. Walter M. Bacon of the White-Smith Publishing Company of Boston, President of the association, presided. The principal speakers were William F. Garcelon of Boston, ex-State Senator, and at present a member of the Republican State Committee of Massachusetts, and Nathan Burkan of New York.

General conditions in the music publishing business were discussed, and some attention was given to the matter of "one-price" selling of music. Mr. Burkan, an authority on copyright, spoke on some phases of that subject as they affect publishers of music. Other members of the association made brief addresses.

WEST POINT '89'S REUNION.

Class Celebrates Here at a Dinner Before Going to the Point.

The West Point class of '89 celebrated its twenty-fifth annual reunion last night at a dinner in the Hotel Astor. The celebration was an extra and unofficial one, as the formal reunion will be held tonight at West Point. Thirty-one members of the class and the wives of many of them were present. The dinner was given special distinction by the presence of Antonio Barrios of Guatemala, sho is on his first visit to New York since his graduation from West Point twenty-five years ago, when his father was President of Guatemala.

Called upon for an after-dinner speech Mr. Barios said the influence and example of the United States had been beneficial to the Latin-American republics, who owed a great debt of gratitude to this country.

"A great Central American writer said thirty years ago that Miss Liberty was a beautiful young lady who could speak no other language than English," said he, "but in the last thirty years great progress has been made. Miss Liberty has learned French and is now doing very well in Spanish."

Capt. A. R. Piper, formerly Deputy Police Commissioner, presided at the dinner in the absence of the President of the class, Col. Chester Harding, a Commissioner of the District of Columbia. The majority of those at the dinner will go to West Point today to participate in the commencement exercises there.

AFFECTS LABOR EXEMPTION.

Supreme Court Decision Expected to Figure in Senate Debate.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The decisions handed down by the Supreme Court in the Missouri and Kentucky cases against the International Harvester Company are being scrutinized with more than ordinary interest by those who are concerned in the pending anti-trust bill with its labor exemption provision.

"I am inclined," said a prominent Senator, who is a member of the Committee on Education and Labor and of the Judiciary Committee, to which the labor exemption bill was referred, "to think that we are entering only the edge of legislation in regard to combinations of labor, and that these decisions will have their effect on the discussion that is ahead of us.

"The views of the Supreme Court appear to support the conclusion that Congress has the power to classify combiantions in trade and to distinguish between various trusts. The decisions are very interesting just at this time, and I have no doubt that they will play an important part in the discussion of the labor exemption legislation."

BROKEN RAIL CAUSED WRECK

Westerly Disaster Leads Federal Inspector to Warn of Source of Peril.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—In a report to the Interstate Commerce Commission today regarding the wreck of a New York, New Haven & Hartford passenger train near Westerly, R. I., on Oct. 25, 1913, H. W. Belnap, chief Inspector of safety appliances, finds that the derailment of the train was due to a broken rail. The wreck caused the injury of seventy-four passengers and three employes.

Mr. Belnap asserts that investigation has shown that the breaking of the rail was due to transverse fissures in its head, caused by "high wheel loads with their attending strains."

The Inspector further says that the continued use of rails of the same or similar construction, exposed to the same service conditions, "is a source of danger."

SPOOK SUFFRAGE PROPHECY

As Written Down by Medium and Transmitted with Some Misgivings.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In spite of your unsympathetic attitude toward the question of Woman's Suffrage, I send you the following transcript from the notes taken of a message given in a trance at a meeting of a group of psychical researchists held last evening. A PHYSICIAN.

THE MESSAGE.

"They're crazy, that's a fact; but there will be bloodshed unless there is a settlement. I think without doubt the Crown and the Houses of Parliament must yield with dignity or England will have the blackest page in her history in the near future.

"There is scarce a house, I mean a family, of distinction which has not within its fold members who are thoroughly in sympathy with the justice of the demands of the women.

"England is justly proud of her history, of her achievements, of her age, and of the material things which typify, commemorate, substantiate that history; and it is a great, an appalling disaster that the minds of her people should be driven to such sacrilegious destruction, that these mementos of her past greatness and glory can be ruthlessly destroyed.

"The island bids fair to be disrupted. Stubbornness must yield to justice, God's law. We do not condone depredations such as are now existing, but I do assure you that blood will run red on England's soil if justice is not obtained. Might cannot, as in the past, make right."

RARE OLD BOOKS TO BE SOLD

Library of John S. White of St. Johnsbury Will Be Offered June 17.

Books, pamphlets and engravings from the library of John S. White of St. Johnsbury, Vt., will be sold by the Merwin Company on June 17. Among the scarce and interesting items in the collection are the "War History of the Old First Virginia Infantry Regiment" and "Rifle and Infantry Tactics," by Lieut. Gen. W. J. Hardee of the Confederate States Army, Mobile, 1862. This military work, now rare, was used in the Confederate camps as a manual of instruction for skirmishers, battalion and company formations.

Thomas Durfey's "Stories, Moral and Comical," octavo, London, 1681, is the rare first edition with the half title and publisher's list of books. A scarce early New York magazine is "The Nettle. Edited by Klopstock Knickerbocker and his associates, and published (whenever it suits their convenience) by Charles N. Baldwin," octavo, New York, 1819. It contains attacks on Tammany. It was unknown to Sabin, the bibliographer.

There is also a fine copy of Juvenal's "Satyrae," quarto, 1685, with notes in profusion by commentators. It is described by Brunet as extremely rare. The binding, which is contemporary, is in unusually choice condition. A first edition of J. R. Lowell's "Bigelow Papers" has a holograph letter of the author inserted. A first edition of "Incidental Poems," by Robert Dinsmoor, the "Rustic Bard," is in the original board covers, and a first edition of Oscar Wilde's "Picture of Dorian Gray" is in the original paper wrappers.

Books about George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, old New York City and the war of 1812 are also comprised in the collection, which consists of 751 lots.

FINDS CHILD LOST 27 YEARS.

Granddaughter Brings Old Man and Daughter Together on Ship.

After losing all trace of his daughter for twenty-seven years, Gustav Dunkel, a carpenter, 70 years old, of Berlin, met her at sea on the Red Star liner Finland, on his way from Antwerp to New York, and the two landed together with Dunkel's little granddaughter, who was the means of bringing about their meeting.

The daughter is Mrs. Anna Leber of Vienna, and was on her way to meet her husband in Denver, Col., with her little daughter Anna, 5 years old.

Three days after leaving Antwerp the little girl attracted the attention of the old man, who sat in a chair in the sun, and she amused him with her prattle. He asked her name, and later was introduced to her mother. Next day, in course of conversation with Mrs. Leber, Dunkel told her some family history, and how he had given a daughter resembling her child to a family named Meyer to bring up when his wife died twenty-seven years ago.

"Why, my parents were named Meyer," said Mrs. Leber, "and they told me that I had been adopted by them as a little girl when they lived in Berlin, and that my father was a carpenter."

Their relationship was quickly established, and the news spread through the second cabin of the Finland that the old man had found a daughter and a granddaughter.

Mrs. Leber in turn was told that she had a brother of whose existence she was unaware, who is a well-to-do business man in Baltimore, and when they arrived in New York yesterday the father, daughter, and grandchild went off to Baltimore to meet the other member of the family.

MRS. STERRY GAINS POINT.

Widow, Cut Off in Husband's Will, Obtains Examination Order.

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Sterry, who was cut off without a cent by her husband, James W. Sterry, the wealthy druggist and real estate owner, obtained from Supreme Court Justice Philbin yesterday an order directing that eight witnesses be subpoenaed for examination on June 15 as to Mr. Sterry's sanity. The witnesses are to be examined by Theodore Rurode at the office of May & Jacobson, attorneys for Mrs. Sterry, at 13 Park Row.

Mr. Sterry died on Jan. 3 at his home in Metuchen, N. J., where he had been living in retirement for several months. He drew up a will in October, 1911, whereby he left his entire estate to De Witt Sterry, a brother. The estate was believed to be more than $500,000. The will was admitted to probate, and contest proceedings were then threatened by Mrs. Sterry, who charged that her husband was of unsound mind because of excessive drinking.

Waldorf Hackstand Held Legal.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, June 9.—The validity of a New York City ordinance establishing a hackstand alongside the Waldorf-Astoria, and providing for a minimum clear space of thirty feet opposite the principal entrance, was upheld by the Court of Appeals today in a suit brought by the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Company to prevent the enforcement of the ordinance. The lower courts denied an injunction to restrain, and the highest court affirmed the order, with certain conditions favorable to the hotel.

The Court of Appeals holds that the occupation of the streets for hackstands has been deemed ordinary street use since 1817, but that if a large hotel has several entrances of long-continued use, a city ordinance cannot restrict the proprietors to a free space before one entrance and block the others with hackstands. There should be as ample space reserved to the hotel as experience proves the necessities of the hotel require.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks Make Headway, Though Still Dull—More Gold Sent to Paris.

Most of the active stocks which fell off under Monday's selling regained their lost ground yesterday and again the general level of the market showed a net gain at the close. Trading fell off a little, but at the moment the financial community is inclined to regard the firmness of prices as a more significant phase of the stock market than its lack of any great activity. Prices profited yesterday by the continued effect of the very excellent crop report of Monday, and by a wider recognition of the favorable bearing of the Shreveport decision upon the position of the railroads so far as that is affected by Governmental regulation. This decision has added one more satisfactory element to the prospects for the future.

The depressed state of trade at the moment is being viewed with much less concern than lately was being expressed in many quarters, and this fact is largely due to the belief which is steadily gaining ground that the turn for the better is not now very far off. This attitude is not based on any disposition to ignore the plain facts of the commercial and industrial situation, but on the evidence which is afforded, by crop reports and other favorable influences, that factors are at work which hold the promise of real improvement. The idle car statement as of June 1 showed another, although not very large, increase in the number of sidetracked freight cars, which gave cause for no surprise in view of previous information regarding the large amount of equipment which is idle on some of the great systems.

The chief European markets gained gold yesterday, contributing something to the fairly cheerful tone which prevailed both at London and on the Continent. The Bank of England got the bulk of the $4,000,000 new gold arriving from South Africa, the weekly report of the Bank of Germany showed a gold gain of $3,000,000, and the French market obtained another $4,500,000 gold here. This gold movement to Paris is accounted for by the more or less strained conditions which have prevailed in the French market, but a special factor at the moment is probably to be found in the preparations which are being made for the delayed French Government loan, which it is reported will be issued, possibly to the extent of $200,000,000, before the close of this month. The recent decline in sterling exchange in Paris, despite the large inflow of gold from New York, indicates a drawing in of funds by the French market in a way which is not infrequently seen in advance of an impending national loan. So long as these conditions prevail it is unlikely that we shall send gold to London, for there is nothing to indicate that the Bank of England will abandon the intention which it has adhered to so far not to raise its bid for American coin which would attract the gold to that market instead of permitting it to flow exclusively to Paris.

A factor of some consequence in the great strength which the foreign market has continued to show, notwithstanding the large gold shipments, is found in the fact that a large amount of exchange is needed to provide for short-term securities which are about to mature, and a large amount of which will be presented for payment in London. This special demand for exchange having come at a time when no large investments of foreign funds are being made in this market, and at a time, too, when some other factors, including the merchandise trade movement, are running against us, has naturally had a pronounced effect upon exchange rates. If the reports that the French national loan will be issued by the end of this month are borne out, it would be reasonable to expect thereafter a decline in money rates at Paris, which would serve to bring to an end the gold demands which are being made on this market. By that time, too, the Bank of England may have added substantially to its stock of gold through the South African shipments. There is thus in sight a possible decided easing in the money position abroad, while in our own market it would not be strange if money rates hardened a little with the approach of the July 1 requirements following the large gold shipments which we have made to Europe.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Bets on Polo and Cup Race.

The preliminary trials of the candidates for the honor of defending America's cup and the approaching polo contests have provoked less betting in Wall Street than similar contests in the past, not because interest is any less keen this year, but because the brokers have less ready money. So long as there is a dollar in the financial district there will be wagers on sporting events and elections, but the men who act as betting commissioners had good reason to complain yesterday of dullness in the sporting market. The largest wager recorded yesterday was a bet of $400 against $500 that the Resolute would defeat the Defiance and the Vanitie in the first trial on the Sandy Hook course. On the Meadow Brook event odds of 10 to 7 were offered that America would retain the cup. For some reason it was felt that the Englishmen have a better chance at the first match, and only even money was offered that the defenders would capture the opening game.

Rock Island Meeting Today.

The committees looking after interests of stockholders of the Rock Island Company and collateral bondholders of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad are to hold another joint meeting today in an effort to reach a common ground on which to base reorganization plans. To raise the $30,000,000 cash required the stockholders proposed an assessment of 15 per cent. on both the stock and bonds. The bondholders countered with a suggestion that the assessment be made 18 per cent. on the shares and 10 per cent. on the bonds, a proposition which did not appeal to the Wallace committee.

Anniversary of a Sad Day.

On Tuesday, June 10, just a year ago yesterday, the stocks traded in on the New York Stock Exchange reached their lowest point for 1913. For a few days prior to that date securities underwent a rapid decline, the average price of the fifty most active stocks losing 5.12 points in a week. On June 3, 1913, the average price was 68.21, which, oddly enough, was also the average price of the same issues on Tuesday, June 2, 1914. The market lost courage on drastic proposals by Attorney General McReynolds for a new curb on trusts to be effected through a graduated tax on output, and on the Minnesota rate decision, which overturned a favorable decision previously won by the Northern Pacific in the Circuit Court. On June 10 the average was down to 63.09, which proved to be the turning point for the year. Since then stocks have never sold so low, although in the early part of 1914 the average got down to 65.25. The close yesterday averaged 69.47 for the fifty stocks, or 6.38 points above the average for the corresponding day a year ago.

⁂

Prices a Year Ago and Now.

	1914.	1913.
Atchison	99	95
Baltimore & Ohio	91⅝	91⅞
Brooklyn Rapid Transit	*92¼	*85¾
Erie	29⅜	23¼

Southern Pacific	94	92
Union Pacific	156¼	143⅜
United States Steel	62½	52⅞
Copper	72⅛	66¼
Smelters	63⅞	60⅛
Consolidated Gas	129⅛	128⅜

*Ex dividend.

Baltimore & Ohio and Consolidated Gas, it will be noted, were nearly on a parity on the two days. Steel stood yesterday with an advantage of ten points nearly, while most of the list showed good-sized gains over the earlier figures.

⁂

Virginia Debt Certificates Fall.

Brown Bros.' certificates for the Virginia-West Virginia deferred debt declined sharply yesterday, especially in the opening half hour of trading. As compared with a high level for the year of 67, established on May 29, the opening transaction was at 58, and in a few subsequent sales of large amounts the quotation melted to 53, a loss of 12½ points from the previous day's closing figure. Blocks extending from $10,000 to $20,000 in size were pressed for sale, and the total for the day was in the neighborhood of the $250,000 mark.

Speculative Holdings Let Go.

The gossip of the board room had it that speculative holdings of the debt certificates were thrown over in haste when the owners found, from Washington dispatches, that Autumn would be here before definite steps were made toward paying off the old joint obligation of the States. In April and May there was a steady demand for the certificates on the belief that when the Supreme Court next considered the case it would decide the amount of principal and interest due. The supposition was that the States would soon take action to meet the debt, and it was figured that purchases in the 50s or a little higher would prove profitable. When it was learned yesterday morning that the case had so far been reopened as to admit the submission of new evidence by West Virginia regarding the adjustment of the interest accumulated since 1862, traders realized that some months would pass before any decision could be reached.

METAL MARKET REPORTS.

At the Metal Exchange yesterday trading was quiet. Copper was unchanged. Tin was quiet but steady.

On the London Metal Exchange yesterday copper showed small price changes, spot being up 7s 6d, at £61 17s 6d, and futures likewise registered a similar price advance, to £62 10s. Tin was weak, spot declining 5s, to £138 15s, and futures at £140 17s 6d, were 2s 6d lower.

The market ended quiet. Spanish pig lead, £19 5s, unchanged. Spelter, £21 7s 6d, unchanged. Cleveland warrants, 51s 3d, unchanged.

BOURSES OF EUROPE

London Trading Brisk, with General Advance—Prices in Paris and Berlin Firm.

LONDON, June 9.—Money was quiet and discount rates were easy today.

The Bank of England secured most of the $4,000,000 new gold offered in the open market.

Although the general settlement commenced on the Stock Exchange business for the new account was brisk and prices again advanced, especially in foreign and home rails, with underground rails the feature. Oil shares and Kaffirs were active and cheerful, consols advanced a quarter of a point, and the whole market closed more confident than for some days past.

American securities opened quiet and unchanged. Light covering advanced the leaders during the forenoon, and later the entire list improved on New York buying. The closing was steady.

PARIS, June 9.—Prices were firm on the Bourse today. Three per cent. rentes, 86 francs for the account.

BERLIN, June 9.—Trading was dull but prices were firm on the Boerse today.

$5,500,000 MORE GOLD GOES.

Shipment by La Savoie Makes Week's Exports $11,500,000.

Further substantial engagements of gold at the Sub-Treasury yesterday for shipment to Paris today on the steamer La Savoie brought the total taken for Europe on the present movement up to $30,000,000, and the year's grand total of gold exported to $46,000,000.

The amount to be shipped on this steamship aggregates $5,500,000, as $1,000,000 taken by the National City Bank on Monday was held in the bank's vaults for transfer today. Goldman, Sachs & Co. yesterday took $1,500,000, Lazard Frères $2,000,000, and the National City Bank $1,000,000, all in gold coin.

Despite the continued flow of the metal from this centre, which has taken $11,500,000 already this week, foreign exchange rates continue to show exceptional strength. Sight bills were quoted yesterday at 4.8890, the highest level since 1902.

LIABILITY INSURANCE RATE BASIS IS FIXED

Supt. Hasbrouck's Formula Is a Loss Ratio of 66 2-3%, Expense Ratio of 33 1-3.

PROVIDES FOR DISCOUNTS

Companies Must Submit Manuals by June 15—Rating to be Completed by Sept. 1.

Superintendent of Insurance Hasbrouck announced yesterday the decision of the department as to the basis of rates to be charged by stock and mutual companies for employers' liability and workmen's compensation insurance, which has been eagerly awaited by insurance men and by employers, of whom practically all in the State, except those employing solely domestic servants or farm laborers, will have to take out insurance in some form before the law goes into effect on July 1.

It is incumbent on the Insurance Department to see that the rates charged are reasonable on the one hand and that they are adequate on the other, in order that the companies may remain solvent and able to pay the awards made by the Workmen's Compensation Commission to injured employes or to dependents or killed employes.

It is expected that the announcement will be followed quickly by the fixing of rates to be charged for insurance in the State fund by the Workmen's Compensation Commission. Employes have the option of insuring in this fund, in stock companies, in mutual companies, or, in some cases, of carrying the risk themselves. The State fund rates will be lower than those permitted to stock and mutual companies, both because inducements must be offered by it to get business away from the companies and because for the first two and a half years the expense of administration will be borne by the State, so that no charge for this purpose need be included.

The conclusions of the department were reached only after the most thorough investigation on the part of its experts and repeated conferences with representatives of insurance companies. The last conference was held before Gov. Glynn at Albany on Friday last. These present included representatives of all the large liability insurance companies, both stock and mutual, and advocates of both high rates and low rates, the members of the Workmen's Compensation Commission, Supt. Hasbrouck and his deputies and experts.

In these discussions differences of opinion developed as to the proper basis for New York rates. All agreed, however, that Massachusetts' experience is a substantial basis for rate-making in New York. The principal elements about which the discussion revolved itself were:

First—What factor should be allowed for the incompleted experience of the Massachusetts outstanding claims?

Second—What was the proper factor representing the difference between the laws of New York and Massachusetts?

Third—What was a proper loading for administration and acquisition expenses?

The Superintendent, acting in conformity with the views of the Governor, has determined to reject all conclusions which appear to be extreme and to adopt a formula for the calculation of rates which will produce a loss ratio of 66 2-3 per cent. and an expense ratio of 33 1-3 per cent. The conclusions of the department as to what will constitute adequate minimum rates are embodied in the memorandum which follows:

Schedules of rates, in order to receive department approval as to adequacy, must be constructed on the following basis.

First—Pure premiums, as shown by Massachusetts Schedule Z, modified by the experience in other compensation States and by the grouping of analogous hazards in minor classifications.

Second—To such pure premiums should be added a loading of at least 8 per cent. for the purpose of covering incompleted experience on outstanding claims and the catastrophe hazard.

Third—For the difference representing the greater benefits provided by the New York law above those of the Massachusetts law, a factor of 2 should be used as a multiplier.

Fourth—For administration expenses, including acquisition, loss adjustments, inspections, taxes, and all other expenses, a loading of 33 1-3 per cent. of the gross premiums will be required. The department will not prescribe the manner in which the 33 1-3 per cent. margin allowed for expenses shall be distributed by the companies. It will, however, require that the companies do not expend a greater amount of the premium for the purposes above indicated.

With this information in their possession the department will expect the companies to proceed immediately with the printing of the manuals of rates, and to submit them for approval not later than Monday, June 15. The department now has in preparation a manual constructed on the foregoing formula, which will be ready in printed form at that time. Companies that submit manuals which conform to the department minimum rates, or that provide for adequate rates in excess of such minimum rates, will receive department approval as a matter of course. Manuals prepared on different formulae will require a reasonable time for consideration. Minimum rates prepared in accordance with the formula will be subject to the following reductions:

First—On policies excluding the medical benefits provided in Section 13 of the workmen's compensation law, a discount of 20 per cent. will be permitted.

Second—On policies of employers whose plants have been inspected in accordance with a schedule filed with the department, such schedule taking into consideration the accident experience of the plant, reductions will be granted to the extent of the results shown by the inspection report and record of experience. In no case, however, will a reduction be permitted that is greater than 40 per cent. of the manual rate.

A plan is now being formed by which employers will receive the benefit of an early credit on basis of inspection and experience by a central inspection rating bureau. This will be composed of the various insurance carriers in the State, and will be under the immediate supervision of the department. With the reductions indicated, the gross premium shown by manual rates will be subject to a reduction of approximately 50 per cent. Employers securing the benefits of these reductions will have their premiums practically cut in half.

It is expected that the work of inspections and merit rating will be completed by Sept. 1.

BUILDING PERMITS IN MAY.

New York City's Called for Expenditure of $14,380,469.

Returns made to Dun's Review of building permits issued in seventy-seven of the leading cities of this country in May show a very small decrease from the corresponding month of last year and indicate a trend toward improvement. The total permits issued last month call for an expenditure of $69,876,927, a decrease of only 0.1 per cent., as compared with the $69,948,860 of the corresponding month last year.

New York City, for the first time this year, reports improvement, $14,380,469, as against $12,339,100, a gain of 16.5 per cent., which to a considerable extent accounts for the favorable showing of the statement as a whole.

The best exhibit is made by Manhattan, with $7,065,900 against $4,319,275, and there is also fair expansion in Brooklyn and Queens, which is only partially offset by a sharp contraction in the Bronx and a moderate decrease in Richmond.

Increase in Idle Freight Cars.

There was a further increase in the number of freight cars out of use in the two weeks ended May 31. On that date the surplus of idle cars on the railways of the United States and Canada was 241,802, compared with 238,642 on May 15, an increase of 3,160. The increase was due to accumulation of box cars.

BOSTON'S NEW TRAFFIC PLAN

Proposed Merger of Various Corporations in One Railway System.

BOSTON, June 9.—The details of a plan for a merger of the Boston Elevated Railway, the Bay State Street Railway, the West End Street Railway, and the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad into a corporation to be known as the Commonwealth Electric Railway Company were made public today.

The proposed new corporation would be authorised to increase fares to an extent "necessary to properly provide for maintenance and depreciation and a reasonable return on the capital actually invested." Its rates would be subject to the approval of the Public Service Commission. This would remove the present restriction which enforces a five-cent fare on the Boston Elevated system.

The plan further stipulates that the purchase of the stock of the companies involved shall not be valid unless authorized by a vote of two-thirds' interest of the stockholders; that the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Road may widen its tracks to standard gauge and electrify its system. The metropolitan district is defined in the plan as a territory within a radius of ten miles from the State House.

The Boston Elevated Railway Company operates all the surface, underground, and elevated lines within the City of Boston and many of the surface lines in the suburbs. The West End is under lease to the elevated company. The Bay State lines extend from Newport, R. I., to Nashua, N. H., and the company cars enter Boston from both the north and south through a traffic agreement for joint use of the lines of the elevated company. The Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn is a narrow gauge steam railroad operating in East Boston, Winthrop, Revere, and Lynn, and maintaining a line of ferryboats from East Boston to the city proper.

All the companies concerned, except the Boston Elevated Railway Company, were represented when the plan was presented today before the legislative joint committees on railroads.

"Somebody has seen a can of cream at Revere Beach and is after it, I suppose," said Melvin O. Adams, President of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad, in opposing the merger. The only concession Mr. Adams was willing to make was a traffic agreement with the merger companies.

SEATS ON COFFEE EXCHANGE

Sugar Brokers Interested in Them and Price Holds High.

Another membership on the New York Coffee Exchange has been purchased by William S. Scott, formerly a member of the New York Stock Exchange, the price paid being $1,750, the same as the last previous sale, and an advance of $350 over the price prevailing when the matter of trading in sugar futures was introduced a few weeks ago. It is said that a number of sugar brokers not now members of the Coffee Exchange, but who have become interested in the proposition to create an open market for trading in raw futures, are contemplating buying seats on the Exchange.

The special committee of the Coffee Exchange recently appointed to formulate rules governing trading in raw sugar futures on that board in less than cargo lots is still actively at work, and will report to the full membership of the Exchange in a short time.

India Produces Less Wheat.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A report to the Department of Agriculture received today from the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome gives final returns for the year's production of wheat in India at 313,154,000 bushels, 14 per cent. less than last year's production.

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

A firm tone was maintained by the market on the Consolidated Stock Exchange throughout the day, with the best feature the continued handling by commission houses of numerous odd-lot orders covering a wide variety of securities. The immediate effect of Monday's excellent crop report was still felt in the market at the opening. Overnight price changes recorded on the 9:30 o'clock call in most instances represented fractional advances from Monday's closings, with further gains in the subsequent dealings.

SEE POLITICS IN MOVE OF INSURGENT BANKS

Federal Reserve Nominating Committees Ask Support for Regular Candidates.

APPEAL MADE IN LETTERS

Small Banks Warned That Choice of "Political Patriots" Would Not Produce Efficiency.

A series of letters urging the candidacies of the regular nominees for Directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York were sent out yesterday by the nominating committees. There was one letter from each of the separate committees to the members of each group of banks and a general letter, signed by the Chairmen of the three committees, to all the national banks in the State, which constitute the membership of the new institution.

The general letter from the three Chairmen emphasized the view that none but the most experienced men, familiar with large affairs, were fully qualified for the places. The letter from the Group 3 committee, addressed to the small banks, raised sharply the question of political control. This was based partly on the presence of Stuart G. Gibboney, counsel for the Reserve Bank Organization Committee, at both of the meetings of insurgent bankers, by whom opposition nominations were made.

"We had earnestly hoped," said the general letter, "that the nominees of the various groups would be unanimously indorsed by all of the banks which are members of Federal Reserve District No. 2. We can assure you on behalf of the Nominating Committee of each group that we approached the subject with perfectly free and open minds, having in view solely a desire to suggest men of the highest character and broad banking and business experience, and we think we have accomplished this purpose by placing in nomination the various gentlemen of each class.

"We believe that the gentlemen selected by the Nominating Committees measure up to the standard required to make this bill a success, and we strongly recommend their election."

The letter is signed by J. B. Martindale, Chairman of Nominating Committee, Group 1; Benjamin E. Smyth, Chairman of Nominating Committee, Group 2, and George E. Merrill, Chairman of Nominating Committee, Group 3. These are the nominees thus recommended:

Group 1.—Class A, William Woodward; Class B, Henry R. Towne, Eugenius Outerbridge.

Group 2.—Class A, Robert H. Treman; Class B, F. F. Peabody, William Brewster.

Group 3.—Class A, Franklin D. Locke; Class B, William H. Vary.

The letter to the small banks told of the completion of the regular ticket by the nomination of William H. Vary of Watertown and said:

"It has been suspected in some quarters that the activity shown in the so-called insurgent meetings of the bankers of Group II. and in Group III. is not entirely without political significance. With three political appointees in a board consisting of nine members, it will be necessary to have the assistance of only two additional members, active or passive, to organize the regional bank and its branches throughout the State.

"Its executive and administrative offices would furnish splendid positions for political patriots, but that kind of management would not voluntarily be chosen by the member banks for the reserve bank of which they are to be both stockholders and depositors, nor would it be conducive to the return of dividends and to efficient service.

"It is believed that the small number of Group III. banks which recently met in Albany are unwittingly promoting the ulterior purposes of others. They chose to recommend as Directors representing Group III., in Class A and Class B, two members of the regular Nominating Committee, who had previously joined in unanimously recommending Mr. Locke. One of these men resigned his official position with the bank represented by him on the very day of the Albany meeting, presumably to qualify for a Class B Directorship; the other accepted a nomination for the very position for which he had joined in recommending another. It is not believed that the desertion of these two men and their apparent acceptance of the reward for their desertion will be of any avail.

"The attempt to stir up class differences between the banks representing the different groups will fail. Their interests are the same. Large and small banks are given exactly the same rights and privileges under the law. The bankers of this State should unite in nominating and in voting for the men recommended by the regularly constituted committees representing the three groups. This will give them efficient control of the Regional Reserve Bank, for which they furnish the entire capital and substantially the entire deposits."

This letter was signed by five of the eight original members of the Nominating Committee for Group 3, George E. Merrill, Chairman, Elmer G. Story, M. S. Sandford, H. W. Dunlap and William E. Leffingwell. D. D. Woodard and Leslie R. Palmer quit the Nominating Committee when they became the candidates of the insurgents. The other member of the committee was A. B. Potterton of Tottenville.

The separate letters to members of Group 1 and Group 2 were somewhat perfunctory notices of the action taken.

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

Duties on Imports Decided by the General Appraisers.

Rosenthal & Grotta were partly sustained yesterday by the Board of United States General Appraisers in a contention for lower duty on cotton and flax lace collars, yokes, jabots, and chemisettes composed in part of laces, edgings, or insertings. All of the goods were assessed at 70 per cent. ad valorem under the old tariff as lace wearing apparel made on the Lever or Gothrough machines. The importers claimed the merchandise to be dutiable under Paragraph 349 as wearing apparel not made on the machines named above. Judge Howell finds that some of the goods are entitled to the lower rate, the balance being held dutiable as assessed.

Gage Brothers & Co., Chicago, were sustained in protests affecting the classification under the old law of goods returned by the customs men as silk edgings or trimmings. Duty was taken at 60 per cent. ad valorem under the provisions of Paragraph 402 of the old act. The board found that certain of the goods are properly dutiable at $2.25 per pound, but not less than 45 per cent. ad valorem under Paragraph 399, and the remainder at 50 per cent. under Paragraph 401.

Brocaded velvet kimonos imported by M. J. Corbett & Co. were assessed as partly made silk wearing apparel at the rate of 60 per cent. ad valorem under Paragraph 402 of the old law. They were claimed to be dutiable under the provision for velvets and other pile fabrics in Paragraph 399, according to condition and weight per square yard. Protest was sustained.

E. P. Stahel & Co. succeeded in a protest relating to velvet, the pile of which is composed of cotton and the back of silk, cotton being the component material of chief value. The Collector classified the goods as cloth composed of cotton and silk under Paragraph 321 of the old act, and took duty at the rate of 50 per cent. ad valorem. The importer relied on the claim that the merchandise is dutiable at 47½ per cent. ad valorem under Paragraph 325, which specifies velvets and all pile fabrics.

In overruling a protest by Redden & Martin the board yesterday held that articles which have been forged into unfinished scissor blades are properly dutiable as such under Paragraph 152, Tariff act of 1909, rather than as forgings under Paragraph 123, irrespective of the fact that forging was the sole manufacturing process applied to them.

BEADS OR APPLIQUE?

Classification Sought for Certain Dress Trimmings.

Testimony was taken yesterday before Board 1 of the United States General Appraisers in a test case begun by C. Willemborg & Co. to secure a judicial interpretation of the new tariff as it relates to the classification of beaded articles of a wide variety, including gimps, flounces, tunics, and other articles used for dress trimmings. Collector Malone returned the goods under Paragraph 358 at 60 per cent. ad valorem, which provides for appliqued fabrics.

The importers, through ex-Judge Sharretts, their counsel, claimed that duty should be granted under Paragraph 333 at 50 per cent. ad valorem as articles in chief value of beads. Several witnesses from the trade were on hand to testify in behalf of the protestants' contention. It was brought out that in the trade the goods in controversy are not known either as appliqued articles or as appliques. Counsel argued that, while there is a line of goods known in trade as applique, they differ widely from the merchandise which is the subject of the present protest. The board reserved decision pending the production of witnesses for the Government if they can be found.

Printcloth Sales Slow Up.

There was a noticeable falling off in the volume of merchandise disposed of in the local gray goods market yesterday, but, despite the quiet, the market continued very firm at recent prices. Trading was scattered throughout, and no really large sales of any one construction were made. Sales of 37-inch, 48 square, four-yard sheetings were made for June, July, and August delivery at 5⅝ cents in a fair way. In printcloths 39-inch 80 squares, four yard, were offered and sold at 7 cents, while 38½-inch 60-48s were firmly held and moved in a fair way at 4 7-16 cents. Some of the mills were declining to accept that figure yesterday.

Customs Court's Adjournment.

A disposition exists in importing and legal circles in this city to criticise the action of the United States Court of Customs Appeals in adjourning last week for the Summer. The adjournment was the earliest taken since the formation of the court in 1909. It is pointed out in some quarters that, had the court assigned a docket for the hearing of customs cases for next week, it would have been possible to obtain decisions in several cases which now must lie over until Sept. 29, when the tribunal reconvenes for the Fall term. Among the cases to be heard at that time is the 5 per cent. discriminatory tax case relating to merchandise imported in American bottoms.

Exports of a Week.

General exports, exclusive of specie, from the Port of New York last week, were valued at $14,013,164, compared with $16,417,478 in the previous week, and $14,455,362 in the week before that. The exports the corresponding week one year ago aggregated $17,566,603. The total value of this year's exports to date is $430,099,586, against $432,006,279 in the corresponding period of 1913. Exports of domestics and cotton duck from New York last week were valued at $407,770, against $575,965 the week before, and $218,509 the week before that. The greatest amount shipped to a single country, $243,498 worth of cotton goods, went to the Philippines. The week before China led with $188,479 worth.

Rubber Active in London.

Buying was more active than had been the case for some time at the fortnightly auction of crude rubber in London yesterday, but most of the buying was said to be for European account. The offerings consisted of 1,000 tons of plantation grades, and of this amount 550 tons had been taken when the late cables were received in this market. The prices obtained did not differ materially from those of the last previous sale. Smoked sheets brought 2s. 4d. at the close, while pale crêpe was held at 2s. 3¾d. The best grade of Para rubber was quoted here yesterday at 71 cents a pound, spot, while the spot price at Manaos, Brazil, was 70 cents. The local market is practically devoid of selling features.

Hard Coal in Fair Demand.

"The anthracite coal trade is in reasonably good condition, time of the year considered," The Coal Trade Journal will say today. "There is little urgency to the demand, and some sizes are inclined to accumulate, but as that is a seasonable development, there is no reason to view it except as a matter of course. In fact, the first week in June brought in a larger volume of business than some had been anticipating. The bituminous market is making but little progress toward getting away from the depression which has existed for the last two months. Conditions are better than they were a month or so ago, because there is little pressure on the market, but the demand is not picking up much."

To Fill in Blanks Properly.

The blank forms requiring pay roll information, issued recently by the Workmen's Compensation Commission, are open to some criticism on the score of their vagueness. In many instances it is doubtful if manufacturers will set down anything but total amounts instead of making itemized statements. In case it is afterward decided to rate the various classes of workers in one industry differently, the data gathered by means of these blanks will scarcely suffice. In view of this the Cotton Garment Manufacturers' Association of New York has sent out a letter of instruction to members covering the best method of filling in these forms. It is indicated in this letter how to utilize the different spaces in the commission's form by setting down the various departments in an underwear factory.

Popularity of Tweeds.

Whatever the outcome of the present novelty overcoat fad may be, tweeds are here to stay, according to one factor in the men's wear primary market. The wearing quality of this fabric, he said, makes it very adaptable to the requirements of every-day use. Abroad, he added, tweed has a recognized position as the leading overcoating staple, and from present indications it should be used here in a similar way. Among some of the other advantages possessed by this fabric, he pointed out the ease with which it may be made waterproof. "Although the overcoat styles of the Spring season ushered in tweeds for practically the first time," he said, "I don't think with the decline of those styles tweeds will also retire to the background. On the contrary, they should increase in favor since their worth has become appreciated."

Want to Revise Embroidery Terms.

There is a strong feeling in the lace and embroidery field at the present time, particularly so in the latter branch of the trade, that selling terms and discounts should be revised. The bulk of the business done with the retail stores at the present time is put through on the basis of 7 per cent. discount, ten days, with sixty days dating, which is said to be virtually 8 per cent., ten days. Aside from the terms that are sometimes made in the ready-to-wear trade to very large buyers, 10 per cent., ten days, the terms of lace and embroidery sales, are said to be the most liberal extant. Dating on import orders for the manufacturing trades is another point on which there is more or less discussion, the consensus of opinion being that the present arrangement is too liberal. It is said that in the business with the retail trade the bigger the stores the more liberal terms they want, regardless of the size of the orders placed.

CHALLENGE FERNSLER'S FEE

Shareholders of Bank of North America Say U. S. Paid Him.

The Committee of Shareholders of the defunct National Bank of North America, which has filed objections in court against certain expenditures made by John W. McKinnon, shareholders' agent, in liquidating the institution, considered yesterday before Special Master Arthur Berry an accountant's bill for $3,975. The bill was presented by J. P. Fernsler for work done in preparing suits against Directors of the bank. The suits were settled by the payment to the shareholders' agent of about $200,000.

United States District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall appeared at the hearing and described the work done by Mr. Fernsler at his direction in rounding the action against the Directors into shape. Mr. Marshall at the time, in the Spring of 1909, was attorney for Mr. McKinnon and said that he had engaged Mr. Fernsler because the latter had become familiar with the bank's affairs by acting as accountant in the preliminary work of the trial of Charles W. Morse.

Mr. Fernsler was then attached to the United States District Attorney's office, and because of this fact the Committee of Shareholders has challenged his bill, arguing that he was not entitled to extra pay, as he had been recompensed for his labor along the same line in the Morse trial.

J. Markham Marshall, the present counsel for Mr. McKinnon, and a brother of the United States District Attorney, asked the witness if he thought the accountant's fee had been more than ample.

"I do not think so," was the reply. "Mr. Fernsler did a tremendous amount of work. If an accountant not familiar with the bank's books and accounts had taken up the task the charge might possibly have been $25,000."

The hearing was adjourned until June 22.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

THE HIGHGRADE BODY-BUILDING COMPANY, manufacturer of auto bodies at 42 to 50 West Sixty-seventh Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $15,935, and assets $2,370, consisting of stock, $1,000; machinery, $250; accounts, $1,117, and cash in bank, $3. The company owes $1,869 for salaries and wages. Among the creditors are Wm. Eaton, $1,800; Titus C. Boulier, $1,500; John B. McCormack, $1,300; English Merrick Company, New Haven, $623, and Shirley Auto Fabric Company, $539. The company was incorporated in December, 1913, with capital stock of $5,000, and William Woop is treasurer.

E. BURTON HART of 245 West Fifty-fifth Street has filed a petition, with liabilities of $118,316 and no assets. Most of the liabilities are for endorsing notes of G. S. Hart & Co., wholesale dealers in butter and cheese, which failed in December, 1909, and of which he was secretary. In October, 1909, Mr. Hart transferred all his assets to trustees for creditors. The assets realized $18,475, which was divided among creditors holding obligations of George S. Hart & Co., upon which he was liable as indorser. Among the creditors are the Mutual Alliance Trust Company, $5,000; Bank of Long Island, $5,000; National Bank of Commerce, $5,000; N. Y. Life Insurance and Trust Company, $10,000, and Manufacturers' National Bank of Troy, $10,000.

BOHUMIL LUPINEK of 357 East Seventy-second Street has filed a petition, with liabilities of $1,171 and no assets. He filed the petition to get rid of a judgment entered on June 5 for $1,136 in favor of Agnes Klepsa of 311 West Ninety-fourth Street for breach of promise.

FREDERICK H. ELLIOTT, residing at Scarsdale, N. Y., has filed a petition, with liabilities of $13,738 and no assets. Among the creditors are Arthur Stewart and the Mount Vernon Trust Co., $5,500, secured by bond and mortgage, and the Mount Vernon Trust Co., $3,026, on notes.

HERMAN H. LIEVOW, salesman, of 509 East 171st Street, formerly a skirt manufacturer, has filed a petition, with liabilities of $2,604 and no assets.

JAWITZ BROTHERS.—Max and Philip Jawitz, who composed the firm of Jawitz Brothers, at 91 Delancey Street, have filed a petition, with liabilities of $2,225 and no assets.

LANG & LANG, manufacturers of dresses, of 15 West Twenty-sixth Street, have filed schedules, which show liabilities of $27,406 and assets of $5,450, consisting of stock, $3,750; machines, $1,500, and fixtures, $200.

GREENWALD & FAIGELMAN.—Schedules of Greenwald & Faigelman, manufacturers of dresses at 123 Prince Street, show liabilities of $5,220 and assets of $2,190, consisting of machines, $1,560; office furniture, $191, and accounts, $439.

JOHN PIRRELLO, dealer in bicycle supplies at 642 Morris Avenue, has filed schedules, which show liabilities of $1,440 and no assets.

FRANK P. HAYES CO.—Schedules on the assignment of the Frank P. Hayes Co., dealers in rubber goods and auto supplies, at 87 Duane Street, show liabilities of $11,435, nominal assets of $6,272, and actual assets of $714.

SAULL BROS. & Co.—Schedules on the assignment of Saull Bros. & Co., manufacturers of dresses at 120 West Twenty-seventh Street, show liabilities of $3,853, nominal assets of $4,221, and actual assets of $1,827.

PFEFFER & LAMBERG.—Judge Hand has dismissed the petition filed on May 12 against Pfeffer & Lamberg, manufacturers of dresses at 41 West Seventeenth Street, on a settlement with creditors at 25 cents on the dollar, payable 12½ cents cash and 12½ cents in three notes at two, three, and four months.

SHIE LANDAU.—Judge Hand has refused to confirm a composition of Shie Landau, wholesale grocer at 336 East 103d Street, at 75 cents on the dollar. William Allen, referee in bankruptcy, recommended that the composition be denied on the ground of making false statements of financial condition to several creditors to obtain credit. The referee reported that the estate would probably realize about 67 2-5 cents on the dollar.

DAVID EDSON.—Judge Hand has confirmed a composition of David Edson, dry goods dealer, of 13 Carmine Street, with creditors, at 25 cents on the dollar.

MARIUS CREMONA, restaurant and lunchroom under the style of Cremona's, at 17 West Thirty-second Street, in the Hotel Aberdeen, has made an assignment to Lewis Nadel. He owes $550 to employes. He began business on March 1 last. Gregory's restaurant, which was located in the same place for several years, went into bankruptcy on Aug. 1, 1913.

N. C. A. RE-ELECTS OFFICERS

Association Will Die When Federal Reserve System Is Working.

The National Currency Association met yesterday and elected officers for the year. The election was more or less a formality, as the retiring officers were retained to continue their work until the association dies after the Federal reserve system comes into operation.

Frank Vanderlip, President of the National City Bank, is head of the organization; Richard Delafield, President of the National Park Bank, is Vice President, and these bankers are members of the Executive Committee: William Woodward, President of the Hanover National; James S. Alexander, President of the National Bank of Commerce; Albert H. Wiggin, President of the Chase National, and Gates W. McGarrah, President of the Mechanics and Metals' National.

The original term of life of the National Currency Association was limited to the six years ending on June 30, 1914. It was provided in the Federal Reserve act, however, that the organization should exist a year longer, until the new banking system should be in good working order.

IN AID OF THE WORKERS.

Physical Examinations and Benefits in Two Industries.

From forty to fifty workers in the coat and suit and dress and waist industries receive physical examinations daily at the rooms of the United States Public Health Service, 31 Union Square. The service established headquarters at this address only recently in order to co-operate with the Joint Board of Sanitary Control in the above-mentioned industries to investigate the effects of lighting and ventilating conditions, and also the occupational diseases.

One result of this investigation so far has been the adoption by Local 1 of the Cloakmakers' Union of a tuberculosis benefit fund which goes into effect on July 1. Local 35, made up of pressers, already has such a fund together with a general sick benefit fund. The worker who is found to have consumption receives twenty weeks' treatment and $10 a week. Sick from any other cause, he receives ten weeks' treatment and $5 a week.

The establishment of these sick benefit funds, it is expected, will serve to strengthen the union greatly and enable it to carry on with increased efficiency various projects for the improvement of conditions in the two industries. The organization has been handicapped in the past by a falling off in membership during peaceful times, the workers regarding it only as a necessity when a strike threatened or was in progress.

COMMODITIES MARKETS.

WHEAT.

Prices were affected by weakness of Southwestern markets. The latter sustained severe declines, Kansas City losing 1⅜c for the day and St. Louis 1¼c, against 1⅛c to 1¼c decline in the Chicago market. There was a rally in July wheat at New York just before the close, based on foreign buying, but later positions fully reflected the new crop weakness elsewhere.

There was an export business of about twenty-five loads, and cash wheat in the local market closed as follows: No. 2 hard Winter, $1.02, cost, insurance, and freight, New York; new No. 2 red, 98¾c, July shipment, cost, insurance, and freight; No. 1 Northern Duluth, $1.06⅜, free on board, afloat; No. 1 Northern Manitoba, $1.05⅜, free on board, afloat.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Warm weather continues throughout the interior districts east of the Rocky Mountains, with temperatures generally above 90 degrees, except in the eastern lower lake region and the Northwest. At Springfield, Ill., the maximum temperature Tuesday was 100 degrees, only one degree lower than the high record of June 9, 1911.

In New England and the Middle Atlantic States temperatures were quite low, owing to the continuance of the high area over the ocean, while in the Far West they have risen somewhat and are now about normal.

There were scattered thunder showers in the Missouri Valley and the Northwest, principally during Monday night, and also between Southern New Jersey and Eastern North Carolina. There were other thunder showers Tuesday in South Carolina, Georgia, and Alabama.

It will be warmer Wednesday in New England and the Middle Atlantic States, and continue warm Thursday.

In the interior and in the South, as far west as the Rocky Mountains, high temperatures will continue Wednesday and Thursday, except in the Northwest, where they will be more moderate.

Temperatures west of the Rockies will be seasonable.

There will be no percipitation of consequence except, probably, some scatered showers in the Southwest Wednesday.

Winds along the North and Middle Atlantic Coasts Wednesday and Thursday will be moderate south; South Atlantic Coast, moderate east.

FORECASTS—TODAY AND THURSDAY.

Eastern and Western New York, New Jersey, New England, and Eastern Pennsylvania—Fair and warmer Wednesday; Thursday, fair.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	1913.	1914.		1913.	1914.
3 A. M.	47	58	4 P. M.	59	62
6 A. M.	47	58	6 P. M.	60	57
9 A. M.	51	63	9 P. M.	56	56
12 M.	53	64	11 P. M.	54	57

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 62; for the corresponding date last year it was 54; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 67.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 60, at 8 P. M. it was 57. Maximum temperature 67 degrees at 11 A. M., minimum 56 degrees at 7:30 P. M. Humidity 65 per cent. at 8 A. M., 56 per cent. at 8 P. M.

The barometer at 8 A. M. yesterday registered 30.26 inches, at 8 P. M. it stood at 30.18 inches.

THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Builder Buys East Forty-ninth Street Plot—Dyckman Tract Trade—Church Site Bought on Catharine Street—$200,000 Bronx Apartment Investment—George B. Cortelyou Buys Huntington Home.

There was a little more tone to the realty market than characterized it the preceding day. In the Lexington Avenue section, just above the Grand Central improvements, a builder purchased the three old houses at 145 to 149 East Forty-ninth Street, covering a plot 56.10 by 100.5, located 145 feet east of Lexington Avenue. They were acquired from William L. Levy, who bought the property in December, 1912. A nine-story apartment occupies a plot directly opposite, and which was recently purchased by Mitchell B. Bernstein.

Apartment Trade in Dyckman.

The Dyckman section, which has shown considerable activity both in realty and building operations, furnished a good deal yesterday which will lead to the erection of several new apartments in the near future. The Vermilyea Realty Company, of which Charles Hensle is President, sold the new four-story flat at 172 Sherman Avenue, adjoining the southwest corner of 204th Street, to Joseph A. Dunn, and in exchange took from Mr. Dunn the vacant plot 125 by 300 on the south side of Ellwood Street, 200 feet east of Nagel Avenue.

Plans are being prepared for an early improvement of the plot with four or five-story flats. The house sold on Sherman Avenue is the third of a row of eight similar houses recently completed and sold to investors by the Vermilyea Realty Company. The brokers in the transaction were Arnold, Bryne & Baumann. The property value in the deal was about $110,000.

Buy East Side Church Site.

As a site for a new church the Rev. Vincenzo Jannuzzi has purchased from Lowenfeld & Prager for the Missionary Church of St. Charles Borromeo three old buildings on Catharine and Monroe Streets.

The property acquired consists of two three-story dwellings and a two-story business structure, covering a plot 47.9 by 99.7 feet at 57 and 59 Catharine Street and 3 Monroe Street, the site forming the northeast corner of the streets mentioned.

The sellers acquired the property in January, 1913, from the estate of Howard Crosby. It was held at about $70,000 by the sellers.

The Private Dwelling Market.

An investor has purchased from M. Kirtland 322 West Eighty-second Street, a four-story dwelling, on a lot 16 by 102.2, 112 feet east of Riverside Drive.

Pinkney Estate Plot Transfer.

A large part of the old Mary G. Pinkney estate, comprising a plot on the south side of 142d Street, beginning 345 feet west of Fifth Avenue, 207 by 250 by 99.11 and irregular, and a plot 50 by 174.10 on the south side of 145th Street, 325 feet east of Lenox Avenue, running through the block to 144th Street, was transferred yesterday by Charles E. Littlefield, administrator of the estate, to Thompson Bros., truckmen, of 42 West 142d Street. Mortgages were recorded from the buyers to the estate aggregating $34,300.

$200,000 Bronx Investment.

An important investment deal in the Bronx, involving five recently completed four-story apartment houses, has been made by James McConnell, who has purchased from Samuel Lyttle the two houses at 1,013 and 1,017 East 167th Street, being the northwest corner of Bryant Avenue, a plot 75 by 100, and the three houses at 1,130, 1,134, and 1,138 Bryant Avenue, opposite the other houses, just north of 167th Street. The latter houses each have a frontage of 37.6 by about 100 deep. The deal was an all-cash transaction above the mortgages, the property value being about $204,000. William B. McDonnell was the broker.

Brooklyn.

Tutino & Cerny have sold for Alf C. Paulsen and Hedevald J. Paulsen the two-family two-story and cellar frame house, known as 715 Forty-second Street, to a client for occupancy.

G. B. Cortelyou Buys at Huntington.

George B. Cortelyou has purchased the large house recently occupied by John Taylor at Halesite, on Huntington Bay, Long Island. The property was bought from the Halesite Company, Inc., of which Robert E. Farley is President, and, besides the large residence, contains about six acres. The place was named by Mr. Taylor Harbor Lights.

$60,000 Flushing Deal.

The Sound View Realty Corporation of Bayside, of which Thomas C. Bell and William Bell are the principal stockholders, has bought from the Bowne Park Realty Company ten houses at Bowne Park, Flushing. The sale was made by J. C. McKnight. The consideration was $60,000.

Leases.

Wolfsohn & August have leased for G. L. Lawrence to M. Singer of 114 Fulton Street the large double store and basement at 604 West 181st Street for a long term of years.

The Duross Company leased for John Golding his four-story and basement building 459 West Twenty-second Street to Joseph M. Gilroy, and for L. J. Kresover the four-story front and rear buildings 207 West Twentieth Street to Morris Surlauly.

Slawson & Hobbs have leased for a long term of years for Mrs. H. E. Gutman, as guardian, the private residence 82 West Eighty-ninth Street to H. S. Hammerslay.

Shaw & Co. have leased the following stores: 342 Lenox Avenue for Edward L. Clarkson to Oscar Schein, Inc.; 426 West 125th Street for Howard Payson Wilds to the Riley-Hogan Company, Inc., and 201 West 130th Street for Cecelia L. A. Slater to Charles W. O'Dell.

N. Brigham Hall & William D. Bloodgood, Inc., have leased for the Aberdeen Realty Company at 150 to 156 Lafayette Street space to Preefer & Rosenzweig.

Arthur Lindau has leased from Walter J. Solomon the floor above the present Lindau store at 500 Fifth Avenue.

George W. Brettell has leased for A. Kohn to the Strathman Garage Company a plot 100 by 100 now vacant on the south side of 120th Street, between Third and Lexington Avenues, for a term of twenty years. A fireproof garage is to be erected on the site. Mr. Strathman now has a garage on the north side of 120th Street, near Third Avenue, and has been located on this street for the past twenty years.

Addition to Spring Street Church.

Plans were filed yesterday for an addition in the shape of a three and a six-story building for dormitory and gymnasium uses to the Spring Street Presbyterian Church. The addition will be erected in the rear of the church building, covering a site 76.9 on the north side of Dominick Street 125 feet west of Clark Street. Hill & Stout, the architects, estimate the cost at $80,000. The land was recently purchased from Trinity Corporation by William S. Coffin for the church use.

Big Bronx Building Operation.

Plans for nine five-story apartment houses were filed yesterday in the Bronx Building Bureau, to occupy a large plot at the northeast corner of College Avenue and 166th Street. The houses will front 42 and 38 feet, and average about 100 feet in depth. They will be put up by the Tully Building Company, of which John J. Tully is President, and will be from plans by the Kreymborg Architectural Company, which has estimated the cost at $290,000.

The STORY of JUNE 23rd, 1914

CHAPTER II

THE first thing in the way of a Park that New York City had, occupied the exact site of Wall Street today.

It was called the Schaape Waytie and was the Public Sheep Pasture.

The Bulls and Bears have been chasing the Lambs over it ever since.

The people of New York later found out the value of having Parks and living opposite to them.

Where lots once sold at auction on Fifth Avenue for $500 a lot opposite Central Park, the multi-millionaires pay $200,000 to $250,000 a lot today.

On the site of the Plaza Hotel, where lots once sold at auction for $675 each, millionaires pay "$6.75 a minute" for a room which faces the Park. Broadway City-Line Property is opposite Van Cortlandt Park.

Think of the air—the view—your tennis—your golf—your baseball—skating—polo and everything else right at your door.

We'll tell you more about this Broadway City-Line tomorrow in Chapter III, and what's going to happen there June 23rd.

Forest Hills Gardens
FOREST HILLS, LONG ISLAND.
15 minutes from Herald Square.
To those who appreciate character of development, individuality of architecture and stability of construction, Forest Hills Gardens makes its appeal.
To accomplish these environments the services of Messrs. Olmsted Brothers, of Brookline, Mass., were secured for the landscape work, representative architects of special note in domestic architecture were employed, and over $3,500,000 invested in the property by the company.
The attractiveness of the place, the success of the development and the advantages to the homeseeker cannot be expressed through the medium of an advertisement.
It is without exaggeration to state that Forest Hills Gardens represents the best that has yet been undertaken in suburban development in the United States.
You are earnestly requested to investigate the merits of the property which are the qualifications for this announcement. This can only be done by a personal visit to the property.
Long Island electric trains leave Pennsylvania Terminal, Manhattan, at frequent intervals, arriving at Forest Hills station in 13 to 15 minutes. By trolley cars from Queensboro (59th St.) Bridge to Forest Hills. Twenty-five minutes by automobile from Herald Square via Queensboro (59th St.) Bridge and Hoffman Boulevard to the property.
For transportation, booklet, and other information, address Dept. T, New York Office, 47 West 34th St.

Forest Hills, Long Island

Building Loan Operators
There is a great opportunity in Long Island City to make building loans to thoroughly reliable builders who want to construct flat buildings for the employees of the many factories recently completed and now going up.
East River Heights comprises over 1200 lots lying between the new East River waterfront park, just purchased by the City, and the first express station on the elevated road. It will be only eleven minutes from the Grand Central subway station and fifteen minutes from Times Square, with a five-cent fare to all parts of Greater New York.
This property is the best building proposition today in Greater New York, for while every other part of the city is overbuilt, there are practically no vacancies in Long Island City and the big unsupplied demand for flats which now exists will be tremendously increased as soon as the elevated line is in operation.

GIVE THEIR PRIZES TO INSTITUTE FUND

Honor Men Contribute Their Money Awards to Alma Mater on Commencement Day.

Stevens Institute of Technology yesterday morning conferred the degree of Mechanical Engineer on sixty-nine graduates—the forty-second class which has been graduated by the institution, and one of the largest. The annual report of Dr. Alexander C. Humphreys, President of the Board of Trustees and of the Faculty, gave a prominent place to the financial questions which are now foremost in the minds of the alumni and friends of the school, and the news which he brought was vigorously applauded.

Stevens owes at present $160,000 on accumulated deficits and $200,000 on real estate purchase. Some time ago the Rockefeller Foundation promised a gift of $250,000 if this debt was cleared off and an additional sum of $750,000 raised, and at the alumni meeting last Friday night it was announced that $310,000 had been promised by Andrew Carnegie, W. H. Childs, and an anonymous donor. Since then, so Dr. Humphreys announced, $60,000 more has been raised, and there is a good prospect that the entire sum can be secured. He stated also that the senior class had contributed $750 collectively and $300 individually to the gymnasium fund, and that several undergraduate societies had made donations to the same purpose.

Turning next to address the graduating class, Dr. Humphreys urged upon them the need for sanity and conservatism in treating the national problems of the day.

The next event on the programme was the awarding of the annual prizes. R. F. Homan, the first man called to the platform to be honored, handed back the envelope containing the check to Dr. Humphreys with the announcement that he wanted to turn over the money to the gymnasium fund, and one after another, all the other recipients followed his example. Mr. Homan won the Priestley Prize to the member of the junior class most proficient in chemistry. The other awards were the William A. Macy Prize for excellence in the work of the first two years, to Emerson J. Sartor; the Mary Starr Stillman Prize for a paper on a set subject in applied technology, to Herman Henry Albers, and the two Cyrus J. Lawrence Prizes for influence in promoting student activities and in fostering co-operation between the students and Faculty, to L. T. Van Vechten and L. F. Bayer, respectively.

After the awards the graduating class was presented by Prof. Charles F. Kroeh, Secretary of the Faculty, to Dr. Humphreys, who passed out the diplomas and hung the red, gold, and silver hood on the shoulders of each graduate. The address was delivered by Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, President of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Sections A and B of the senior class met in a baseball game yesterday afternoon. Commencement week closed last night with a dance given at the castle by the junior class for the seniors and their friends.

N. Y. U. CLASS DAY FUN.

Fifty Per Cent. of Seniors Earned Money While Students.

The class of 1914 of New York University celebrated their last day as undergraduates yesterday, when, before a record gathering of friends, relatives, and sweethearts, they held their Class Day exercises on Battery Hill, at the southwestern corner of the University Heights campus. Following the invocation by the Rev. A. H. Limouze came the President's address by W. Otto Partisch. Then the class history was read by George Winthrop Blake and the reading of the class prophecy by Howard Irving Young, the author of the libretto of this year's musical comedy, "The Bagatelle," and of the words of several New York University songs, followed.

Charles Lawrence Bristol, Jr., star scholar of the senior class, delivered the class oration. To Dean-elect Archibald L. Bouton, whom the class voted the most popular professor, he extended the best wishes of 1914 for a long and successful service.

The class statistics as gathered by Stephen G. Rich, the class statistician, proved of much interest. Due to an error of omission, an open vote was not cast to decide what newspaper the class thought the most popular, but W. O. Partisch, President of the class, said that no vote was necessary, since all of the students read THE NEW YORK TIMES. The students did not follow the precedent set by Barnard last week in telling who were on the high road to matrimony, but a quiet canvass disclosed the fact that eight seniors were engaged, while there was a large number of doubtfuls.

Fifty per cent. of the class confessed to using alcoholic liquids, but twenty said that the use was very rare. Two-thirds of the class confessed to having the tobacco habit. In politics 22 per cent. favored the Republican Party, 14 per cent. the Democratic, 12 per cent. the Progressive and 36 per cent. were independents.

The voting on the individuals was as follows: Most popular professor, Dean-elect Archibald L. Bouton, with Dr. Theodore Jones a close second; best athlete, William A. Lynch; best football player, Floyd F. Baker; best track man, Ray Van Clief; best tennis player, W. O. Partisch; best musician, Michael Halpern; best singer, A. L. Fischer; best "fusser," Howard I. Young; best poet, John W. Draper; best student, Charles L. Bristol; best dresser, Howard I. Young; best dancer, Beverly Becker; homeliest, J. Bryans; crankiest, Oscar W. Hammond; fattest, Frank Zayas; best baseball man, William A. Lynch.

Over 50 per cent. of the class earned part of their expenses while in college, while 12 per cent. said that they were earning their way unassisted.

The class poem, by John W. Draper, and the presentation of the graduates by Albert J. Fischer followed. The gifts which were handed out to each student as he was presented, together with the reason for each gift, were the cause of much of the laughter of the afternoon. The afternoon closed with the planting of the class ivy and the reading of the ivy oration by William [illegible], and the last will and testament, by Frank Hewitt Donahee.

In the evening the senior class attended by the student body met for the cremation exercises. Each student carried a pile of books which he thought he would never have any use for again, and after the effigy of King Calculus had been burned the seniors consigned their books to the flames with songs of joy.

MAYOR MITCHEL TO BE AN LL.D.

New York University to Confer 642 Degrees Today.

New York University, whose percentage of increase in students for the year now ending has been the greatest of any University in the country, will celebrate today its eighty-second annual commencement by conferring of 642 degrees, seven of which will be honorary and the balance distributed among candidates from its various schools. Heading the list for marked public service, the University has selected John Purroy Mitchel, Mayor of New York, and Lindley Miller Garrison, Secretary of War, for the conferment of the Doctorate Degree in Learned Laws.

The degree of Doctor of Divinity will be given to Percy B. Wightman, pastor of the University Heights Presbyterian Church, a graduate of the University in 1883 and of Auburn Theological Seminary. Three other men beside Mayor Mitchel and Secretary of War Garrison will receive the degree of Doctor of Laws. David Leventritt, a graduate of the New York Free Academy and of the Law School of New York University, for ten years a Justice of the Supreme Court and now Chairman of the Committee on Character for Admission to the Bar of the First Judicial Department and retiring President of the Alumni Society of the New York University Law School, will be one. The second will be Charles Schuchert, Professor of Historical Geology and Paleontology in the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University, and the third will be Francis Hovey Stoddard, retiring Dean of the College of Arts of New York University.

Frank Weitenkampf, chief of the Arts and Print Department of the New York Public Library, will receive the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters. Andrew Ten Eyck, assistant to the Chancellor of the University, will be given the degree of Juris Doctor, upon examination.

The list of candidates for degrees includes Chinamen, Japanese, men of Syria, and of many other nationalities, according to the report of the Syndic of the University, Dr. John H. MacCracken.

Mayor Mitchel will deliver the address to the graduates this morning. In the afternoon the degrees will be conferred. Important financial plans for the School of Commerce will be presented to the alumni of that school at the annual dinner tonight at the Broadway Central Hotel.

INQUIRY AT COLUMBIA.

Committees Named to Plan How Work May Be Strengthened.

President Butler of Columbia University yesterday appointed committees to take up the following questions and report on the steps the university should take to strengthen its works and increase its facilities:

First—Work in public health and sanitary science and preventative medicine, including not only courses at the Medical School, but courses given in political science, in engineering and in Teachers College.

Second—Development and extension of the courses looking to training for public service.

The committee to study the first topic follows: Prof. R. A. Seligman, Chairman; Prof. Frederic S. Lee, James C. Egbert, Director Summer Session and Extension Teaching; Dean Samuel W. Lambert, Medical Faculty; Prof. Henry C. Sherman, Mary Adelaide Nutting, Professor of Nursing, Teachers College; Robert E. Chaddock, Associate Professor of Statistics; Prof. Alexander Smith, Daniel D. Jackson, Assistant Professor, Civil Engineering; Prof. Hans Zinsser, Dr. Walter Bensel, and Dr. Haven Emerson.

GOV. GLYNN AT FORDHAM.

Tells Graduates That "Work, Work, Work" Is What They Need.

"The trouble with most young men," said Gov. Martin H. Glynn last night to the graduates of the departments of law and medicine of Fordham University, "is that they want to be ten-thousand-dollar men before they are competent to be thirty-cent apprentices. Work, work, work is what you need."

The university auditorium was filled with an immense crowd which had gathered to hear the Governor, who himself received a degree from the Fordham academic department twenty years ago yesterday, and who has since been given an LL. D. by his Alma Mater. At the beginning of his talk he spoke with deep feeling of his undergraduate days and undergraduate friendships, and declared that all that he had attained was due to the influence of his mother and his university.

To the law graduates in particular he gave counsel to hold to the high ideals already blazed by the leaders of the profession, reminding them of Edmund Burke's remark that the fire of liberty blazed so high in the united colonies because their pouulation contained so great a percentage of lawyers.

"Don't be slick lawyers, boys," he said; "and remember that your greatest asset will always be the confidence of your neighbors. There is no room in the temple of justice for the trickster or the knave."

Orations were delivered on the initiative and referendum by Benedict D. Dineen and on the recall of Judges by William J. J. Engler, both of the graduating class. After the degrees were conferred on fifty-four graduates in law, twenty-nine in medicine, and seven in pharmacy by the rector of the university, the Rev. Father Thomas J. McCluskey, the following prizes were announced:

In medicine the prize given by Prof. Justin Herold for the best thesis by a senior on medical jurisprudence as well as the prize by Prof. Robert Coleman Kemp for a thesis on gastro-intestinal diseases to Eugene T. O'Connor; the second Kemp prize to Thomas K. Ryan; the prize offered by Prof. William S. Gottheil for the best senior work in dermatology to Edmund B. Sullivan; the prizes given by Prof. Coughlin to the three men most proficient in clinical work at Gouverneur Hospital to Francis Treiber, Thomas K. Ryan, and Bernard O'Connor; the junior prizes for work in gastro-intestinal diseases to Maurice Lyons and Maurice Pollock; the sophomore prize for physical diagnosis, given by Dr. M. C. O'Brien, to J. O'Connor.

In law the $50 prize for the highest average for the year's work went to Francis B. McGarey.

HOPE FOR SIX DYNAMITERS.

But McReynolds Said to Have Opposed Clemency for Leaders.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The petitions for the pardon of Frank Ryan, President of the International Structural Steel and Iron Workers' Union, and twenty-four other officials and members of that organization were sent to President Wilson today by Attorney General McReynolds. The Attorney General sent with the petitions his views in regard to the cases, and it is said unofficially in certain quarters, made the recommendation that in the case of Ryan and other higher officials of the structural steel and iron workers, clemency be not shown. On this point, however, confirmation was not obtainable.

With regard to six of the defendants, circumstances raise a doubt as to complicity in the dynamiting crimes for which Ryan and his associates were held to be responsible. It is understood that with reference to these the Attorney General made recommendations of a milder sort.

The President will not act on the cases for several days. On June 20 the convicted men are to begin their prison terms.

COLONEL STEINMETZ DIES.

Col. Martin Van Buren Steinmetz, 78 years old, a well-known resident of the Waldorf-Astoria, died on Monday of pneumonia after a brief illness. He was born in Lebanon, Penn., and at the outbreak of the civil war enlisted as a private in the Union Army. He won promotion rapidly, and when his regiment was mustered out was a Colonel with the brevet of Brigadier General. Col. Steinmetz was wounded through both legs at the same time in the battle of Gettysburg.

After the war he returned to his birthplace and made a fortune in the brewery and coal business. Col. Steinmetz had large interests in Springfield, Mass., where Mrs. Steinmetz was ill when sent for to come to her husband's deathbed.

WIVES AND BABIES OF BARGEMEN PITIED

Industrial Commission Hears of Thousands of Children Who Never Get to School.

GROW UP IN IGNORANCE

Immorality and Disease Abound in Narrow Quarters — Longshoreman Adds Humor.

The life of the wives and children of bargemen who visit New York Harbor came before the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations yesterday. Most of the day was taken up with the longshoremen and the conditions of their work, but Miss Mary Oakley Hay of Pottstown, Penn., who for several years was a visitor for the Society for the Improvement of the Condition of the Poor, brought up the coal barge folk.

On the barges she said were 4,000 children who never get to school, and who grow up as illiterate as their parents. Some barge cabins, she said, were only 10 by 15 feet, and she had heard of serious immorality, where as many as ten persons lived in one cabin.

Illness, especially tuberculosis, was common, and she estimated that 40 per cent. of the barge cases which came to the association showed signs of lung disease. Then she spoke of the filth in the canals, and told how a Captain and his wife had fallen ill in Wallabout Basin from the odors.

"Why the Captain's wife," she said, "told me that their dog even had become nauseated and refused to eat."

To what Miss Hay said, Walter B. Holt, an organizer of the International Longshoremen's Association of Hoboken, later added his testimony. He said there were many cases of white slavery and cocaine indulgence on the barges, which moved from State to State without supervision.

The social workers had good words for the longshoremen and did not take as harsh a view of their drinking as some other witnesses. Miss Hay told of the temptations of the men as they hung about awaiting the call to work.

"It is unnecessary for me to say," she testified, "that both river fronts are lined with saloons. Free luncheons of the worst possible food are displayed, and the men easily get the habit of spending their spare time there."

Miss H. Kathryn Graham, General Secretary of the Church Temperance Society, told of her experience looking after the Longshoremen's Rest, where 298,000 longshoremen visited last year to road, play games, smoke, and chat.

"A longshoreman," she said, "is better than he is painted. We felt that some door besides that of the saloon should be open to him. We find the men well behaved and have no trouble with them."

To the grim tone of the examination, Murtha Fortune, a big Irishman, managed to impart a little fun. He told of pier work with a fine brogue.

"What is an ambulance in the hold of a vessel?" asked counsel.

"Oh, I see what you are driving at. Before the freight is lowered they put in a fruit box for the first fellow that is hurt."

After he had expressed a dislike for Italians, who do most of the dock labor, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman asked: "Tell me, Mr. Fortune, who are the best workers?"

The witness looked at her with surprise and answered with gravity: "Why, madam, you can't beat the Irish."

Some representatives of the steamship companies admitted that it would be possible to introduce into New York the Liverpool system of taking on longshoremen at certain hours of the day, with certain modifications, and Walter B. Holt, organizer for the longshoremen in Hoboken, complained that some of the foremen exacted money for giving them jobs.

The commission will hear witnesses today concerning department stores.

TWO MEN DISAPPEAR.

Charles H. Buehl and Rudolph Divisek Sought by Police.

The police yesterday sent out a general alarm for Charles H. Buehl, 38 years old, an employe of Hammel, Riglander & Co., jewelers, at 47 Maiden Lane, who had been missing from his home, at 116 West Seventieth Street, since Thursday. Buehl was in the jewelry business for eighteen years.

John H. Fowler of Hammel, Riglander & Co. told the police some one telephoned to the firm on Friday that Buehl had met with an accident. The message could not be traced.

Rudolph Divisek, a Bohemian barber and dealer in hair switches at 365 East Seventy-first Street, disappeared on Monday, June 1, as he started for East Haddam, Conn., on a short vacation. The police have been notified and his family has appealed to THE TIMES to aid in the search. He had been afflicted with nervousness.

Mr. Divisek is 35 years old and 5 feet 7 inches in height. He wore a mustache, a dark gray suit and cap, and tan shoes.

Woman Robbed of Gems in Park.

Charlotte O. Callahan, who said she was a Montreal newspaper woman, was found wandering in Central Park near the Arsenal, last night, raving and semi-conscious. She was taken to the Arsenal, but could not tell who she was or what had happened. Finally Dr. Boyce removed her to the Polyclinic Hospital, and after treatment she recovered sufficiently to tell her name and say that she had been robbed. She said she had lost a string of gold beads, a diamond brooch, several diamond rings, and a pocketbook containing money and papers.

ATTACKS WOMAN, ENDS LIFE

Man Found Dying with Bullet in Head in Hotel Bathroom.

When the elevator operator in the New Amsterdam Hotel, Lexington Avenue and Twenty-fifth Street, ascended to the eighth floor yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, he found a woman, scantily dressed, and her hair disheveled, ringing the bell and crying excitedly. The woman asserted that she had been struck on the head with a blunt instrument while she was asleep, and the elevator boy hurried to the street and called in Patrolman Baker of the East Twenty-second Street Station, while a maid of the hotel led the woman to another room.

The woman went to the hotel on Monday night at 9:30 o'clock, with a man, who entered their names on the register as Mr. and Mrs. Fred Recori of Boston, Mass. She told the policeman that Recori had attacked her with a blunt instrument wrapped in a piece of cloth. Baker sent in a call that brought Dr. Topping from Bellevue Hospital with an ambulance. While the doctor was examining the woman, the policeman went to the room she occupied in search of the man. The room was vacant, but Baker was attracted by sounds in the bathroom adjoining, and found the man lying unconscious on the floor, with a bullet wound below the right ear, inflicted, apparently, by a magazine revolver held a few feet from his body.

The ambulance surgeon was called into the bathroom, and he decided it was urgent that the man should be removed to the hospital for an operation. The man died, however, before the ambulance arrived at Bellevue.

The woman was taken to the police station and questioned, pending the arrival of the Coroner. She again asserted that the man who had registered as her husband had attacked her, and that she had run out of the room. A knotted handkerchief was found in the room, and the police were inclined to believe that the man's revolver, tied up in it, was the implement with whcich she had been struck. She said that she was Mrs. Florence Boden, and that her home was at 363 Limestone Street, Allentown, Penn. She said her companion was Vincenzo de Stefano, and address 184 Lincoln Avenue, the Bronx.

Mrs. Boden was held for the Coroner, who, after an investigation, ordered her placed in the house of detention. The Coroner's office reported her companion's death as a suicide. When the woman was examined no marks of violence were found on her head.

Detectives attached to the East Twenty-second Street Station learned that Stefano until May 30 boarded at 184 Lincoln Avenue, where it was said he had been employed as machinist in a piano factory. He left there suddenly, and his absence caused anxiety among his friends and relatives. At the place it was said he had a wife and children living in Italy.

Special to The New York Times.

ALLENTOWN, Penn., June 9.—Mrs. Florence Boden is the wife of George Boden of this city. They were married four years ago, and separated a year later. She is 24 years old and has been living in New York for several years. Boden is now in the Atlanta Penitentiary.

PRISONER JUMPS TO DEATH.

Plunges 75 Feet from Criminal Court Building Window.

Isaac Margolis, a Tombs prisoner, committed suicide last evening by jumping from the fourth floor of the Criminal Court Building, where he had been taken for a hearing before a sanity commission. He struck on his side on the pavement seventy-five feet below, and died instantly.

The hearing was over and the commissioners had left the room. Abraham Margolis, the prisoner's father, his brother, Barney, and his 7-year-old sister lingered to speak to the prisoner. Keeper Haley from the Tombs, who was in charge of Margolis, stood a little away.

Margolis spoke to his brother and sister and embraced his father. Suddenly he jumped upon a chair and then to a radiator and, shouting "good-bye," leaped out.

Several persons were passing along White Street at the time, and firemen of Engine Company 31, just across the way, saw the leap, and hurried across.

Margolis was 21 years old and lived with his mother and father at 297 Madison Street. With them lived Mollie Stollak, a pretty 19-year-old girl. On May 20, without apparent motive, young Margolis struck her on the head with a hammer. He was arrested and indicted for assault in the second degree.

It was evident from the first that he was mentally unbalanced. Judge Malone appointed a commission to inquire into his sanity, and yesterday they held the fourth hearing.

DEMAND A SECOND AUTOPSY

Authorities Will Reopen Inquiry Into Baltimore Girl's Death.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, June 9.—The State's Attorney of Anne Arundel County is determined to get the bottom of the mystery surrounding the disappearance and death of Miss Ella Winter, the pretty stenographer whose body was found early yesterday morning in Curtis Creek and will order a second autopsy.

In his first examination Dr. Horton did not open the lungs to ascertain whether there was any water in them, saying that because he did not find any evidence of violence he took it for granted that the young woman had been drowned.

Members of Miss Winter's family said today that they would ask for a further investigation of the circumstances surrounding her death.

Meredith Reese, Jr., who was the last person to see the girl alive, again insisted today that she and he parted without a quarrel, and that, while they were not engaged to be married, they were good friends. She understood, he said, that they would not marry. She was not jealous, and was to have been a member of a party on his houseboat this week.

Costs $1 Now to Own a Pistol.

The Board of Aldermen passed an ordinance yesterday requiring a fee of $1 for carrying a revolver on the perosn or having one in the house. A State law recently passed made it mandatory upon the board to attach some fee to ownership of a revolver. The Police Commissioner and the Magistrates have equal jurisdiction in issuing permits and the fees go to the Police Pension Fund.

No one has a greater influence on the styles of clothing than the so-called "college man."
He is supposed to be a type.
The fact is that every young man who is worth his salt—college or no college—is interested in the cut and fit of his clothing.
And we share his interest in the subject, and cut our suits for him.
It is interesting to note how many older men want the same styles.
We've everything now in warm weather wearables for men, young men and children.
This includes suits, furnishings and hats.

The Inside Reason

IT seems a far cry from Ancient Athens to Modern New York and yet words said 2000 odd years ago have influenced our business.

"Know thyself"—probably the most significant words that Socrates ever uttered, have had their influence on us.

We have studied ourselves and our motives, and here they are:

We are in business, as everyone is, to make our living. We believe that by giving you just as much as ever we can for your money that we will, in the end, have greater business, and this policy of value-giving is the real reason for our new store, for it has made us successful.

When This Store Opens
the Latter Part of June

you will find in it the Hart, Schaffner & Marx Clothes that so many thousand New York men swear by as the best values for the money ever offered them. You will find Haberdashery and Hats that measure up in every way to the Wallach Standard of Value. You will find a courtesy, a service, that is rare. You will find people that we hope will eventually become your business friends.
